Ike Invites UN Members To See Big Nuclear Blast

POLLS OPEN 8 TO 6 ON ELECTION DAY

Polls will be open between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. Monday for the federal election.

Last June, when the province was on Daylight Time, the hours were 9 to 7.

Under the Election Act, workers must begiven three consecutive hours to cast their votes.

You are eligible to vote if you are 21, a Canadian citizen or British subject, and have lived in the country for the past 12 months.

There are no absentee ballots, only a special advance poll for certain classes of workers who will be away from home on voting day. Special provision is made for patients of chronic hospitals only.

'LOTS TO TALK ABOUT'

Princess Has Tea With Townsend

LONDON (CP) — Princess Margaret today had tea with Group Captain Peter Townsend, whose love she renounced in 1955 on religious grounds because of his divorce.

Royal sources said Townsend called on the princess this afternoon at Clarence House, Margaret's mansion on the Mall near Buckingham Palace.

The couple took tea together in the drawing room of the princess' private suite in the home she shares with the Queen Mother.

Informants said the meeting was arranged well before Townsend's return this morning from his round-the-world tour.

The Queen Mother was present for the reunion of the 43-year-old wartime RAF hero and the 27-year-old princess.

Margaret renounced Townsend's love in October, 1955, on religious grounds because he was divorced from his wife. The Church of England, of which the Queen is temporal head, frowns upon divorce.

MORE MEETINGS?

The Associated Press quoted one royal source as saying:

"They have so much to talk about.

"Townsend wants to tell the princess about his experiences during the last two years and more, and the princess has been anxious to hear of them.

"No doubt they will meet again and again while the group captain is in London."

Since Margaret issued a personal statement renouncing the handsome war hero who once served as a palace equerry, he has travelled 60,000 miles on a lone tour of the world.

DUTCH AUCTION

Queen Buys Orchids For $160

AALSMEER, The Netherlands (Reuters)—Queen Elizabeth bought flowers in a "push-button auction sale" today during a visit to this centre of Holland's floral industry.

The Queen, on the second day of her three-day state visit to Holland, came away with a bunch of carnations, which she bought for 51 Dutch cents (about 15 cents) a bloom.

Queen Elizabeth also bought some orchids. She pushed the button at 570 guilders ($160).

The queen then left for a drive through central Holland to The Hague.

In the royal party was Canada's Gen. H. D. G. Crerar, aide-de-camp-general to Queen Elizabeth.

Third U.S. Satellite In Orbit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States put into orbit its third earth satellite, the army's Explorer III, at 12.45 p.m., EST (9.45 a.m., PST) today.

Dr. Richard Porter, chairman of the technical panel of the U.S. earth satellite program, made the announcement.

He said the tiny "moon" is expected to have a rather short life.

The new satellite was fired from Cape Canaveral, Fla., at 12.38 p.m. EST (9.38 a.m. PST).

The third U.S. satellite was described as being the same size as the previous two army Explorers—80 by six inches and bullet shaped.

FIRST CIRCUIT

The first Explorer stayed up but the fourth stage of the second one failed to fire and did not go into orbit.

Porter said the new satellite made its first circuit around the earth in 121 minutes.

Porter said the short lifetime was expected because of "an apparent deviation in the planned orbit."

It was the third Jupiter-C launching in less than two months.

The rocket team fired Explorer I into its orbit Jan. 31. On March 5 a Jupiter-C propelled Explorer II to orbital altitude but the satellite failed to attain orbital speed because the 50-pound rocket in its fourth and final stage did not ignite.

Two other man-made satellites in addition to Explorer I awaited a travelling companion in their eliptical paths around the earth.

VANGUARD HIGHER

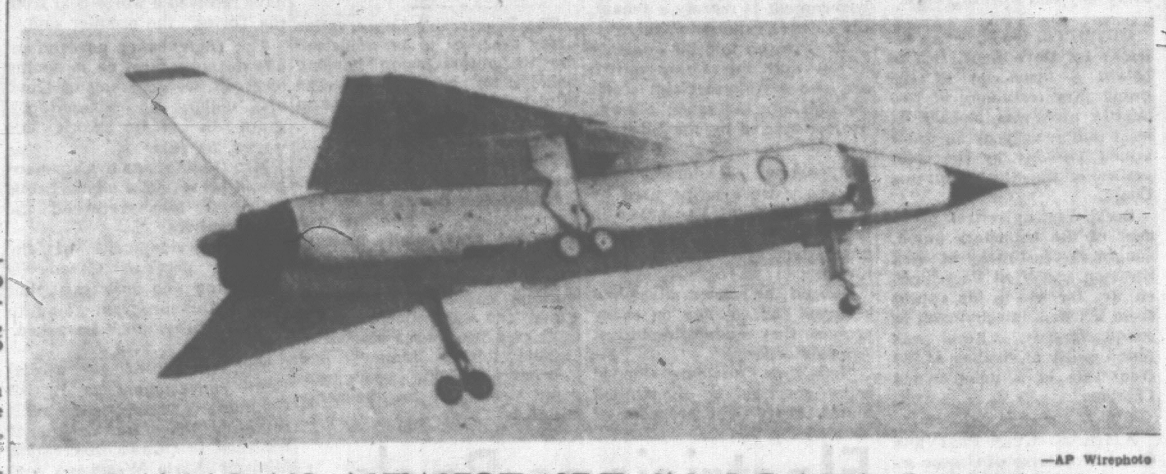

The navy's Vanguard I, the 31-pound aluminum sphere 6.4 inches in diameter, is speeding along far above its sister satellites.

The Vanguard satellite is being trailed through space by the dead hull of the 50-pound, five-foot-long third stage rocket that thrust it to orbital speed. Estimates are that Vanguard may last 10 to 30 years.

Also still in business is the second Soviet satellite, launched Nov. 3. Sputnik II, weighing 1,018 pounds and having an estimated length of 15 feet, has a dead dog aboard. The Red moon has been slowing and descending gradually and may drop out of the skies by April 15.

The first of the artificial moons—Russia's Sputnik I, a 23-inch sphere weighing 184 pounds—was launched Oct. 4.

The final-stage rocket for Sputnik I disappeared late in November, and the satellite itself dropped out of sight the first week in January.

CANADA'S NEWEST JET IN ROARING DEBUT

Ending months of tension for its designers and engineers, the CF-105 Arrow, the most expensive plane ever built in Canada, made a successful 35-minute test flight Tuesday at Toronto. The delta-wing jet interceptor, shown coming in for a landing, is estimated to have a potential speed of 1,220 miles an hour. Tuesday test pilot Jan Zurakowski was told to keep the speed under 400 miles on the maiden flight.

Chance to Win $140,000 Thrills Jobless Immigrant

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

An unemployed Dutch immigrant and his pretty fair-haired wife have a chance to win $140,000 in the Irish Hospitals Sweepstake on the Grand National steeplechase Saturday, it was learned today.

This is a happy chance for tall black-bearded Harry Olivier of 1623 Richmond Avenue, as he is now unemployed for the first time since coming to Canada seven years ago.

Mr. Olivier holds a ticket on Limber Hill, a 100-to-1 shot with the non-de-plume Goldmine. Even if Limber Hill does not win a place in the Saturday race he will receive at least $1,500.

A pipe fitter by trade, Mr. Olivier has worked on construction projects in and around Victoria since he came here in 1951 but became unemployed recently through falling trade.

He and his wife, Margo, and their two children, aged three and five, live in a trim white-painted frame house with rambler roses climbing the walls.

"We don't want any publicity," Mr. Olivier said when approached this morning. "We are just keeping our fingers crossed."

HAPPY, EXCITED

Mrs. Olivier admitted to being "happy and excited" but would not be drawn into any speculation as to how the money would be used.

"We will wait and see," she said.

They declined to say if they would take a trip home to Holland if they won the big prize.

Another shy Victorian with a chance to win $140,000 is Mrs. V. H. V. Shepperd, 1857 Bowker Place, who is employed at the Royal Naval Dockyard, Esquimalt.

"I do not want any notoriety," she told The Times.

Mrs. Shepperd holds a ticket on Richardstown, another 100-to-1 shot, using the nom-de-plume Trudy—her cat.

"How old is your cat?" she was asked.

"If you must know, she's 10-years-old, but I don't want any publicity for her either. And I don't want her photographed."

MASS POW GRAVE FOUND

WARSAW (AP) — A mass grave containing bodies of 5,000 to 6,000 Allied war prisoners — including some Canadians — today was reported discovered at Szprotawa in the former German area of western Poland.

They died in POW camps and were not victims of Nazi massacres.

Graves of more than 20,000 Allied troops have been discovered in the same area in the last two years.

Szprotawa, formerly the German town of Sprottau, is 18 miles from Zagan, where most of the previous graves were discovered in dense woodland. In the region were two big POW camps, Stalag W2C and Stalag Luft III.

Sumatra Coast Mined

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—The Indonesian navy today announced it has mined a 60-mile stretch of Sumatra's west coast centred on the rebel headquarters port of Padang.

The Jakarta government declared the area from Pariaman to Paninan a danger zone closed to all shipping.

WIRE BRIEFS

Coldwell Will Stay

WINNIPEG — CCF Leader M. J. Coldwell said today he has no intention of retiring from Parliament or as CCF leader. He made the comment in an interview when questioned about his health.

High Seas Argument

GENEVA (Reuters) — Britain and the United States joined forces today to oppose a Communist-bloc proposal to ban naval and air training ranges on the high seas.

Feisal Bosses Army

CAIRO (Reuters) — Crown Prince Feisal, brother of King Saud, was reported today by the Egyptian press to have assumed "complete control" of Saudi Arabia's armed forces. The reports, quoting Mecca radio, said this is in addition to the full powers granted him last week over the country's domestic, foreign and financial affairs.

Selection To Include Russ Team

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today he is asking the United Nations to send foreign observers — probably Russian as well as Western —to U.S. atomic tests scheduled for the Pacific this summer.

Eisenhower made the announcement at a press conference. He said:

"In line with what I said to the press on July 3, 1957, the United States will demonstrate the progress our scientists are achieving in reducing radioactive fallout from nuclear explosions.

"To this end, for the first time at any fest, we are planning to invite the United Nations to select a group of qualified scientific observers to witness at the Pacific proving ground this summer a large nuclear explosion in which radioactive fallout will be drastically reduced."

(At United Nations U.S. sources said Russian and Czechoslovak scientists will be among international observers invited to witness an American H-bomb test next summer.

They said the United States will send invitations to all 15 members of the UN scientific committee on the effects of atomic radiation. Canada is a committee member.)

This would indicate planned detonation of a hydrogen bomb since it is only with the H-bomb that fallout can be materially reduced.

While Eisenhower spoke of tests to be held in the Pacific this summer, the 1958 test series may get started next month.

DANGER AREA

At Atomic Energy Commission announced in February that a vast danger area around the Eniwetok testing base would become effective April 5.

An earlier AEC announcement last fall described the planned test series as concerned with "further development of nuclear weapons with greatly reduced radioactive fallout."

It was not clear from Eisenhower's announcement whether foreign observers would be limited to one specific test—the large nuclear explosion mentioned in the statement.

Eisenhower also said the U.S. will invite "as we have on occasions in the past" a representative group of U.S. and foreign news correspondents.

"The United States scientists have been making progress in reducing radioactive fallout from nuclear explosions in the hope and belief that basic advances in both the peaceful and military uses of nuclear energy will thus be achieved," Eisenhower said. "The advantages to mankind of continued progress in his field are obvious.

"The United States has always publicly announced in advance its nuclear testing programs. We trust that the forthcoming test will provide valuable information to the world."

Bulganin Ouster Denied by Russ

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Russia's Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan has told Western correspondents "you are wrong if you expect" any government changes when the Supreme Soviet meets Thursday.

Mikoyan, at an embassy reception Tuesday night, told the reporters "you will be there yourselves and you will see."

Under constitutional procedure, President Klementi Voroshilov, Premier Bulganin and other government leaders will submit their formal resignations to the Supreme Soviet.

But the positions of Nikita Khrushchev and other party leaders are not affected during Supreme Soviet sessions. Their posts are decided at party conclaves.

KHRUSHCHEV TO SPEAK

Any changes in government leadership—if contemplated—should be made this week.

In New York, William Ryan, Associated Press news analyst, says speculation is mounting in Western circles that a new premier may be installed in Nikolai Bulganin's chair when the Soviet Union's new parliament convenes.

'GUILTY OF GOBBLE-DE-GOOK'

Low Dares John D. Answer Gas Charge

CALGARY (CP) — Social Credit Leader Solon Low has challenged Prime Minister Diefenbaker to answer the charge the Progressive Conservative policy delayed export of natural gas from Canada.

"If he really means business," he told a political rally attended by about 400 persons Tuesday night, "I expect Mr. Diefenbaker to answer that before the federal election next Monday."

In his speech, a bristling attack on the federal government, Mr. Low:

Challenged Agriculture Minister Harkness to a public debate on the minister's claim that the Social Credit and CCF parties had not forced the government to make amendments to the Farm Stabilization Bill;

Declared the Progressive Conservatives had gone underground and were hiding behind "the Diefenbaker club";

"FALLEN FLAT"

Said the attempt to arouse mass hysteria under the war cry of Sir John A. Macdonald that Canada should have "no truck or trade with the Yankees" had "fallen flat."

Mr. Low charged that Mr. Diefenbaker's statements on gas export were most misleading.

"He was guilty of gobble-de-gook. He knows he played right into the hands of the gas and utility companies in the U.S. that were fighting strongly against the import of Canadian gas."

Voters to Back Sommers, Martin Roars at Hecklers

VANCOUVER (CP) — Health Minister Eric Martin Tuesday night predicted a huge majority for ex-cabinet colleague Robert Sommers in the next B.C. election.

Mr. Martin had to roar out his claim to be heard over the voices of two persistent hecklers at a Social Credit rally of about 100 here.

The minister, first member of the B.C. cabinet to enter the federal fight in Vancouver, exploded under repeated needling about Sommers and alleged "cutbacks" in social services.

"He (former forests minister Sommers) is in the area where at the last election the people gave him 35 per cent of the vote.

"And what's more," he roared above the heckling, "at the next election he's going to get over 70 per cent." Mr. Sommers is MLA for Rossland-Trail.

Mr. Martin shouted to one heckler:

"Once a public man is down, kick him in the teeth. That's the kind of man you are. You don't deserve to call yourself a Canadian. Now get out of this hall."

Five Socreds moved in on the bewildered heckler, but Mr. Martin changed his mind.

"Let him alone," he shouted. "I can out-shout any man any day of the week. In fact, I'd like to have him stay."

Mr. Martin turned to an attack on the "tight-money policy" which he said was a major cause of Canada's current unemployment problem.

"And now Coyne has the audacity to lie to us in the middle of an election campaign," Mr. Martin declared.

He apparently referred to Bank of Canada governor James Coyne's recent statement that, by his definition, there was no "tight-money" policy.

Parliament and the government have lost control of the Bank of Canada, Mr. Martin said.

Mr. Martin conceded the March 31 election to the Conservatives. But, he said, "this is the last election the Conservative party will ever win."

PHIL LEE PICKS WINNERS

Oscar Race Wide Open At Tonight's Big Show

BY PHIL LEE
Times Movie Reviewer

They're giving away the "Oscars" tonight in the 30th annual presentation from Hollywood.

DEBORAH KERR

And, in most categories, it's a wide-open race in which almost anyone can win.

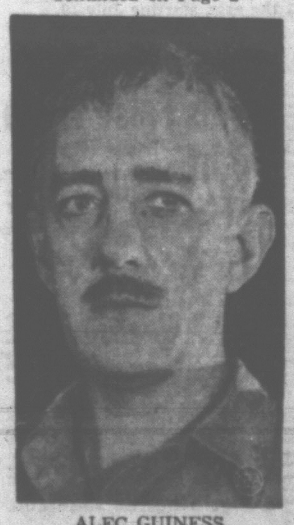

It is also interesting from another angle. Will the 250 voting members of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences allow "patriotism" to subconsciously affect their ballots?

For instance, the critics seem about split between England's Alec Guinness as best actor in "Bridge On the River Kwai" and Marlon Brando for his role in "Sayonara." It is believed to be just as tight a race in the "best picture" category between "The Bridge On the River Kwai" and "Sayonara."

Be that as it may, for the sixth year we'll hold our breath and say how we would vote—if we had a vote—in the various categories.

Best Picture — Unfortunately we haven't seen all of "The Bridge On the River Kwai," but we have seen enough to appreciate that it is the best in the field. And, if it wasn't, our vote would not be for "Sayonara." As we stated when we reviewed the film in the Times, it had, for all its beauty and solid acting, a sameness to it. Much rather would we vote for either "12 Angry Men" or

LONDON—Lord Grey De Ruthyn, a 74-year-old nobleman whose family tree goes back to the 14th century, today reported a branch missing. He can't find his mother's birth certificate.

Without it officialdom won't let him take his hereditary seat in the House of Lords. A search of the family archives and a poll of friends and relatives drew a blank.

All the 25th Baron Grey knows is that his mother, the Hon. Eila Cecily Mary Bowdon-Butler, was born in "some remote part of Scotland" about 104 years ago.

QUEBEC — Le Soleil says Cleveland industrialist Cyrus Eaton has invited some 30 nuclear scientists from all parts of the world to attend informal conferences at nearby Lac Beauport starting next week.

Similar conferences have been held in the past at Mr. Eaton's estate in Pugwash Junction, N.S.

The newspaper says the entire Manoir St. Castin, a resort hotel, has been rented for the conference, scheduled to last from March 31 to April 11.

NEW YORK — A hardy Scot named David Ramsay, now in his 90th year, announced in Greenlea, Scotland, that his 39-year-old wife had given birth to twin girls, and immediately he got the inevitable reporter's query as to how he carried his years so lightly.

He is said to have answered that he kept his youthfulness by "eating a plate of porridge every day and working hard."

OLYMPIA, Wash.'— An attempt by Dave Beck, Sr., to obtain a transcript of the grand jury testimony of two Seattle men was blocked at least temporarily by an order issued Tuesday by the chief justice of the State Supreme Court.

Beck, wealthy retired president of the teamsters union, sought the testimony of Jack Stratton and Fred Verschueren, Jr., for use in his appeal from his Dec. 14 conviction of grand larceny. Beck was found guilty of stealing $1,900 from sale of a union-owned Cadillac.

ATHENS—King Paul and Queen Frederika of Greece attended a service in the Te Deum Cathedral here to commemorate the Greek uprising against the Ottoman empire 137 years ago. In a message to the people, Prime Minister Constantine Georgakopoulos said the Greek struggle for independence will only be complete when Cyprus is united to Greece.

LONDON — Doina Trandabur, 23-year-old Romanian dancer who slipped away from her troupe in Britain, applied for asylum as a political refugee from her Communist homeland.

The pretty dancer, now hiding out in London, disappeared from the closely-guarded Romanian dance company in Liverpool last Friday. The rest of the company flew back home Monday.

. . . OSCARS

"Peyton Place," both of which for our money were the next best pictures to "The Bridge" in the past 12 months.

Best Actor — Alec Guinness. Here is a man long overdue for a U.S. award. The brilliant English actor is one of those rare thespians who changes his character from within by some strange chemical reaction rather than resorting to physical histrionics. Many of Guinness' movies, such as "Kind Hearts and Coronets," "Captain's Paradise" and "The Lady Killers" would have been worthy of awards.

Best Actress—Of all, this is the most difficult category. It could quite easily go to Deborah Kerr, Joanne Woodward or Elizabeth Taylor. For each of the three had one thing in common. They WERE the picture. Miss Kerr filled an unpretentious sneaker called "Heaven Knows, Mr. Allison," with warmth and life. Miss Woodward had a most difficult assignment in "The Three Faces of Eve," depicting one woman with three different personalities. And, finally, Miss Taylor displayed unexpected range as the demented southern belle in "Raintree County". However, our vote must go to Miss Kerr, for she is supreme in every recent picture she has been in and we think honors are long overdue her.

Best Supporting Actress—Our choice here is Diane Varsi, the girl who breathed such reality and naturalness into "Peyton Place". However we wouldn't be too displeased if wonderful little Miyoshi Umeki got the nod for her performance in "Sayonara".

Best Supporting Actor — Another tight race here, between Red Buttons for "Sayonara" and Sessue Hayakawa for "Bridge on the River Kwai". But we'll go with Buttons because his role demanded more facile acting, greater ability to change moods and his range, therefore, had to be superior. If we had seen more of the "Bridge" we might have cast our vote the other way.

Best Director—It seems only sensible to give it to the man responsible for the best picture . . . therefore, David Lean, for "The Bridge on the River Kwai."

Best Song—Possibly "All the Way" from "The Joker Is Wild". But we're a softie and can't possibly vote against little Debbie Reynolds' "Tammy" from "Tammy and the Bachelor".

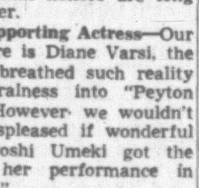

That's that for another year. Meanwhile, don't forget to watch the hour and 45 minute program (unsponsored) that gets under way on Channel 4 at 7.30. It will be repeated on Channel 2 at 11.15.

B.C. ELECTION ROUNDUP

Liberal Attacks Pearkes Claims

George Preston, Liberal candidate in Esquimalt-Saanich, charged Tuesday night that Defence Minister George Pearkes has made some misleading statements in campaign literature.

At a meeting in Sooke Community Hall, Mr. Preston said his Conservative opponent had referred to construction of fishermen's floats in Sooke, and lengthening of Patricia Bay Airport runways.

Money for both these projects was appropriated while the Liberals were in power, he said.

The new post office at Sooke listed in the Conservature brochure is actually a privately-owned building in which the government is mefely a tenant, the Liberal candidate said.

Mr. Preston told his audience of 50 that the Conservatives are also trying to claim credit for the St. Lawrence Seaway project started by the Liberals.

Hypocrisy, dictatorship and autocracy were terms used by Harold Winch of Vancouver in referring to the Conservative government at a CCF meeting in Kamloops.

He said the conservatives had betrayed the country on every promise they made prior to last June's election.

"It is time Canadians stopped being governed by the United States. Forty-eight per cent of all manufacturing in Canada is owned by the United States," said Mr. Winch, who seeks re-election in Vancouver East.

"We cannot control export of goods manufactured in this country, but must take orders from Washington. And the Conservatives have done nothing to stop it."

Mr. Winch said:

"You think you are free. You cannot travel in Canada's northland without a signed permit from the American government. When I was member of parliament I could not make a trip through the north country without one of these permits." June's election.

The Progressive Conservative party deserves to be re-elected for its anti-recession housing policy if for nothing else, Works Minister Howard Green said in Kitimat Tuesday night.

He told about 100 persons including a few hecklers that a record 140,000 homes will be started this summer under the Conservative's $250 million loan program for small housing units.

The program kept 100,000 workers employed during the winter and was reflected in the total of 8,319 houses started in Canada during January and February of this year compared with 3,227 for the same period last year.

Mr. Green also claimed the United States is following the Conservative's anti-recession policies by pouring billions into housing.

He saw Prime Minister Diefenbaker as another John A. Macdonald. Mr. Green said the prime minister's 16-year-habit of fighting for "the little people" is the reason "thousands come to hear him."

Premier Bennett pushed his campaign into the Okanagan with Highways Minister Gaglardi to address an audience of 600 in Vernon.

"If this province received a bad deal from the Liberals, we have received a worse deal from the Tories," the premier said.

The Diefenbaker government has no substance, no loosening of credit, no loosening of Canadian dollars, no dynamic program to create work and wages, he said.

Mr. Gaglardi said Canadians would be voting a blank-cheque policy if they returned the Conservatives.

"The development of the northern part of Canada is interesting and necessary, but how is this program going to help the provinces," he asked.

The record of the Social Credit government in British Columbia is proof Social Credit could do more for Canada if returned to Ottawa, Recreation Minister Earle Westwood told a political rally in Rossland.

"The B.C. works project in the last six years has been tremendous," said Mr. Westwood, "and has been an example for the rest of Canada."

"Our debt duction since 1952 has been $82,000,000."

Speaking at Langford, Esquimalt-Saanich CCF candidate Dr. J. M. Thomas spoke of the need for a constructive attitude toward world peace problems, and the "immense danger of the mad nuclear arms race being carried on by the great powers."

He decried the "ballyhoo" method of present-day electioneering, which, he said, encourages the electorate to forget the issues at stake and to concentrate on the personalities of party leaders.

"This practice led to such disastrous results in several European countries where it was successful in the 1930s," he said.

"All thinking men must be deeply disturbed by the factors affecting democracy in the western world, which Bruce Hutchison set forth so tellingly in a recent article in a local paper," Dr. Thomas said.

Contract Let

Contract for construction of the new Lake Hill Elementary School on Lucas Avenue has been awarded Weismiller Construction Ltd.

The firm was low bidder with an offer of $127,322. School district building and grounds superintendent, R. Hamilton Smith, said it is hoped the building will be completed for the fall term this year.

The new school will serve the north Quadra area. It will contain six teaching rooms and an activity room, as well as offices and other usual accommodations. Original estimate of cost in the last school building loan by-law was $148,000.

Electricians Back To Posts Friday

Some 175 striking Victoria electricians return to work Friday.

About 100 employed by B.C. Electric will take over manning of power facilities from supervisory personnel starting at 12.01 a.m. Friday.

Another 75 employed by Hume & Rumble Ltd. will resume their jobs at 8 a.m.

The same schedule will be followed in Vancouver where another 1,300 members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers were involved in the same strike.

Earlier reports said the men would return to work today but a union official in Vancouver said the Friday return was decided for an efficient changeover avoiding "fits and starts."

Mr. Justice H. W. McInnes has been named as arbitrator to settle the wage increase question. He was expected to sit in Vancouver Monday to hear submissions from both sides.

The electricians ended their three-week-old strike after receiving assurances that the wage arbitration would not be less than a 19 per cent increase for skilled workers.

The union originally went on strike to back demands for increases up to 40 per cent for skilled employees.

LEVELLING OFF IN JOBLESS 'FASTER THAN EXPECTED'

WHITBY, Ont. (CP)—Labor Minister Starr said Tuesday unemployment is levelling off faster than he had expected.

Mr. Starr told a service club meeting the most recent statistics show 550,000 unemployed in Canada in mid-February. "I expected the figure would be more than 600,000," he said.

Boy Gets Life Term

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Russell Alex Burchfield, 15, described by a psychiatrist as intelligent but emotionless, Tuesday was sentenced to life in the state prison for murdering his younger brother.

WARNS DISTRIBUTORS OF HIS OWN SPEECH

McPhillips Threatens Legal Action on Foes

By PETER MURRAY

A threat of legal action against persons distributing copies of a controversial speech he delivered in the House of Commons was made Tuesday night by Conservative candidate A. DeB. McPhillips.

The remark was made at one of the liveliest local election meetings of the campaign, an all-candidate forum for Victoria riding, sponsored by the Oak Bay Kiwanis Club.

Some 350 persons, many in a heckling mood, were on hand in the Oak Bay Junior High School Auditorium.

Mr. McPhillips, seeking re-election after unseating the Liberal member last June, drew most of the fire, but his present Liberal opponent, Geoffrey Ellis, also came in for his share.

Mr. McPhillips' Commons' speech was raised during the question period by a man who said it had brought "ridicule" on Victoria.

In the course of his answer, the Conservative candidate said a group known as the "Victoria Committee for Good Government" has been circulating facsimiles of the Hansard report of the speech.

Could Be Jailed

"I hope no lawyers are connected with this publication," Mr. McPhillips said, "because there is a good possibility they could spend a few days in jail—because that is illegal."

Mr. McPhillips said individuals behind the publication could be brought before the bar of the Commons to show why they are not guilty of contempt.

Of the speech itself, Mr. McPhillips admitted:

"It's true, some speeches may be better than others."

He said he was "rather pleased" that Montreal newspaper columnist Arthur Blakely had written 750 words lampooning the speech.

"Knowing Mr. Blakely as I do, he doesn't write 750 words about something he doesn't think important."

At the same time, Mr. McPhillips suggested the original account of his speech was not correct.

He said there is a "day-to-day" Hansard and a later, edited "official" Hansard, and "no one can rely on the day-to-day Hansard."

Mr. McPhillips defended the stand he took in the speech against a written Bill of Rights for Canada in the form of an amendment to the British North America Act.

'Same Old Gang'

The Conservative candidate hit out at the Liberals as "the same old gang now promising you the things they didn't do in 23 years before."

He also criticized the "obstructionist" tactics of the Opposition at the last session of Parliament, which he said had made the present election necessary.

Jeering broke out when Mr. McPhillips declared that Prime Minister Diefenbaker's method of announcing dissolution to the Commons was "in the most democratic manner ever."

The Conservative plan to "develop Canada as a nation in a commercial way that has never been done before," he said.

Experimental shipments of wheat to Communist China are just the "thin edge of the wedge."

"As long as Canada was prepared to be a poor relation of the U.S., we were denied that market."

On the local scene, Mr. McPhillips said the department of public works now estimates a breakwater off Oak Bay at Turkey Head can be built for $395,000 using earth and rock fill.

National Project

"The government is convinced it is important enough to be treated as a national project," he said, and work should begin before long.

Mr. Ellis got his lumps when he defended Liberal proposals to combat the economic slowdown by cutting taxes.

The "tax holiday" will put ready cash into the hands of consumers and create demand for more goods, the Liberal candidate said.

"You're telling us, but we don't believe you," a man in the audience called out.

Other members of the audience showed they didn't like Mike when Mr. Ellis said Liberal Leader Lester Pearson was respected as a leader throughout the world.

"He supported Russia in the UN against Britain," someone said.

A claim by Mr. Ellis that "if it was not for Lester Pearson we likely by now would have been wiped out in a world war," was greeted by cries of "nonsense."

Mr. Ellis said the Liberal party has always been the party of free enterprise and free trade.

"If the Tories go back in office the cost of living will go up and up because of their protectionist policies."

More Security

The Liberals had brought more security to Canadians in the last 25 years than would have been achieved by any other party, Mr. Ellis declared.

Locally, Mr. Ellis said if elected he would press for a fast ferry service to the mainland, improvement and extension of the west coast road, and a better deal for native Indians.

He took a swipe at the provincial Social Credit administration, which he said had led B.C. into "bankruptcy."

Social Credit is actually a party of "pure Socialism and pure bureaucracy," Mr. Ellis said.

That was in answer to Victoria Social Credit candidate Elmer McEwen, who earlier had said Social Credit was the "one and only genuine free enterprise party."

The Conservatives and the Liberals have "gone the way of Socialism," Mr. McEwen said.

Mr. McEwen attacked Conservative trade policies which he said "have done more to discourage trade with the U.S. than any government in 10 years."

B.C. is particularly dependent on U.S. trade, he said.

Higher Pensions

Mr. McEwen called for higher old age pensions tied to the cost of living, permanent tax cuts, more government control over the Bank of Canada and lifting of credit restrictions, and a "common sense" business approach to government.

Favorite speaker of the audience was CCFer Victor Williams, whose wisecracks livened the proceedings.

Mr. Williams dwelt mainly on his proposal for a large-scale government-backed program to construct new homes in Canada.

The government should have no trouble finding the money for low interest loans to home builders, he said.

"We are the first responsibility of the government, not a private pipeline," Mr. Williams said.

"If we can find somewhere in the region of two hundred million dollars to subsidize private pipelines in order that the Canadian public can be fleeced by buying back what already belongs to them, if we can sink over one and a half billions per year into building an obsolete navy and a chain of ridiculous air defences in Canada's Siberia . . . then it is no pipe dream to visualize 200,000 homes at 2 per cent."

Jobs created by this program would be three times greater than those promised by the Conservatives through their public works program, Mr. Williams said.

"For Canadians, clothes lines in their homes, not pipelines belonging to the U.S.A., are their heritage."

ADENAUER WINS ON ATOM ARMS

BONN (Reuters)—The opposition Social Democratic party will seek a national referendum on atomic disarmament following its failure to defeat a government bill allowing atomic weapons for the West German army.

The way was paved for West German forces to get atomic weapons, as urged by Chancellor Adenauer, when the Bundestag Tuesday night approved by a show of hands a motion that the army have the "most modern weapons" in the absence of an international agreement on disarmament.

A spokesman said this did not include hydrogen bombs.

Immigration Via U.S. Curbed

OTTAWA (CP) — The immigration department announced today that entry visas and medical cards will be withheld from most overseas immigrants attempting to enter Canada via the United States.

The department said instructions have been issued to immigration officers overseas to withhold these documents unless immigrants can prove they have booked transportation on a ship or aircraft proceeding directly to a Canadian port of entry.

Last July the department asked transportation companies not to book immigrants unless they were bound directly to Canada. At that time the department said ports of entry on the Canada-U.S. borders are not equipped to handle large numbers of immigrants.

A department spokesman said today that "unfortunately some transportation companies have not seen fit to co-operate." As a result they were informed March 24 that Canadian visa officers abroad will withhold visas and medical cards from immigrants unless they produce evidence they are going directly to a Canadian port of entry.

Exceptions will be made for immigrants travelling from Asia or countries from which there is no direct transportation to Canada, immigrants who booked passage before March 10 for travel via the U.S., self-paying immigrants accompanied by a Canadian citizen or legal resident of Canada who is a member of the immigrant's immediate family and is himself returning to Canada via the U.S., and immigrants who would suffer undue hardship by travelling a direct route.

Leaders Fling Personality, Hoax Charges

By The Canadian Press

Prime Minister Diefenbaker says Liberal Leader Lester B. Pearson is making election promises that can't be fulfilled and "indulging in personalities." Mr. Pearson says Mr. Diefenbaker's public works program is a "fraud and a hoax."

CCF Leader M. J. Coldwell says the Canadian economy is sick with a fundamental illness that the old-line parties are incapable of dealing with. Social Credit Leader Solon Low says the Bank of Canada's "tight money" policy has proved to be a remedy much worse than the disease of inflation it was designed to cure.

As the March 31 federal election campaign hustled through Tuesday, the pace was quicker, the tension tighter. Five more days — then voters could ask why? instead of who?

At Yarmouth, N.S., Mr. Diefenbaker referred to a recent Pearson television speech in which the Liberal leader said his party, unlike the Conservatives, has rejected "the cult of personality whether expressed in terms of dictatorship or demagoguery."

Mr. Diefenbaker said "instead of indulging in personalities, I try to place before the people of Canada the issues—not making promises that can't be carried out."

At Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Mr. Pearson said even a child could be shown that Mr. Diefenbaker's $1,185,000,000 public works program could not provide more jobs in 1958.

The Liberal leader said his proposed tax cuts of $400,000,000 retroactive to Jan. 1, providing a tax holiday starting June 1 for six or seven weeks, are no bribe. He would have been "stupid" to have suggested them if Canada was not in an emergency situation.

But these were not normal times. And even in the United States the talk now was to reduce taxes to stimulate the economy.

In a television speech from Winnipeg, Mr. Coldwell said the "startling" fact is that under the Conservative government, as under the Liberal one before it, the cost of living has continued to rise until now it is at its highest point ever.

Yet at the same time unemployment was at its highest since the Second World War and the agricultural "crisis" continued.

"Plainly the economy is sick. Something is fundamentally wrong, something that no matter how sincere some of their members may be, the old parties are incapable of dealing with because they believe in a system that permits the highest cost of living in history, the highest unemployment in a decade and declining farm income and then permits something else, the accumulation by a few people of the biggest fortunes in years."

In a television speech from Calgary, Mr. Low said everyone now realizes that the "tight money" policy of the Bank of Canada in the last couple of years, "although it may have been designed in all sincerity and honestry for the purpose of combatting inflation, has proved to be a remedy much worse in many respects than the disease it was designed to cure".

Canada's monetary policies, he said, should be formulated by parliament "and not by the Bank of Canada". He referred to the annual report for 1957 of Bank of Canada Governor James E. Coyne, which said there has been no tight money policy in that the amount of money in the country was cut down.

PETITION AGAINST HOUSING GOING TO GOV'T

11 City Groups Fight to Save Craigflower Peninsula for Park

Representatives of 11 organizations Tuesday authorized a special committee to prepare a brief requesting the provincial government to preserve Craigflower Peninsula on Portage Inlet as a natural park.

The meeting was called by the Victoria branch, Community Planning Association of Canada, to discuss a plan of action to save the privately-owned peninsula from becoming a housing site.

Woodlands Estate Ltd, owners of the property, have an application before the government requesting rezoning. It wants to build 20 homes on the site.

BUY LAND

The group also agreed to prepare a petition to be distributed in Greater Victoria asking the Capital District Improvement Commission to allocate funds to buy the land for preservation as a natural park.

Mrs. Joan Williams, president of the Victoria branch, Community Planning Association of Canada, who conducted the meeting, said the brief will be completed within a week.

The special committee appointed to prepare the brief include Mrs. Williams, Norman Worsley, Russell Stark, Mrs. Gladys Dawe and John Wade.

Organizations represented at the meeting included the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, Victoria branch, Architect Institute of B.C., the Victoria Natural History Society, and others.

Meanwhile, Louis Lindholm, lawyer, spokesman for the company, strongly criticized the group for opposing the plan to subdivide the peninsula.

He said the subdivision would not cause any pollution of the Gorge if proper septic tanks were installed.

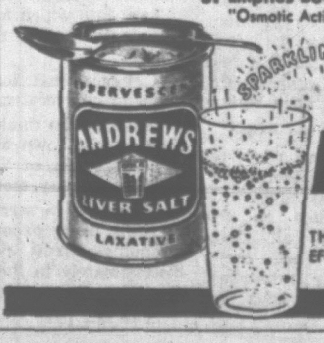

He noted that Dr. G. F. Amyot, deputy minister of health, has stated in a letter that there would be "little if any" danger of pollution if the property became a housing site.

Government refusal to approve the subdivision would be "discrimination," he said, because Saanich was approving new subdivisions using septic tanks along Colquitz Creek which drains into the Gorge.

He added two auto courts along the Gorge near the Craigflower Bridge also used septic tanks.

1957 ANNUAL REPORT
BRITISH COLUMBIA POWER CORPORATION, LIMITED
BRITISH COLUMBIA ELECTRIC COMPANY LIMITED

$76,127,473 was received for supplying 2,801,448,647 kilowatt hours of electricity and 51,169,289 therms of gas, for carrying 106,912,144 passengers in transportation vehicles, for hauling 1,364,838 tons of freight, for miscellaneous lesser services, and from non-operating income.

HERE'S WHERE THE MONEY WENT:

Amount	Spent for	% of Total
$31,935,410	Employment costs, materials and outside services, etc.	42%
9,966,812	Wear and exhaustion of property	13%
12,748,109	Taxation (support of government)	17%
7,684,928	Interest on long term debt	10%
4,209,616	Dividends on preferred shares	6%
5,616,372	Dividends on common shares	7%
3,966,226	Earnings employed in the business	5%

HIGHLIGHTS FROM THE REPORT

Earnings were $9,582,598 or $2.33 per share, as compared with $8,706,245 or $2.34 per share for 1956, on the Common Shares outstanding at the respective year-ends. The quarterly dividend rate of 35c was continued.

The gross revenues from operations for the year amounted to $74.6 million, up 9.2% from 1956. Operating expenses were $54.7 million, up 4.9%.

Demand for electricity, exclusive of export, was 15.6% greater than in 1956. Average annual consumption per residential customer was 4,373 kwh compared with 4,097 kwh the previous year, an increase of 6.7%.

The number of gas customers increased by 13,000—21%—in 1957, the first full year of natural gas distribution. The increase of 114.3% over 1956 in the therms of gas sold, as opposed to the increase of 27.2% in the gross revenues of the gas service, offers a simple proof of the substantially reduced selling price of the newer fuel.

The Company carried more transportation passengers in 1957 than in 1956, a contrast to the continued declines experienced in most other centres of comparable size in North America.

Capital expenditures for expansion of services reached a new high of $112.3 million.

The 140,000 kw generating plant at Cheakamus and the 22,000 kw plant at La Joie dam went into operation in late 1957. In January, 1958, the 30,000 kw plant at Clowhom was placed in service. Total generating capacity is now three-quarters of a million kilowatts.

Work has commenced on a steam electric generating plant, planned to have a capacity of about 945,000 kw in six units of 157,500 kw each. The first two units are scheduled to go into service in 1961.

MAJOR PROPERTY EXPENDITURES IN 1957 WERE:

Electric extensions, Mainland and Vancouver Island, including cost to connect 11,988 new services	$ 8,691,312	Substations, associated distribution facilities and local transmission systems	15,468,883
Gas extensions, Mainland and Vancouver Island, including cost to connect 12,373, new services	8,735,898	Land and land rights for generating transmission and substation facilities	2,778,471
Major generating developments:		Natural gas trunk lines and associated plant	5,952,266
Cheakamus plant	14,076,915	Completion of head office building and construction of B.C. Engineering Company Limited building	6,325,199
La Joie plant	2,577,323	Land assemblies of Western Development and Power Limited	1,908,971
Clowhom plant	7,145,171
Gas turbine plant	3,956,069
Bridge River No. 2 plant	15,004,083
Major electric transmission line construction:
Kidd-Mainwaring-Newell 230 kv underground cable	4,324,623
Bridge River to Creekside	2,337,056

End and Beginning

THE ELECTRICIANS ARE WISE to accept defeat in their strike against the B.C. Electric and agree to arbitration. The strike was so unreasonable, and so clearly directed against the community, that it was bound to fail.

But if the electricians will not get the wage increases they demanded in the strike, they will win large concessions—much larger than those recently granted in other industries.

The B.C. Electric agrees to pay a minimum increase of 19 per cent and anything more that the arbitrator recommends. This is all, or more than all, that the union could reasonably have demanded in the first place. Only so far as it has made unreasonable demands has the union been defeated.

Apart from wages, however, the collapse of the strike creates a vital precedent and establishes a hopeful new beginning in the field of public utilities.

A union which, under some circumstances, could paralyze the community has agreed to binding arbitration, thus reversing organized labor's historic opposition to this method. While the current agreement covers only the current dispute, the precedent thus established will be difficult, if not impossible, to break in another dispute involving the B.C. Electric.

Moreover, once established in the field of electricity, it is likely to spread into other industries essential to the community's life.

In the settlement now under way, therefore, management and labor have crossed a great watershed. To be sure, they have done so by voluntary consent on both sides and without the compulsion of the law, but this arrangement is so logical in the case of an essential public utility that the Legislature will have to consider a new law to enforce it in future disputes of the same sort.

Mr. Gregory's recent proposal to this end was rejected by the Legislature but his wisdom has been confirmed by the present strike settlement. No doubt he will revive his plan later on with much better chance of success.

When labor tacitly agrees that a strike in a public utility is intolerable it will be much better protected, and so will the community, if the principle and the mechanics of arbitration are written into the law and thus enforced by agreed methods well understood in advance.

By the ad hoc method hastily improvised in the present dispute the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court (there being at present no Chief Justice of British Columbia) will appoint the arbitrator, whose verdict will be final.

Chief Justice Sherwood Lett presumably will appoint a proper person as arbitrator but this is a far-reaching power to bestow—or rather to inflict—on any single judge. It will serve in an emergency but it cannot be considered satisfactory as a permanent arrangement.

There are two objections to it.

First, it is not the duty and should never be the obligation of a judge to choose another public official with great powers over the unions, the employers and the community. This is too large a responsibility to be vested in any single man. It is a responsibility which must be accepted by the state and cannot be properly transferred to the courts.

Secondly, the affairs of a great public utility should not usually be entrusted to a single arbitrator, no matter how able he may be. If we are to have arbitration as an accepted procedure in certain cases then the law should erect a recognized method of arbitration, a form of labor court, expert in these matters and trusted by everybody. It is toward such a court—strictly limited to essential industries—that we seem to be moving now.

Meanwhile the improvised arbitration, though bound to grant wage increases of 19 per cent at least, should not operate as merely another conciliation board interested only in bringing the two parties together.

A conciliator customarily considers it his duty to settle a strike, if he can, with little or no regard to the larger effects of that settlement on the economy and the community.

An arbitrator should consider the merits of the union's demands and the employer's position as they affect the economy and the community. How much can the community afford to pay for the services of electricians and hence for electricity? That is the real question which the arbitrator should consider, independently, fearlessly and as the servant of the community.

Who Runs Our Trade?

CANADIANS HAVE BEEN shocked by the manner in which Ford of Canada car sales to Red China have been banned.

The export of Canadian-made automobiles, the public is told, has been stopped by the parent Ford Company in the United States under pressure from the United States State Department.

Canadian indignation is easily understood. This is a situation intolerable to the people of this country, to the Government and to opposition parties alike. If there is to be any ban on Canadian-produced machines, it should be set by Canada, not by pressure from an outside government.

It is reasonable to expect a parent company in another country to impose certain restrictions on a subsidiary in Canada, and obviously there are difficulties in granting the subsidiary full independence.

There will, of course, be dissatisfaction when foreign ownership forbids a subsidiary to export from Canada in order to favor exports from the United States. But it is worse when the United States company forbids the Canadian export at the behest of the American State Department as part of United States foreign policy—be it wise or unwise.

The issue raised by the ban on Ford of Canada exports is all part of the problem of dealing with American investment in this country—an investment which Canada vitally needs and which Canada should welcome and treat fairly.

No Canadian Government in its senses wants to discourage American investment. But, as the Gordon Commission has suggested, efforts should be made through government policy, especially tax policy, to assure Canadians an opportunity to invest in Canadian subsidiaries of American firms and to encourage the appointment of Canadian directors to such companies.

The next Parliament of Canada should reconsider all taxation and other laws affecting American investments, not to discourage or harass American investors, but to make sure that they do not injure the best interests of Canada.

It is only a very small class of American investments that raises any such problems and they have been raised in the recent case only because a United States policy restricts Canadian trade to China. By and large this country's trade with China is carried on in agreement with policy common to the United States and the Western allies.

There is, however, a growing feeling that export restrictions should be limited to material clearly of military value.

Point has been given to that argument by the restrictions placed on the sale of automobiles to China.

Regrettable as the ban seems to be, it may prove useful in compelling both the Canadian and the United States governments to take a new look at the question of trade—a new look which should lead to policy revision giving Canadian subsidiaries the liberty to engage freely in overseas trade.

Education Gaining on Cancer

ENCOURAGING WORDS ON THE use of common sense in the treatment of cancer have been given to Canadians by Mr. Carl B. French, head of the Canadian Cancer Society.

Public education, he points out, is making it possible for medicine to move effectively against the scourge. Because about half the people of this country know about cancer, its symptoms and its treatment, many more patients are placing themselves in competent medical hands in time to catch the malignancy before it progresses beyond control.

As has been the case with other killing diseases, knowledge is beating back fear and secretiveness to give medicine a better chance to meet the challenge cancer poses.

Not Stripped to the Buff

THE MARQUIS OF EXETER, who as Lord David Burghley could run and take his hurdles with the best — as he did in the 1928 Olympic Games — is having trouble running his house.

Like many another of Britain's titled gentry, the earl has found taxes and upkeep too heavy on his estate and had decided to open it to the public for inspection this summer at 35 cents a trip.

But the former Lord Burghley draws the line at renting the ancestral home to nudists, as one of his peers has done.

With agreeable candor, the former athlete admits the tax collector has taken his shirt, but he won't make it a community affair on his property.

Playoff Time

PATHS OF LIFE — By B. A. TOBIN

To Each His Own

MOST of us are apt to think of movement in pretty restricted terms. We speak of a child crawling across a room, a ball rolling over a tennis court, a ship traversing the Atlantic. These are definite changes of position, carried out over a route that can be plotted, even when it involves three dimensions, such as a plane climbing up to 20,000 feet and back again while making a curving flight to Calgary. Such a simple system of reference is enough for most of our needs. We have floors, walls, seacoasts or cities to measure from; we know where we are because we know where we've been.

Tobin

Up and Away

But scientists take a wider view of movement. They think of objects moving not merely in relation to the surface of the earth, or even to the earth as a whole. They expand the scene to the whole universe, which takes away all your milestones and direction signs and leaves you wandering in the infinite cosmos.

And then, to complicate it a little more, they add in the time element, making it important to know not only where you were but when you were there.

The path through the universe of a single particle, from the moment of its creation to the moment of its disintegration, is known as its world line. Where a number of particles are grouped together, as in the case of a grain of sand, a baseball, Marilyn Monroe, a business block or a star, the multiple path is called the object's world band.

Wheels Within Wheels

Such paths are pretty complicated. The world line of an atom at the end of Joe Doakes' eyelash, as he walked through a bus which was rounding a corner, would be a tiny zigzag in a larger irregular curve which would be part of the large curve of the earth's rotation, brought into a spiral with the earth's motion around the sun, placed into the still larger curve of the sun's spin through space with the Galaxy, superimposed on the Galaxy's over-all motion through space, plus . . . there is probably no end to the complications.

That's quite a route for an atom to trace out—and every atom in creation is going through the same process.

Now because they are related to time, as well as three dimensions, world lines do not cross or touch unless the particles involved try to occupy the same space at the same moment. Just travelling past the same spot in space is not enough, for the passage of time could mean that the world lines would never even come near each other.

It's interesting to think of the world lines, or bands, of human beings. Your world line is very close to those of your family or neighbors or business associates. They touch time and time again throughout your life, looping and whirling apart as you go your separate ways but returning to touch each time as you occupy nearly the same space.

But there are many world lines which cross yours only once, and then diverge forever—the people you meet fleetingly and never see again.

For one instant of eternity you share the same point in infinity. It's rather a startling thought when you think of the odds against its happening. In a cosmic sense, it's almost as important, and as unlikely, as two galaxies crashing together, yet we have these space-time experiences with little thought of their comparative rarity.

I sometimes wonder what happened to that tramp who walked past me as I camped beside the highway through the pass of Scotland's Glencoe one evening years ago. He approached, we nodded, he walked on.

Touch and Go

For an instant our lines had converged in time and space, then curved away never to touch again. It did not count that next morning I followed down the same road that he had taken. Time had placed an unbridgeable 12 hours between our world lines; we might as well have been on different planets after that.

Once as I sat on a roadside fence in Switzerland, eating a lunch of bread and cheese and windfall apples, a man rode by on a bicycle. He grinned and called "Bon appetit!" I answered him with a mouth full of French and apple, and another cosmic incident was completed.

Riding a motorcycle through the States years ago, a car sped toward me down a long straight stretch of road. The driver came steadily at me at high speed and forced me onto the gravel shoulder. I don't know whether his object was slaughter or laughter, but it was a case of world lines coming too close together for comfort. I don't suppose our lines ever approached again. I imagine he was fated to have a short one.

Here Today . . .

Once in a London street I bumped into a fellow I had known five years before in Vancouver. What improbabilities of chance had brought our world lines once more into contact, coinciding time and space in an unpredictable way?

We all have such encounters — fragments of matter and instants of time happening to match up for a moment—giving us a look at some of those with whom we share the cosmos. Specks of life whirling through infinity and time—you'd think we'd be happier to see each other when we pass.

ABSENTEE LANDLORDS?

O Canada

From The Toronto Globe and Mail

CANADIANS who feel any pride in their country, who attach any value to the sovereignty of its government and the dignity of its institutions, would do well to note a press release now being circulated from Cleveland, Ohio.

The release, dated March 8, comes from the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, which has its headquarters in that United States city. It announces that, beginning April 8, the BLFE > will hold a high level policy meeting to deal with a campaign by Canadian railroads to eliminate firemen-helpers from diesel-electric locomotives.

This meeting will be held at Chicago, Illinois. On its agenda, says the press release, will be the report of Canada's Royal Commission of Inquiry, which studied the question of whether firemen were needed on diesel locomotives of the Canadian Pacific Railway in freight and yard service—and decide that they were not.

The Royal Commission, it will be recalled, was composed of three respected Canadian judges, headed by Mr. Justice Kellock, then a member of the Supreme Court of Canada. But Mr. H. E. Gilbert, international president of the BLFE, feels no respect for them or for the report which—after exhaustive study and travel—they produced. The press release sent out from Cleveland says that Mr. Gilbert > has rejected the report as grossly prejudicial, because it completely ignores the position taken by the employees and follows the company's proposals to an alarming degree.

So much for the integrity of Canada's judges. So much for the authority of Canada's Royal Commissions. So much for the Canadian (repeat, Canadian) Pacific Railway, which has accepted the commission's findings, and is seeking to implement them. So much for the Canadian (repeat, Canadian) National Railways, which is seeking to do the same thing. So much, in brief, for Canada.

Canadians are now engaged in an election campaign to decide who should govern their country. Perhaps it is all a farce. Perhaps we are really governed from Cleveland, Ohio, and Chicago, Ill., with Mr. Gilbert—Prime Minister Gilbert—"rejecting" this and that Canadian document, "dealing with" this and that Canadian problem. Was somebody saying something about colonialism?

FROM CAPE CANAVERAL, FLA. By ROSCOE DRUMMOND

First to the Moon

IS the United States going to throw away, without really trying, the tremendous psychological asset of sending a satellite farther into outer space first—say, to the moon?

When you view this superb, 15,000-acre test centre, run by the U.S. Air Force for all three services and look, even uncomprehendingly, at the array of almost self-thinking instruments which makes a delicate watch not much more precise than a pile-driver, you are moved to ask: Are we going to use this doorway to the future with vision and vigor? Or are we again going to concede first place to the Soviets?

The question is pertinent because we now have within our reach the means to place an object on the moon. The experts here say we can hit the moon in a month—if we wish.

The view of the experts at Cape Canaveral is that we don't need to be second a second time. But we will not be first to hit the moon, or first with a manned space flight or first with a satellite in orbit around the moon—unless we grasp why it is important to be first and act upon it.

It is clear that we are making large headway with ballistic missiles of all ranges. We don't have to delay the satellite projects. We can do both. I am convinced that it is urgent to do both rapidly.

To record the performance of missiles is one of the prime purposes of these laboratory experiments. The instruments which do this recording tax the mind of any layman.

To measure the position of ballistic missiles travelling at 10,000 to 15,000 miles per hour at altitudes of several hundred miles requires the ultimate in electronic techniques. This equipment measures direction to an accuracy of 2 to 1,000,000 and can detect change in position every 15 to 30 feet.

In order to give Vanguard, for example, a circular trajectory around the earth, rather than a flattened trajectory, the Cape Canaveral technicians must track it continuously after its second stage has fired and thus compute the exact time the flight path becomes parallel to the earth so that the third stage can be fired at that instant, boosting the satellite into orbit speed.

This is done by tracking the missile by radar from a downrange island station, transmitting radar data to the launch base at the Cape via submarine cable, computing the time to fire the third stage in an IBM computer and then automatically transmitting a third stage firing signal to the vehicle at the proper instant from an island 300 to 400 miles away.

How do you compute the radar data to determine the "proper instant" at which to fire the third stage of a missile travelling at 10,000 to 15,000 miles an hour? Easy. Let the machine do it, and I report to you, as casually as possible, that this machine can compute in 80 one-thousands of a second an equation which it would take a speedy mathematician three months to work out by himself.

They say the machines are about to take over from people, but let's not forget that earth people created the IBM 704 computer.

As Our Readers See It

Unemployment

Much has been said about unemployment. It has been blamed on both the Liberal and Progressive Conservative governments although neither is to blame. It is the unions that are to blame. With the Tory policies to agitate them, the unions have priced labor out of the market.

Always when we have a Conservative government we have hard times. That is one reason the Conservatives have never been returned twice in succession in the twentieth century in Canadian history.

The Conservative government did not keep their promise. John D. said if elected he would call parliament in September to raise the old age pension to $60 a month. I would advise all to think and there will be no doubt how to mark your ballot.

Can't Afford Toryism

As the federal election campaign draws to a close it would be wise to make a fundamental observation. It is clear that neither the average citizen nor the average businessman can afford to have the current recession worsened or even continue as at present. Lester Pearson's program of an immediate "shot in the arm" by tax cuts is the only means of achieving quick results and this view is supported by the U.S. Government's decision to follow the same plan.

Increased trade into our present markets and development of new markets is the only long-range means of preserving our standard of living. It should be obvious by now that Toryism is and always has been dedicated to placing restrictions on trade rather than encouraging its expansion.

The only way to solve the problem is to make sure of a Liberal Government now and to start by voting for Geoff Ellis, the Liberal candidate in Victoria. We cannot afford another expensive lesson in Toryism just for the sake of "giving John a chance."

Litter-Bugs

It is noted that a local organization intends to distribute several thousands of bags into which tourists can put their litter rather than throw same on the streets.

I suggest that, instead, these bags be given to our local citizens.

Anyone who thinks this not necessary should walk down both sides of the 600 and 700 blocks of Yates Street, particularly on Sunday mornings.

There will be seen every possible form of filthy litter, papers, cigaret packages, wrappings, fruit peelings, strewn indiscriminately in the store doorways, on the sidewalks and in the gutters.

The sad part of this is that most of this litter is within just a few feet of the receptacles placed there for the reception of rubbish.

Much of this litter is distributed by the punks who haunt these two blocks but, in many cases, otherwise mature and respectable citizens are the offenders.

Then on Monday mornings we can see the merchants sweeping all this filth into the gutters.

Newspapers of seventy-five years ago carried reports of merchants being fined for sweeping this rubbish into the gutters; but not today; truly a "Century of Progress" only in reverse.

Tourists assure the writer that if they were to litter the sidewalks of their home towns in a manner similar to that permitted in Victoria they would be slapped with a fine, but who cares in dear old sleepy Victoria where bylaws mean so little?

So to the worthy organization which proposes to distribute these litter bags to the tourists I would say "First pick out the beam in the eyes of the local residents and then shalt thou see clearly to pick out the mote in the eyes of the tourists."

DISGUSTED.

First 'Non-Stop'

Taking heart from Tony Emery's excellent debut article "For Criticism of Anything and Everything," which appeared in your Saturday issue of the Times, may I comment on the nostalgic ramblings of Gus Sivertz in his regular column "When We Were Very Young" of the same issue?

He commenced his article with the reflection that it is just 31 years come May 20 since Charles Lindberg made the first non-stop flight from America to the continent of Europe.

Although in essence correct, this statement, will no doubt, strengthen the fallacy existing in many people's minds that Lindberg made the first non-stop flight from the North American continent to Europe in 1927.

It is a tribute to the fickle memory of the general public on this side of the Atlantic, that the names of the true holders of this aeronautical record are all but forgotten.

They were, of course, Captain J. W. Alcock and Lt. A. W. Brown, both British, who made the first non-stop flight over the Atlantic in 1919, leaving Newfoundland on June 14 to land at Clifden in Ireland, on the following day.

Their aircraft, a Vickers twin engine biplane, was damaged on landing, was later repaired and exhibited in the Kensington Science Museum, London, where it can still be seen.

Both men were later knighted by King George V and in recent years, a large piece of commemorative sculpure has been placed in front of the Overseas Terminal Building at London Airport.

LONDON—Short takes. . . . Stamp collectors' corner: New ones you can expect from Britain this year a stamp to mark Cardiff's Empire Games in July, a 4½d one (to fit in with recent postage increases), a 3d issued specially for Jersey, Guernsay and the Isle of Man and further "regional" stamps of 3d, 6d and 1s 3d for Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland.

It seems the gals should now forget about vital statistics such as 41-24-39 — not to mention us men! We're told that the short skirts (three inches shorter) decreed by Italian designers and followed by Paris will definitely catch on and the interesting statistics will be something like 20-13-13, i.e. thigh, knee and calf. (Those are Marilyn Monroe's measurements, incidentally.

The Kennel Club, the big authority on the dog world, has at long last bowed to the obvious. Despite the existence of thousands of toy poodles, the Kennel Club has always claimed that the poodle came in only two sizes—standard (big) and miniature. Toy poodles were only a freak, not a breed. But now the toys have been added to the list of recognized breeds.

(1) Twice as good a chance of survival if you're born now, compared to 20 years ago. Last year only 23 per thousand British babies died. Figures for 1938: 52.8 per 1,000.

(2) More than twice as many Britons working for the government, compared to 50 years ago. Then it was 6 per cent of the working population. Now more than 3,000,000 of the country's 24,000,000 workers are government employees—14 per cent.

Gilbert Harding, idol of the airwaves, surprised TV viewers by admitting that he had been in jail. "In Toronto," he said, without further enlargement. But those of us who knew Gilbert in his Toronto days remember the incident. They ran out of soda water at a party and Gilbert said he'd go and get some. Weaving back with the soda water, a couple of cops asked him what he was up to.

That week a youngster had been killed by a police bullet when he fled from a parking lot after being caught trying to steal a car. "Why don't you go and find some more kids and shoot them in the back?" snarled Gilbert.

Into the clink he went and it wasn't until the early hours of the morning when the party was breaking up that anyone thought: "Wonder what happened to Gilbert and the soda water?"

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

Burning Tongue

Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation

In my life-time I have seen a few hundred elderly women who said that suddenly one day their tongue, or half the tongue, or an area on their palate or cheek had begun to burn or hurt, and the distress had never thereafter let up for a day. Some said that they were much distressed, also, by a miserable taste in the mouth, perhaps coppery, or sour or just nasty.

Alvarez

These women had had many treatments on them but nothing had helped. No one had ever been able to see anything wrong with the tongue or cheek. For several reasons, I soon became satisfied that the trouble was back in the brain, and in the nerves that supply the tongue with sensation. Only a nerve distress remains steady day in and day out for years. Also, only a nerve injury could make only a half or a quarter of the tongue sore.

Then, I began to see women who supplied me with the final bit of information that I needed. They said their sore tongue had come with a little stroke that had gone away in a day or two. Hence it is that now when I see a woman with a miserable, sore tongue I always ask about a strange dizzy or woozy spell that happened shortly before. Sometimes, of course, I cannot get the story because, when a tiny artery plugged up in the centre for one of the nerves that runs to the tongue, it produced no symptoms except the miserable feeling in the tongue.

I am sorry to say that I have never heard of any medicine that helped at all. These people are given large amounts of vitamins, but when the cause of the distress is a destroyed nerve-centre, one can see why no medicine can build it up again so that the tongue will feel comfortable.

When I was a lad in high school a piece of glass cut a nerve supplying one of my fingers with sensation. The nerve grew out again, but for the next 40 years that segment of skin never felt right or comfortable to the touch.

POLYPS

What are polyps? They are little lumps of tissue which look usually like a tiny mushroom. They grow especially in the lower end of the large bowel, but some are found, rarely, in the stomach. A certain type is found in the nose, usually in cases of chronic sinusitis and asthma. Such polyps had better be removed so that the patient can breathe comfortable again.

Many of the polyps in the lower end of the bowel can be burned off with hot sparks. The electrode is introduced through an electrically lighted tube. If the polyp is out of reach of such a tube, it may be wise to have it removed surgically. Sometimes in the past in the case of an elderly person who was a poor surgical risk, I have just watched the thing at intervals with the X-ray, and for years have seen no growth, and no sign of the polyp's turning into cancer.

There are a few very unfortunate persons belonging to certain rarely met-with families in which the inner lining of the large bowel is covered with hundreds of polyps. These unhappy persons have only one choice and that is, first, to get an expert rectal specialist to burn off all the polyps he can reach with his lighted tube. Then, a surgeon must remove the rest of the colon. If this is not done, the man is likely soon to be dead with a wild-fire type of cancer. Fortunately, this is so rare a disease that no more than a very few of my readers need be concerned about it.

I'll never forget the young man who came into the Mayo Clinic one day and said he wanted to have his colon removed. When asked why, he said that his as I remember, three brothers had all died with cancer developing very rapidly in their polyp-filled "bottle-brush" colons. He had inherited these same polyps, and so he knew what he must do quickly if he was to live.

ARTIFICIAL SWEETNESS

Many people ask if artificial sweeteners or substitutes for sugar do people any harm. So far as I know, they are safe. I am sure they were well tested for toxity before they were put on the market. Food additives and substitutes are always particularly well tested before they are allowed to go on sale.

I think many persons, and especially those who are trying to reduce, have a greatly exaggerated idea of what a sugar substitute can do for them. Some, quite obviously, believe that in some miraculous way the little tablet in their coffee will keep them from gaining weight when they have just had a wonderful big dinner in a French restaurant. Really, all the tablet has done is to keep them from using one or two teaspoonsful of sugar, which represents only a few calories.

SYNOPSIS—Considerable cloud persisted throughout B.C. this morning in a mass of moist and relatively cold Pacific air that lies over the province. Scattered showers have been reported during the night, mostly along the south coast. No marked change is forecast for Thursday. A disturbance off the coast appears to be following a track too far south to affect B.C., but skies will remain generally cloudy and there will be a few showers in some districts.

RUSS BARE SECRETS

Space Dog Died Without Pain

LONDON (AP) — The Russians reported Tuesday night that space dog Laika panted furiously and her heart pounded as she rode a rocket out into space in Sputnik II. But once her satellite was orbiting the ride was not unpleasant in the week she lived aloft, they said.

The clinical summary of Laika's last days was broadcast by Moscow radio.

As the rocket bolted upward Nov. 3, Laika's heart thumped three times faster than normal. She gasped but felt no pain. She returned to normal gradually when the satellite got into orbit.

Messages were flashed back to earth from instruments strapped to the dog's body.

When the satellite reached the zenith of its flight and began circling the earth, Laika was in a state of weightlessness.

The experience of weightlessness caused no substantial changes in Laika's physiological functions.

'SELF-KNOWLEDGE VITAL'

Know Your Canada, Massey Tells Club

MONTREAL (CP) — Governor-General Massey today urged serious and systematic reading by Canadians of the story of their country.

He said in an address to the 50th anniversary meeting of the Women's Canadian Club of Montreal that "understanding of the past is essential to self-knowledge."

Mr. Massey said serious reading of Canadian history was difficult a generation or so ago.

"So little was written, and for the most part done in a dull and undistinguished fashion and generally very boring. But now there is really no excuse. The Canadian who wants a bird's-eye view of his history can choose from half a dozen or more volumes, well - written, often well-illustrated and easy to read."

Bewildered by Catalogues?

Seedmen's catalogues have reached such a high level of perfection, and descriptions of the good things they contain are couched in such superlative terms, the amateur frequently finds himself a little bewildered by the numerous novelties and specialties which appear every year.

Jack

Usually there are a number of so-called novelties of scant or questionable importance, but a year scarcely passes without some noteworthy plants, and it may be helpful to examine a few of the more outstanding of recent introductions.

Among the annuals certain plants are given more attention than others by plant breeders, and often one plant or another may have quite a vogue for several years.

FORERUNNER

The double nasturtium Golden Gleam was the forerunner of many new forms of this useful plant. New colors in this semi-double type are now obtainable and the variety Princess Gleam is particularly pleasing.

Further novelties among double nasturtiums are the compact free-flowing Golden Globe and Scarlet Globe. These, like the stronger growing "gleam" type are very double and sweet scented, but produce no runners, bloom most freely, and are suitable for the front of borders.

Another family of plants which has added greatly to its numbers in recent years is the marigold. A new race from Mexico has produced a fine form called Mexican Harvest Gold. It is very free-flowing and more branching than the African types.

Christie Point Park Preservation Sought

A letter urging preservation of Christie Point as a park will be sent to the provincial government by Saanich Council.

Council decided to send the letter after Coun. Harold Todd raised the point, urging "Saanich to go on record as adding its voice to the dozens asking for a park."

Metropolitan Reports
Another Outstanding Year

Again in 1957, Metropolitan Life Insurance Company established new records for Canadian Life Insurance.

1. Benefit payments of $80,000,000 to Canadian policyholders and beneficiaries constitute a record amount paid in any year by any one Company.

2. New Life Insurance of $775,000,000 bought by Canadians is a record among Life Insurance Companies in Canada. Regular Ordinary insurance alone increased 94% over 1956 and totalled $499,000,000.

3. Three million Metropolitan policyholders — one of every six Canadians — are covered by some type of policy — individual or Group — for Life insurance, Annuities, or Accident and Sickness benefits.

4. Four and a half billion dollars of Metropolitan Life insurance in force in Canada represents a giant umbrella of protection covering hundreds of thousands of families from Newfoundland to British Columbia.

5. Investments of $956,000,000 in Canada — of which $657,000,000 is in the securities of Canadian industries and commercial enterprises — are playing a major role in economic development.

Back of these accomplishments in service are 4,112 Metropolitan people in Canada.

2,024 are Field representatives, career men with an average of 12 years experience with the Company. They are the sales and service part of our organization maintaining direct and constant contact with our policyholders. They help policyholders in arranging sound protection programmes, advise them in keeping their insurance adjusted to the current family situation, and assist in the prompt settlement of claims.

680 staff the 96 local offices and 3 Group offices from Sydney to Victoria. They are local people who are trained to give on-the-spot personalized service.

1,408 work in Head Office in Ottawa — the nerve centre that guides the whole organization. Here, experts of almost every kind — men and women trained in many occupations and technical professions—handle the wide variety of diversified operations required in giving prompt service to our policyholders.

THIEF-HUNTING SHERIFF SHOT FOR OWN COMFORT

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—If Deputy Sheriff Brown sits down today, it probably will be on a pillow.

He lost a section of his pants and some skin Tuesday while chasing a suspected car thief through a barbed wire fence. Brown went to hospital for a tetanus shot and home for a pair of trousers with a seat.

'Arts Have the Power' Conductor Tells Club

Prospective immigrants to a community judge it not so much by its baseball team as by cultural assets, Kiwanis Club members were told Tuesday noon at the Empress Hotel.

Conductor of the Victoria Symphony Orchestra, Hans Gruber, said, "People moving into a community will choose for the sake of their children, a community with cultural assets."

Speaking for the symphony and appealing for support by business groups and individuals alike, Mr. Gruber described the place of the arts in modern life.

POWER

"The arts have the power," he said, "to bring peoples of divergent backgrounds together.

"They are quickly becoming the only ground where people are able to meet on a common basis.

"We no longer remember the reasons why we sacrificed untold millions of lives in two world wars and we no longer remember the words of the psychopaths who caused them.

"How is it that the words of the philosophers, authors and composers have survived?

LASTING TRUTH

"The fact is that what these people had to say is the only really important and lasting truth.

"Once having been exposed to the power of the arts one could no more think of harming another man as flying to the moon unaided.

"This is the real role of the arts today."

Man Jailed For Stealing From Friend

Gene Samson, no fixed address, was given a jail sentence in city police court Tuesday for theft earlier this year of $310 from a friend's apartment.

Magistrate H. C. Hall sentenced the accused to three months definite and six months indeterminate at Oakalla jail young offenders' unit.

He said although the man had a poor probation report, "You are a young man and this is your first offence."

Money was taken from a Cook Street apartment and spent on a trip to Vancouver and to pay off a number of Samson's bills in Victoria.

Samson had offered to make restitution.

Civic Leaders Plan Pt. Alberni Parley

Association of Vancouver Island Municipalities will hold its annual meeting May 14 at the Barclay Hotel, Port Alberni.

Meanwhile, Victoria district councils are preparing a welcome for 600 delegates to the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities, meeting here June 1 to 4.

The delegates have arranged special trains which will leave Toronto and Montreal and join at Capreol, Ont., picking up other delegates as they proceed westward.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

Russ 'Blundered' On Satellites, Says Dr. Shrum

Russia's launching of two earth-circling satellites has sparked a scientific revolution, but was a "colossal blunder" just the same, Dr. Gordon M. Shrum, UBC head of physics, said here Tuesday.

"If the Russians were able to launch a satellite there was no reason to do it," he told a dinner meeting of the Pacific Fisheries Technologists, "and if they were going to launch it, they shouldn't have announced it."

If the satellite-launching had not been announced, "we would have been much more complacent than we are today," Dr. Shrum said.

"We would never have been able to convince the United States that Russia was ahead of us in everything if they hadn't staged such a spectacular demonstration."

The Western world now is "seriously threatened" for the first time in the field of the inter-continental ballistic missile, he said, a "great achievement" for Russia in the light of the country's background.

Intensive Education in Russia

At the end of the Second World War, Russia had not developed radar, atomic energy or jet engines. Now their advances in these fields are "in some respects greater than ours."

Secret of Russia's success is the development of science and technology through a system of intensive education, he said.

Scientific training in the schools is "five times as much as required to enter UBC" at a time when Western education has "de-emphasized any subject that's difficult."

"We've practically wiped out a lot of drill necessary for mathematics, languages and science," the doctor said.

"In Canada we think we're one of the great industrial nations of the world," he told the meeting. "Yet in the appreciation of science we rank behind, Britain, the United States and Russia."

The physics head charged there has been an "incomprehensible neglect" of science in Canadian schools and universities.

The subject has been neglected for so long, he said, that "there are practically no teachers available" and those who are "in many cases haven't any more education on the subject than their students."

'No Emphasis on What They Teach'

Nowadays teachers are well trained in methods of teaching "with no emphasis whatsoever on what they teach."

Russia's advances, if not equalled or surpassed, could lead to world power, Dr. Shrum said.

"If Russia decides to stop putting up satellites and go into industrial production, they will outsell and out-produce us. If the country sends technical men to Asia, they will carry their philosophy with them.

"And if they lead us in science and technology there is no doubt they will take over the world."

Seventy delegates to the ninth annual conference attended the dinner meeting. The conference ends today at the Empress Hotel.

PLANE RUNS OUT OF GAS, 5 DROWNED

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A carefree day of shopping in the Bahamas ended Tuesday night with a plane crash which drowned three adults and two children. The rented plane ran out of gas.

The only survivor was Floyd Scites, of Detroit, who was rescued from the Atlantic 2½ miles off Hollywood, Fla., by a fishing boat.

Hugh Wilkinson; his wife, Patricia, 30; their son, Dana, 7; Scites' wife, Dolores, 30; and their 18-months-old daughter Deborah, perished.

Pickpockets Pilfer Pilgrims' Pockets

LOURDES, France (AP) — Police today said 15 pilgrims were the victims of pickpockets during the two-day ceremonies of the consecration of the new underground basilica here.

Special police reinforcements had been sent to Lourdes from Paris with the sole duty of keeping an eye on the pickpockets.

RECOGNITION of long years of service to the Liberal Party has been given to Daniel A. MacDonald, 371 Kerr. Mr. MacDonald, left, was presented with a life membership in the Saanich District Liberal Association by Esquimalt-Saanich candidate George Preston. Mr. MacDonald, 86, has been voting Liberal for 65 years. He first came to B.C. in 1898, moved to Alberta in 1912, and returned here in 1944.

Heart Disease Discovery Hailed

NEW YORK (CP)—The magazine Newsweek says that a discovery by Dr. Hans Selye of Montreal, world authority on stress as a cause of death, is being hailed as a research "breakthrough" in the fight against heart disease.

Dr. Selye, director of the Institute of Experimental Medicine and Surgery at University of Montreal, has long experimented with the theory that stress, causing chemical imbalance in the body, is the cause of degenerative diseases, including those of the heart, kidneys and blood vessels.

In recent experiments he has shown that rats always die after being placed under stress, extreme cold, following injections of certain chemicals—hormones and salts.

Says Newsweek:

"But what Selye has discovered is that other rats, treated exactly the same but given injections of magnesium and potassium, always live—apparently protected against stress."

This indicates that the new chemical treatment prevents, in rats, the kind of heart damage known as cardiac infracts, or "accidents," which account for half the annual toll of 900,000 lives, the magazine says.

"The discovery has been hailed as a breakthrough in the important sense that it can lead to prevention of one kind of heart disease where the best hope has been treatment."

FROM VICTORIA TO MAINLAND

Diamond Jubilee for Paper

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Province celebrates its diamond jubilee today. It was 60 years ago when the newspaper first began publication as a daily paper here.

Vancouver, with a population then of 20,000, already had two newspapers — The World and The News-Advertiser—but Hewlitt Bostock, A. H. Scaife and Archer Martin decided it needed a third. They closed their Victoria weekly and came to the mainland.

Mr. Bostock later sold out his interest to Walter Cameron Nichol, going on to the House of Commons and eventually becoming Speaker of the Senate.

Mr. Nichol continued to operate The Province until 1924 when he sold his interest to the Southam group of newspapers. The publishing reins during ensuing years passed through the hands of Frank J. Burd, M. E. Nichols, O. L. Spencer, P. C. Galbraith and in 1950 to the present publisher, A. W. Moscarella.

One of its biggest scoops was chalked up in 1918 by Roy Brown, a reporter who later became the paper's editor. This was the sinking of the CPR's Princess Sophia in Alaska waters with the loss of 398 lives.

Company officials first learned of the sinking when they read Brown's story. W. C. Nichol, then owner and editor, demanded of Brown how he had found out about it; but he never did tell who gave him the tip.

Probe Opens Into Cotton Textiles Tariff

OTTAWA (CP) — Japanese and British opposition was indicated today to a bid by Canada's cotton textile industry for sharply increased tariff protection.

As the tariff board launched a public study of the cotton textiles tariff, board chairman Hector McKinnon said a total of 34 briefs were expected to be presented during the current hearings, likely to last more than three weeks.

There were no indications when the hearings started that United States exporters planned to appear before the board. The Canadian industry describes the United States as the dominant source of import pressure in recent years.

The hearings are a phase of a study of the entire textiles tariff structure ordered last year by Finance Minister Fleming.

In a bulky, 200-page document, the Primary Textiles Institute argues its share of the domestic market is being seriously curtailed by increasing imports.

The industry claims that unless some action is taken to reduce imports from the United States, the United Kingdom, Western European countries, Japan and India, a lot of Canadian textile workers may be thrown out of jobs.

The brief argued that increased duties are needed to counteract "the high price of being a Canadian".

CUT IMPORTS, CANADA, URGED

MONTREAL (CP)—Canada should cut her imports of manufactured goods and support her own manufacturing industries to maintain her economic health, president J. Herbert Smith of Canadian General Electric Company Ltd. said today.

"It is vital to the growth and independence of this nation that we reduce our imports of manufactured goods," he told the Electrical Club of Montreal.

No Recession in Canada For GM, President Claims

VANCOUVER (CP) — President E. H. Walker of General Motors of Canada said Tuesday that as far as his company is concerned there is no recession at present in Canada.

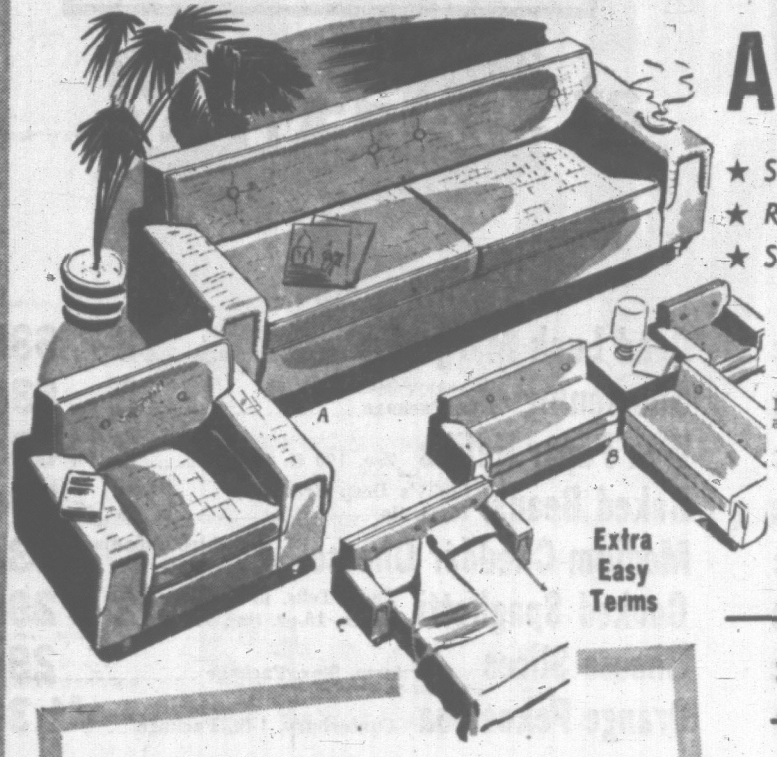

"We don't find pessimism in our business," he said in an interview. "Through March 10 we sold 14.1 per cent more cars and trucks in Canada than we did in the same period a year ago.

"We spent more than ever in retooling for 1958 models and we will spend more than ever before on advertising."

President W. Carl Cannon of Frigidaire Products of Canada said the major appliance industry may have its best year yet in 1958.

ROYAL NAVY PROBES 'HELL SHIP'

Near-Mutiny Laid to Hangover

LONDON (UP) — The Royal Navy held the cruiser Apollo in port today to permit a board of officers to investigate a near-mutiny among its badly hung-over crew.

Crew members said the incident was caused by too much "spit and polish" enforced by unpopular officers who turned the cruiser into a "hell ship." But Capt. Richard Lombard-Hobson, the ship's skipper, blamed the affair on a hangover.

Some crewmen on leave said the enlisted men had issued an ultimatum saying they would not sail if one of the cruiser's officers remained on board. But Lombard-Hobson, 45, said this was not true.

"I have heard of no such ultimatum," the captain said. "Nor have I heard any serious complaints about the attitude of any officer."

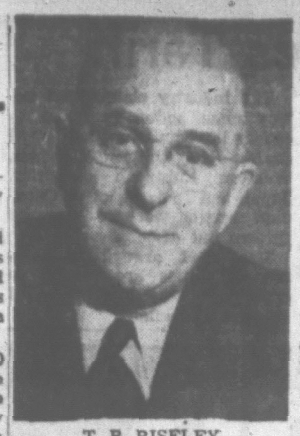

Lombard-Hobson told Vice-Adm. Sir Richard Onslow, commander of the Portsmouth naval area, that the trouble developed after too much celebrating ashore.

He said the ship had just finished three months of refitting in port and had undergone successful sea trials in a gale.

"The gale made things pretty unpleasant but our trials were completely satisfactory," the captain said. "On Sunday most of the ship's company went ashore to celebrate. Unfortunately some celebrated not wisely but too well."

Two of the celebrants rolled aboard and locked themselves in the mess deck. They refused to come out, so the hatch was broken open and they were hauled off to the brig.

The next morning 30 to 40 hungover sailors refused to "jump to it" when ordered to muster on deck. An Admiralty spokesman said they finally mustered, about an hour late.

T. B. RISELEY
... retires Monday.

CNR Agent to End 40 Years Service

City ticket agent Thomas B. Riseley, 1091 Moss, will end a 40-year association with the Canadian National Railways on his retirement Monday.

Agent here since December, 1949, he was honored Tuesday at a staff ceremony and dinner. Presentation of a desk was made by F. N. McKenzie, Winnipeg, passenger traffic manager for the CNR western region.

Other CNR officials present were A. C. L. Warner, general passenger agent, and C. R. Forsythe, district passenger agent, Vancouver.

Born in Staffordshire, England, Mr. Riseley came to Canada in 1912 and following war service joined the CNR in 1919 as a junior ticket clerk in the Edmonton depot office.

He served in Edmonton as ticket clerk and Regina as ticket agent before moving to Winnipeg in 1947 as general clerk in the passenger traffic department and, in summers, travelling passenger agent.

Mr. Riseley moved to Victoria from Winnipeg.

CLEAN-UP PACKED UP

NANAIMO (CP) — A joint clean-up, paint-up campaign by Nanaimo and adjacent Harewood was cancelled Monday because of public apathy after only four groups—of 38 asked — turned up at an organization meeting.

SCIENTISTS CLOSER TO TARGET

Anti-Cancer-Drug Seen

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Scientists are coming closer to an antibiotic against cancer.

Their search began long ago when doctors noticed that a few cancer patients were actually cured when they had a serious bacterial disease, erysipelas.

The erysipelas germs were producing a chemical—an antibiotic—that fought against the cancer.

Antibiotic means a chemical or drug produced by living organisms. Penicillin and streptomycin are made by tiny molds. They're effective against many kinds of germs, but not against cancers.

New steps toward the cancer antibiotics were described today to an American Cancer Society tour for science writers of major United States research centres.

Certain bacteria, including erysipelas germs, produce an antibiotic known as a polysaccharide, a complex sugar. These chemicals have had some temporary successes against human cancers. But a drawback is they're poisonous or damaging themselves.

But now several new ones have been found which apparently have no bad effects at all, said Drs. Helga Francis Havas and A. J. Donnelly of the Institute for Cancer Research here.

Some cause complete disappearance of two-thirds of cancers planted artificially in mice. But they don't do much against natural or spontaneous cancers in mice, the scientists admit.

CHURCHILL BUSY AGAIN —PASSES 'GOOD NIGHT'

ROQUEBRUNE CAP MARTIN, France (Reuters)—Sir Winston Churchill "passed a good night," a member of his household said today. Now recovering from a slight recurrence of pneumonia, he was back at work again and dictated a heavy mail to his two secretaries this morning.

He was in high spirits to celebrate his escape from bed, where he had been confined since Saturday because of a slight setback in his convalescence from pneumonia and pleurisy.

An official bulletin Tuesday said he is thinking about returning to England as soon as the weather improves.

Probe Into Freight Rate Cuts Welcomed by Canadian Truckers

OTTAWA (CP) — The national organization of Canada's truckers today welcomed a decision of the board of transport commissioners to investigate heavy reductions in freight rates put into effect by the railways in the west last year.

"It is a victory for long-haul trucking in the west but more so for shippers of the west," executive secretary John Magee of Canadian Trucking Associations said in a statement commenting on the board's decision Tuesday.

"Only the trucks stand between western shippers and the return of railroad monopoly service and railroad monopoly rates."

The railways last spring effected sharp rate cuts on many commodities in the four western provinces. The truckers organization asked the board to disallow them, claiming they were illegal.

The board Tuesday ruled the CTA does not have the status of an applicant, but said it will conduct its own investigation into the new rates and will permit CTA to present evidence.

CTA represents about 6,000 local and long-distance haulage firms through provincial associations.

Mr. Magee's statement said competition from trucks has saved shippers hundreds of millions of dollars in the west and because of this the railways are determined to cripple western Canada's long-haul trucking industry.

College Keeps Western Title With Easy Win

By IAN SMITH

Victoria College Vikings are uncertain today when they will start their second Canadian junior basketball final, but they should finally be convinced that following a coach's instructions pays off.

Vikings, who had to batttle all the way to build up a 2-1 lead in the first three games of the best-of-five western Canada final against Winnipeg Buffaloes, nailed down their second straight western title at Victoria High School Tuesday night.

And they did it with surprising ease, whipping the Buffaloes 62-32, as they baffled the Prairie champions with a switch in tactics.

College officials were still uncertain today when the best-of-five Dominion final against the eastern titleholders would start.

Reports from the east give the starting date as April 12, but original plans were to have the final start on the home floor of the western champions April 21. The latter date would conflict with school examinations and it is possible Vikings would default if it is not changed.

SUITABLE DATE

However, college officials stated this morning that since both east and west have asked for a switch from the April 21 starting time, it is believed dates suitable to both finalists will be worked out.

Vikings, who had often forgotten instructions and stayed entirely with their usual fast-breaking style of play in the opening three games and dropped a 72-71 overtime thriller Monday, followed coach Bill Garner's instructions to the letter Tuesday night.

Apparently determined to squash rumors that they had lost the spirit and teamwork that had carried them to the Dominion final last year, Vikings were in command from the start.

They started off by almost freezing the ball near midcourt waiting for the Buffs to open up their defence. When the Buffaloes moved out, Vikings sent a man slashing through the centre and carved out a 10-6 lead in the opening 10 minutes.

QUICK SWITCH

Then they suddenly unleashed their familiar fast-breaking attack before again switching back to ball control methods, and held a 26-12 lead at the half.

Garner, apparently believing Winnipeg coach Sam Dolhun would have told his charges to combat the slow-moving Viking tactics, had his crew off and running with the second-half whistle.

Five minutes after the intermission, Vikings, on a remarkable combination of deadly shooting and alert rebounding, were out of reach with a 42-16 lead.

BITTER CHECKINIG

From then on, it was just a matter of playing out the game and both clubs sent their second-stringers into the tussle.

One of the biggest improvements in the college crew was in checking.

Alex Keenan, who had scored 18, 25 and 18 points in the first three games of the series as he kept his team in the running, was powerless to do anything as Vikings stopped him at 11 points.

It was Harvey Muth, though, who felt the greatest decline. The victim of concentrated college attention throughout the game, Muth, Monday's top point-catcher with a total of 21, wound up with a completely blank night.

Vikings, on the other hand, found their shooting eyes of old Tuesday, and, while their totals were not enormous, they hit consistently.

BOB GETS 14

Tall Bob Tomlinson came to the fore with 14 points as he played one of his better games, while Waldo Skillings, who except for brief flurries of stardom in earlier games had had a mediocre series, played well during his whole time on the floor in the last game and wound up with 13 points.

Tom English also exhibited improvement over his Monday performance, chipping in 12 points to cap a good performance all around.

Getting the best mileage for his floor time was Art Chiko, who tossed in nine points after entering the game with only 11 minutes remaining in the second half.

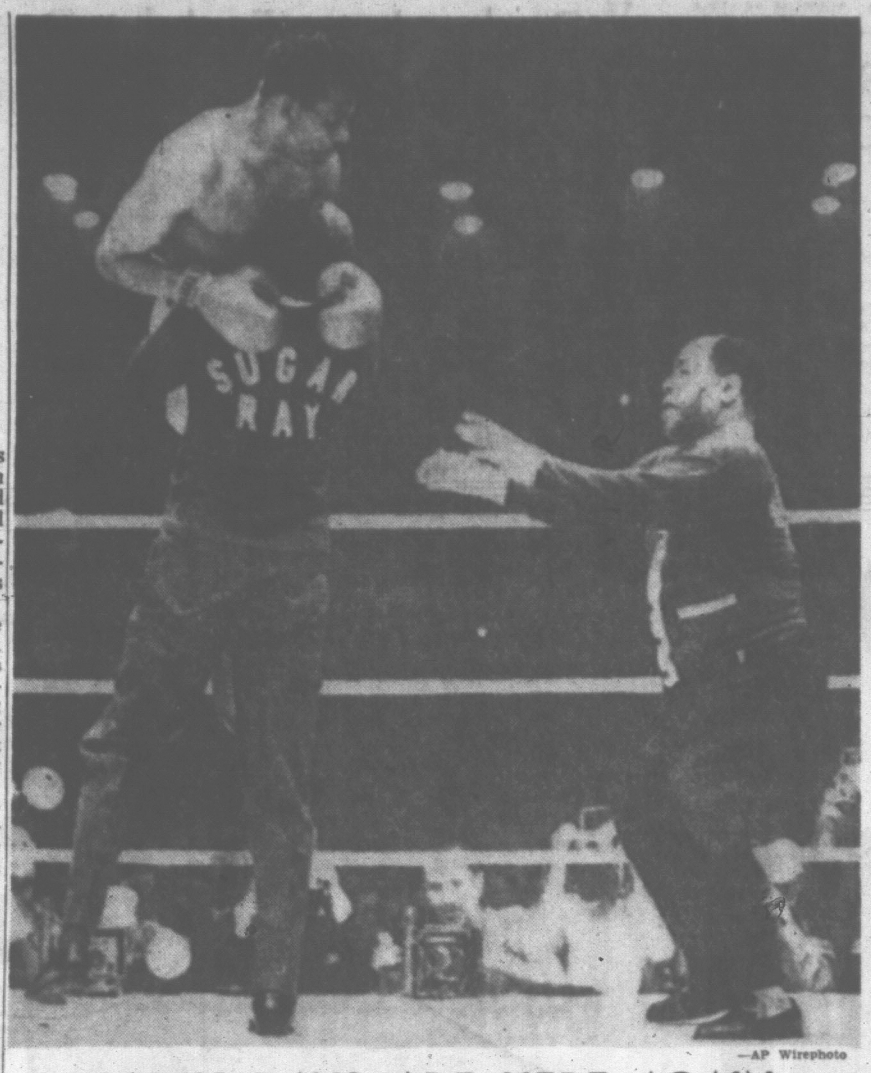

Scorers follow:

Winnipeg Buffaloes—Macki, Meinhardis 5, Seepish 6, Muth, Block, Osadchuk 4, Leach 4, Robinson 2, Johnston, Keenan 11. Total—32.

Victoria College Vikings—Skillings 13, Patterson 2, Kowalyk 2, McCulloch, Finch, Showers 2, Chiko 9, Brousseau 8, English 12, Tomlinson 14. Total—62.

Back on middleweight throne for fifth time, Sugar Ray Robinson is lifted from canvas by jubilant co-manager Harold Johnson after announcement of split-decision victory over Carmen Basilio at Chicago Stadium Tuesday night. Running in to hug amazing Robinson is trainer Harry Wiley.

Phil Big Help in Rout, But Rocket Started It

MONTREAL (CP)—Rookie Phil Goyette surprised even himself with a three-goal hat trick in joining Montreal Canadiens' big guns Tuesday night in an unmerciful 8-1 rout of Detroit Red Wings in the opening game of their Stanley Cup semifinal.

Canadiens, National Hockey League champs, got the jump on the Wings in the best-of-seven series with a spectacular five-goal production in the first period, led by the veteran Maurice (Rocket) Richard.

Before the game was five minutes old, the 36-year-old Rocket, idol of Montreal fans, had exploded for two goals and the rout was on.

BAD BEATING

Jean Beliveau, Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion and Dickie Moore—all big names in Montreal's scoring power over the last few seasons—had a hand in one of the worst drubbings suffered by a team in the annual post-season competition.

The teams meet here again Thursday night.

The Red Wings' lone goal came on a power play in the second period, Johnny Wilson letting go a 40-footer that was screened all the way and plopped into the net behind startled goalie Jacques Plante.

Rocket Richard's return to scoring form was welcomed by his teammates. Sidelined by an injury from Nov. 13 until Feb. 20, the Rocket scored only four goals in the last 13 games of the NHL season. They came in pairs in two games.

He also helped on two other goals Tuesday night, his four points bringing his total for his 16 season career to 1,0003, including playoff games. The Rocket has scored 508 goals in regular-season play and 72 in 12 post-season series.

Both of his goals Tuesday night were scored from just outside the crease. He tipped in Dickie Moore's foot-high pass at 2.22 and slapped in Boom Boom Geoffrion's rebound at 4.07.

NEW YORK WINS OPENER

Few Ranger Fans Agree With Muzz

NEW YORK (AP) — New York Rangers, off to a fast start in their semifinal Stanley Cup set against Boston, will have to get along without captain Red Sullivan for the remainder of their best-of-seven series with the Bruins.

The second-place Rangers whipped Boston 5-3 Tuesday night before a capacity crowd of 15,925 in Madison Square Garden. But their enthusiasm was tempered by the triple fracture of the jaw suffered by Sullivan.

Sullivan, who fell heavily when he was checked by the Bruins' Vic Stasiuk midway in the first period, was resting in a hospital today. His jaw was to be wired by a dental surgeon. There is a possibility he will return for the final National Hockey League playoff if New York eliminates the Bruins.

"It was a deliberate injury," said Ranger coach Phil Watson. "It was a fair check and is all part of the game," said Muzz Patrick, the team's general manager.

"I don't know what hit me," offered Sullivan.

Most of the partisan Ranger followers agreed with Watson and jeered the Bruins vociferously for the remainder of the opening session.

The second game will be played here Thursday night. But because a circus will occupy the New York garden the rest of the series will be in Boston.

Veteran Dave Creighton was the Rangers' big gun Tuesday night.

He scored twice and assisted on one of three first-period goals that enabled the second-place blueshirts to come from behind.

Age Belted Ray Harder Than Did Gritty Basilio

Aging Robinson Has Final Say For Return Bout

CHICAGO (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson beat Father Time and one-eyed Carmen Basilio Tuesday night to regain the world middleweight championship for an incredible fourth time.

The fight was tough in both cases.

Robinson was exhausted at the end of the 15 rounds in taking a split decision. He was so limp he barred the press from his Chicago Stadium dressing room and held a news conference two hours later in his hotel suite after regaining composure and breath.

Age (he will be 38 in May) nearly caught up with him Tuesday night. But this was something 30-year-old Basilio, a 2-1 favorite, couldn't do.

ATTACKS EARLY

The fight actually was between a good welterweight and a good middleweight. Basilio came in at 153 pounds. Robinson weighed 159¾.

Robinson did most of his damage early. In the fifth round he stunned Basilio with three quick lefts to the face and a smashing right that had the champion a little rocky at the bell.

It was then that a cut opened over Basilio's left eye. The eye became swollen shut in the sixth round and from then on he could be considered at the mercy of Sugar Ray.

But the Harlem dandy couldn't put his courageous little opponent away. The steam of a former day was gone, and Basilio's raw tenacity made it all the tougher.

The ingredients are present for another rematch, which the International Boxing Club hopes to stage in June in New York, Robinson willing.

SPLIT DECISION

Robinson, who can ham it up as well as the next TV performer wouldn't say yes or no. He is expected to play the part of being on the brink of retirement to the hilt—until he and IBC President Jim Norris get down to financial facts.

In the meantime, Basilio will be demanding a rematch although there was no such stipulation in their contracts.

All the fanfare is there for a promotion. Basilio lifted the 160-pound title from the Sugarman in New York last September on a split decision. This time it was in reverse, the referee again being in the middle.

In New York, the two judges went for Basilio and the referee for Robinson. Tuesday night, Judge Frank McAdams saw it for Robinson, 72-64, under the five-point must system and Judge John Bray scored it 71-64. Referee Frank Sikora voted for Basilio, 66-69, and thereby drew loud booing. The AP card favored Robinson, 70-63.

NO KNOCKDOWNS

Undoubtedly, Basilio would have been much more effective if the curtain had not dropped over his left eye. There were no knockdowns but both fighters landed enough blows to rock each other occasionally.

Paid attendance was announced as 17,976 but there appeared to be a standing-room gathering that would top 20,000. Gate receipts were $351,900 with a net of $278,108.

Basilio and Robinson each received 30 per cent of the net and the same cut of an estimated $300,000 from the closed circuit network that was fed into 38 states, Canada and the District of Columbia, $30,000 in radio proceeds and an unknown amount from movie rights. Each wil pocket nearly $200,000.

In 150 fights, Robinson has lost only six times. Basilio now stands at 13 defeats in 72 bouts.

JEEPERS, WHAT A PEEPER!

Loser, but no weeper, Carmen Basilio manages wry smile as he sits in dressing room after losing world middleweight title to Ray Robinson. Swollen eye is evidence of punishment handed out by new champion in brutal 15-round battle. (AP Wirephoto.)

NOTHING VERY CLEAR

Fight Fan Fraley Learned a Lesson

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UP) — Sugar Ray Robinson apparently is here to stay but as far as box fighting goes, there are three things which have to go. They are:

1. Watching them long distance by television.

2. Carmen Basilio, who up to now has defied the theory that a man can take only so much punishment.

3. The lady who sat in front of me, wore an ostrich feather in her hat and could have been no other than two-ton Tony Galento's big sister, three-ton.

In retrospect, after watching the cash register kid from Harlem take back the middleweight crown through the magic lantern at a Broadway theatre, it wasn't too bad really. I didn't have to make the trip back from Chicago.

It must be admitted that I use the word "watching" rather loosely. From my aerie in the peanut gallery, it was like tracking two trained seals through the wrong end of a telescope in a snowstorm. The picture may have been so fuzzy because on this night he didn't have to look sharp. The customers paid $5 a head and at those prices, oh happy day, you don't have to watch Mickey Mantle shave.

It was one of the few blessings.

Nothing was very clear, not even to the ring announcer. He introduced Spider Webb as a "pieces of fighting machine" while the camera was focused on Frankie Sinatra (featherweight) and George Raft (obviously grown into a heavy middleweight). Oh, yes, Hedda, Lauren wasn't there.

Life at Home Never Like This!

The lights went out as the participants clambered into the ring and the man in back of me said to his companion:

"Baby, run out in the kitchen and get me a beer."

Habit, no doubt.

The man in back of me came stumbling in with hot dogs and soft drinks, first sitting in my lap and then doing an Abbott to my Costello. Naturally I got the mustard and the drenching.

There were the usual amenities in the middle of the ring and then a fellow with 40-40 vision announced to those within the sound of any healthy tugboat that "they're off." He undoubtedly wandered in from Gulfstream.

To me it looked like two apprentice muggers practicing in the subway. I thought they made a mistake and picked up the re-run of "Dancing in the Dark" but somebody, either in Chicago or New York, pulled a switch or juggled a lever and in came a picture which was just about as good as the old Kaleidescope of "Birth of a Nation."

You could follow it pretty well, in all fairness, if you didn't mind getting a terrific headache.

I did, particularly when the lady in back of me stuffed a lighted cigaret in one of those ash trays on the back of the seat — my seat. About that time I thought it was Jimmy Cagney paying the extreme penalty, with physical effects.

"Fix up the eye, Sugar," somebody boomed in my ear.

He must have had inside information. I couldn't even make out Basilio's head.

But I see by the morning papers, the guy must have read the script. The next time, however, I'm going to be there in person. My eyes feel worse than Basilio's.

Floyd Scores KO In London Bout

LONDON (AP) — Cleveland Williams, hard-hitting heavyweight contender from Houston, Tex., Tuesday night stopped Welshman Dick Richardson in the fourth round of a 10-round bout at Empress Hall. Williams weighed 208½, Richardson 203.

Referee Frank Wilson stopped the right and disqualified the 23-year-old Richardson for "persistent butting." The Welsh milkman had been given several warnings.

Also featured on the program was an exhibition by world heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson who drew a roar from the sellout crowd of 10,000 when he dropped sparmate Dusty Rhodes with a left to the jaw.

Patterson's manager, Cus D'Amato, is trying to line up a title challenger for June.

James to Return To Hockey Leafs

TORONTO (CP) — Gerry James signed a 1958-59 contract with Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League Tuesday, ending months of uncertainty over whether he would continue playing hockey.

James, star fullback with Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the Western Interprovincial Football Union, will report to the Leafs after the conclusion of this year's football season. The right winger joined the hockey club on that basis last fall.

Acting manager Stafford Smythe also announced the signing of centre Brian Cullen for next season.

Colt League Slates Player Registrations

All boys wishing to play baseball in the Colt League this season are invited to attend a practice session at Windsor Park Sunday afternoon.

Players will be registered during a two-hour workout, which starts at 2.

Weary Sugar Silent

CHICAGO (AP) — Fabulous Sugar Ray Robinson played the role of a six-time champion to the hilt Tuesday night by barring reporters from his dressing room and holding a press conference hours later in his hotel suite.

"He's just too tired to talk now," said manager George Gainford right after Robinson had bettered Carmen Basilio for 15 rounds to regain the middleweight title of the world for the fourth time.

Sugar Ray, the one-time welterweight champion and five-time winner of the middleweight crown, was whisked to his hotel room. Lying in bed in a pair of blue and white striped pajamas, the weary champion answered questions softly and briefly.

"It was one of my toughest fights," said Robinson. "I'm tired, very tired. I haven't made up my mind what I'm going to do."

Robinson said Basilio "hurt me several times," but he said he was "very surprised" when he learned referee Frank Sikora had scored Basilio the winner.

VISION IMPAIRED

Robinson plans to return to New York late today.

Basilio, his left eye closed, swollen and discolored, talked about a return bout with the man whom he dethroned in 15 rounds in New York last Sept. 23.

Carmen said his vision was impaired from the fourth round on and kept him off balance. By the sixth round the eye was shut completely.

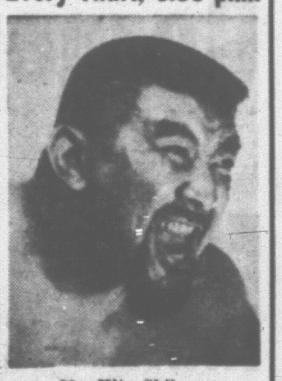

"I couldn't get my distance right," said Basilio. "If you can't get distance, you find yourself off balance."

"We want a return match," said co-manager Joe Netro.

While Basilio and his handlers talked freely of a possible third fight, there was no indication from the Robinson camp that there would be another one.

"We don't have any contract for a third fight," said Gainford. "You guys are talking to a man who just swam the English Channel and now that he's through, you're asking him if he's going to swim back."

Tennis Difficult at 3,000 Feet

Susan Butt, rated one of Canada's finest tennis prospects, is currently on a three-month tour of Florida and Caribbean tournaments. The 19-year-old Victoria girl is writing a series of articles exclusively for The Daily Times, telling her impressions of people, places and tennis on the winter circuit.

This is the 12th of the series.

By SUSAN BUTT

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico—They call it Caracas the beautiful and, looking back at our stay in that city during the Venezuelan tennis championships, I must admit I was rather impressed.

Susan

Caracas is beautiful and it has the reputation of being the richest, most modern and most expensive city in the world to live in.

The city lies in a mountain valley, 3,000 feet above sea level. It's difficult to play tennis at that altitude if you're not used to it. The lighter atmosphere makes ball control tricky and saps one's energy.

The mountains of Venezuala, with their oil and gold and minerals, have given Caracas its richness. But wealth also causes conflict and Caracas has gone through a reign of terror during the recent revolution.

Because of the political upheaval, it appeared for a time that the tournament would not be held.

The championships, held at the very fancy Altimira Tennis Club, were first class. The umpires were good; the ballboys trained almost to perfection, and transportation well arranged.

The club is a wealthy one and money is one thing that always makes a tournament easy to run. It was at this club that I saw bridge being played for $3 a point.

The weather was much too hot for tennis. These tropical places seem very unhealthful.

A number of players became quite ill because of changes in the climate, water and food.

It's hard to believe it when you see the city now, but people say that five years ago Caracas "was nothing." But now the tall buildings, fancy highways and other feats of engineering have set it apart from other places.

The old government, a dictatorship that fell because of the revolution, was supposedly responsible for building Caracas into the city it is today. They didn't seem to be afraid of spending money and examples of this can be seen all around.

One example of their free spending is a hotel (now called Hotel Humboldt) on top of a 7,000-foot mountain overlooking Caracas. At night, the hotel looks like a huge jewel hanging in the sky.

It can only be reached by a cable car which runs up the side of the mountain. Along with the hotel, there are also a few bars and dining rooms, an indoor swimming pool, an ice-skating rink and several ballrooms.

One morning all the tennis players were taken up to see the hotel. The ride on the cable car was a little frightening, but a beautiful one.

From the top, we saw Caracas lying below, a city of almost a million nestled in a long valley. And on the other side, we saw farm-studded slopes descending steeply into the sea.

I suppose I'll remember Caracas for a long time. For there, for the first time in my life, I lived in a penthouse.

Warriors Step Back Into First; Cats at New Westminster Tonight

By The Canadian Press

Although there are still five scheduled games left in the Coast Division of the Western Hockey League, it couldn't matter less. Nothing can change the present one-two-three position of Vancouver Canucks, New Westminster Royals and Seattle Americans.

But the Prairie Division is a horse from another racetrack.

Winnipeg Warriors and Edmonton Flyers are waging a ding-dong, neck-and-neck battle for the No. 1 playoff berth that may not be decided until they play their final games Saturday.

But if you want a crucial game tonight's meeting of the two clubs at Edmonton probably is as good as any.

In tonight's other WHL encounter, Victoria is at New Westminster.

Winnipeg appears to have a shade the better position for a division-winning windup.

Warriors have 79 points, one better than the Flyers. After tonight's game, they have one game left with the last-place Saskatoon-St. Paul Regals and a replay of a portion of a protested game.

The protested game ended Jan. 11 with a 5-4 overtime victory for Regals but president Al Leader ordered a replay from midway in the third period when Winnipeg was leading 4-2.

Edmonton after tonight has two games left with Calgary Stampeders.

Tuesday night Stampeders fell 6-2 before Warriors, who took over the division lead with an assist from Saskatoon-St. Paul. The Regals broke a 13-game losing streak to defeat Edmonton 6-5 and knock Flyers out of first place.

ROUGH GAME

The game in Saskatoon saw tempers flare continually but Regals led throughout the game —4-2 in the first period, 5-3 in tre second, and had a 6-3 lead before Edmonton snapped in the last two.

Les Colwill and Vic Lynn each tallied twice for Regals, Doc Couture and Ralph Keller getting singles. Gerry Leonard with two and Howie Yanoski, Cummie Burton and Dave Duke were Edmonton scorers.

In the Calgary game, Warriors spotted Calgary the first goal but took a 2-1 lead in the first period, made it 4-2 in the second and were in complete command in the closing period.

B.C. BOYS MAKE FRIENDS

Plenty of Praise But No Victories

LONDON (CP)—A 27-player group of British Columbia high school students is busy making friends and losing rugby matches.

The visiting Canadians, nine from each of three B.C. schools, were decisively beaten in the first five starts of their six-match tour of England and Scotland by schoolboy sides that outshone them in polish and ability to press home their scoring thrusts.

Sports writers generally note glaring deficiencies in the visitors' combination play and in their defensive organization, but they commend the Canadians' willingness to fight all the way and almost every account suggests that the score was more one-sided than the play.

TOP SCORERS

On the credit side are the frequent tributes to the running ability of Murray McAlpine and Ralph Vandersluys, both of Shawnigan Lake school, who have done most of the scoring for the visiting side.

Malcolm Burke, a third Shawnigan Lake member of the Canadian three-quarter line, also comes in for praise and Wilfred Lund of University School, Victoria; John Freer of St. George's School, Vancouver, and Peter Pratt of Shawnigan Lake are singled out as the best of the forwards.

Vandersluys kicked a penalty goal for the only B.C. score against Epsom College as the Canadians lost the fifth game of their tour, 18-3, at Epsom, Tuesday.

Better combination and a more direct attack gave Epsom two converted tries, a try and a penalty goal.

The visiting schoolboys will play their final match at Eton Thursday then will watch an international game between Wales and France at Cardiff, Saturday, before leaving for Amsterdam to start their return flight to Vancouver.

FIGHT RESULTS

CHICAGO (UP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, 159½, New York, outpointed Carmen Basilio, 153, Chittenango, N.Y., 15—won world's middleweight championship.

LONDON — Cleveland Williams, 208½, Houston, Tex. awarded decision over Dick Richardson, 203, Wales. (Richardson disqualified in fourth round for "persistent butting.")

MONTREAL-BOUND

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Alouettes announced that Paul Sharkaday, a 225-pound lineman from University of West Virginia, has signed a tryout contract for the 1958 football season.

Reardon Blaming Western Circuit

The four-year-old Edinburgh Trophy competition, emblematic of Canada's professional hockey championship, appears headed out the window for this season at least.

This is the feeling of Ken Reardon, vice-president of the Montreal Canadiens' hockey organization, who was commenting on a report from Seattle, Monday.

Al Leader, president of the Western Hockey League, said he doubts his league will challenge the Quebec League for the trophy this year. The leagues are Canada's only professional loops outside the National Hockey League.

Reardon, general manager of Shawinigan Cataracts when they won the Edinburgh Trophy in 1955, said "I don't see how we can possibly play the series this year because of the lateness of the finish of the Western League.

END EARLIER

"We will be through our playoffs at the end of April, which would mean we would have to wait two weeks for the Western champion. Financially, it would not be feasible for our teams."

The Western League playoffs are expected to run until about May 10.

Two QHL clubs, Shawinigan and defending champion Quebec Aces, have declared they won't travel west this year to play for the trophy, should they take the Quebec championship.

One touch of irony is that the series has been a money-maker. A QHL official said Tuesday the junior pros have made $50,000 in four years of playoffs. "No one has lost money," he said.

MANCHESTER MOVES INTO CUP FINAL

LONDON (Reuters) — A battling young Manchester United soccer team defeated Fulham 5-3 today to advance into the final for England's prized Football Association cup.

The game was a replay of last Saturday's cup semi-final against Fulham, in which the South London club fought the Football League defending champions to a 2-2 draw on neutral ground in Birmingham.

GREATEST V-8 ADVANCE IN 25 YEARS

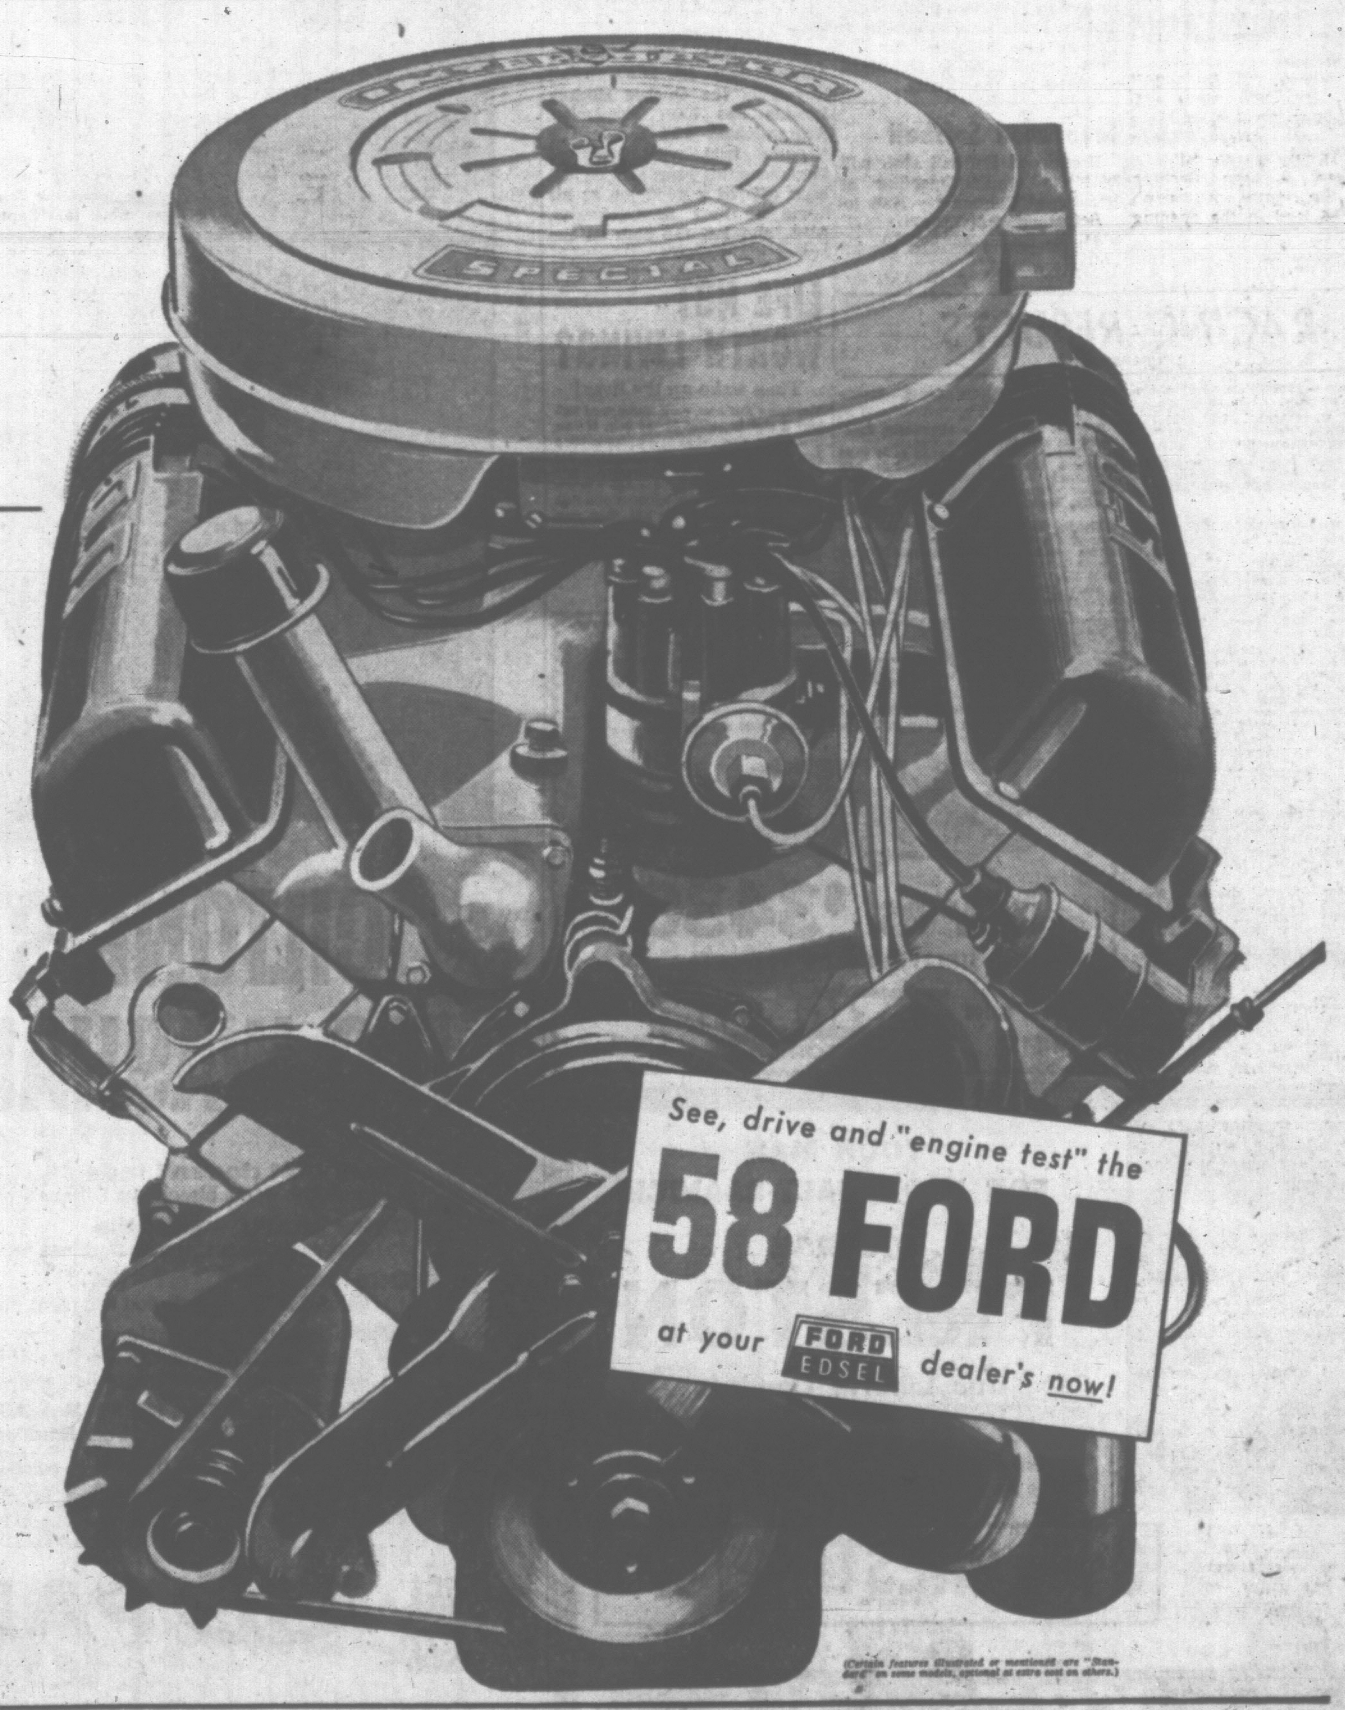

Meet Ford's new, mighty INTERCEPTOR V-8—with PRECISION FUEL INDUCTION—the finest engine ever produced in Ford's quarter-century of V-8 leadership.

DESIGNED to meet the heavier, more complex demands of today's driving, the Ford Interceptor—240, 265 and 303-hp—is a completely new and revolutionary kind of engine. Combustion chambers, for example, are wedge-shaped and "machined-smooth" for faster, more even burning . . . uniformly high compression ratios . . . and greatest possible power from every drop of fuel. Deep-Block Design, a Ford quality feature, extends the engine casing farther down, well below the crankshaft for extra support and rigidity . . . and a minimum of wear from engine vibration.

Every Ford V-8 has been "pre-tested"—mass-balanced electronically—while running under its own power in the factory. With vibration damped out ahead of time, the engine in your new Ford runs far more smoothly, far more efficiently, from the very first moment you drive!

PRECISION FUEL INDUCTION

Precision Fuel Induction lies at the heart of the Interceptor's incredible performance record. This amazing new system of fuel delivery speeds the gas-air mixture directly from carburetor to combustion chambers through 8 large, "expressway" manifolds. Result? A more equal, balanced charge to every cylinder . . . easier, freer engine breathing . . . and smoother, far more economical performance.

See, drive and "engine test" the

Dave's a Chip Off Old Block

By United Press

Dave Sisler seems ready at last to carry on in the tradition of one of baseball's most famous families.

The son of hall of famer George Sisler, a .500-pitcher for the Boston Red Sox in his first two big league seasons, Dave is the hottest hurler on the grapefruit circuit. He's pitched nine innings of no-hit ball and retired the last 27 batters he's faced in order. The only man to reach base on him this spring—the first batter he faced—was safe on an error.

BIG FELLOW

Sisler, a 27-year-old right-hander, stands 6 feet 4 inches and weighs 200 pounds, turned in five more perfect innings Tuesday when the Red Sox beat the Milwaukee Braves, 4-3. The Red Sox won by rallying for three runs in the sixth inning against Bob Buhl after the Braves built a 3-1 lead at the expense of Tom Brewer.

Sisler had a 9-8 record and 4.63 earned run average in 1956 and last season had a 7-8 mark and a 4.72 ERA.

Sisler's performance Tuesday was the best of several outstanding pitching jobs that could lead to opening-day assignments.

Don Drysdale continued his fine spring showing when he hurled six shutout innings in the Los Angeles Dodgers' 8-0 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. Clem Labine, ace Dodger reliever, pitched the last three innings. It was the second straight shutout for the Cardinals.

PURKEY WINS

Bob Purkey, a key winter acquisition from the Pittsburgh Pirates, became the first Cincinnati pitcher to go nine innings this spring when he beat the Washington Senators, 3-1, on five hits.

Chicago Cubs walloped the San Francisco Giants, 15-4; Baltimore Orioles scored an 8-5 win over Cleveland Indians; Philadelphia Phillies rallied to down New York Yankees, 5-4, and the Kansas City Athletics beat Detroit Tigers, 8-6, in other games.

Dale Long, who went on a record homer binge for the Pirates two years ago, hit three homers and just missed a fourth as the Cubs combed three San Francisco pitchers for 21 hits. Ernie Banks and Chuck Tanner also homered for the Cubs while Willie Kirkland homered for the Giants.

Babur Repeats In Lincolnshire

LONDON (CP) — The pulse-beats quickening in a familiar seasonal tempo despite alternating wet and wintry weather; the indomitable British horse-player donned his betting boots today and confronted the first real conundrum of the 1958 flat-racing campaign.

The challenge: the Lincolnshire Handicap, a ragged, one-mile cavalry charge, starting with a dog-leg bend that usually eliminates horses drawn on the inside.

It is one of the trickiest speculative events of the year, as vulnerable to Aunt Susie's hatpin as the careful calculations of chalk players, but nothing less than a strait-jacket will keep the big bettors from going for the bundle.

Besides, if you do happen to spear the winner of this first half of the spring double, you can parlay the proceeds on a hopeful selection in Saturday's Grand National Steeplechase, another highly hazardous race that annually transfers several million pounds from one pocket to another.

If that licks, too, you will collect enough cash to survive the season in comfort.

Babur, a big bay owned by Captain S. Riley Lord, won today's big handicap, contested at a somewhat antique racetrack in the cathedral city of Lincoln.

Ridden by Australian jockey Edgar Britt and carrying top weight of 126 pounds, Babur won the season's first major race by 1½ lengths. It was the second year in a row Babur won the Lincolnshire.

Second was James McLean's Who-You, and C. L. Gilman's Statford was third.

Odds on the three were Babur 25 to 1, Who-You 28 to 1 and Statford 28 to 1.

ACK ACK QUITS

MONTREAL (CP) — Gene Achtymichuk of Montreal Royals in the Quebec Hockey League has been suspended. Achtymichuk, 25, who had a 16-game trial with Montreal Canadiens this year, said he had been offered a good job at his home at Fort Saskatchewan, Alta., and left the club on the eve of the playoffs.

Esks, Lions Haul Promoter Into Courts

VANCOUVER (BUP) — Two Canadian exhibition football games played in Oregon and California by British Columbia Lions and Edmonton Eskimos last August were artistic successes, but it appeared today that financially they were a bust — at least to the competing teams.

Lions and the Eskimos of the Western Division of the Canadian Football League Monday instituted proceedings to sue Vancouver promoter A. Forbes Crawford and the General Insurance Company of America for recovery of $38,000. The two clubs claim Crawford owes them the money for the two exhibition games.

The first game was played at Portland, Ore., and drew 11,000 and the second in San Francisco drew about 13,000. Edmonton won both games.

Legal proceedings were started in the British Columbia Supreme Court in Vancouver.

Senior Hoop Final Under Way Friday

EDMONTON (CP) — Edmonton Towne Hallers qualified for the Western Canada senior men's basketball final by defeating Winnipeg Kodiaks 68-60 Tuesday night.

Edmonton took the best-of-three semi-final in two straight, winning 77-55 Monday.

Towne Hallers meet Eilers in Vancouver Friday night in the first game of the best-of-five final series. Other games will be played in Vancouver Saturday and Monday, and if necessary, Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

A crowd of 650 saw Edmonton lead 35-35 at half time. Winnipeg took a 4-0 lead at the start of the game but after three straight field goals by Johnny Bright, Eskimo football star, Edmonton held the lead for the rest of the game.

Leading scorer for Edmonton was another Eskimo star, Oscar Kruger with 16, 12 of the points scored on foul shots. Don Munro potted 15 points for Towne Hallers. Mitch Czaja and Dick Herbertson both scored 16 points for Kodiaks.

Longacres Track Has Early Start

SEATTLE (AP) — Longacres horse race track at Renton will open on Memorial Day, May 30, this year, the earliest date in the history of the track.

The opening date of a 63-day meet has been granted by the Washington State Horse Racing Commission.

The track will operate on a three-day, Friday, Saturday and Sunday basis from May 30 through June 22. It will then swing into a five-day shift until closing on Labor Day, Sept. 1.

HOMEBREW ACES

EDMONTON (CP) — Two players, both natives of Edmonton, have renewed contracts with the Edmonton Eskimos of the Western Football Conference. They are centre and guard Don Barry, 27, who signed up for his seventh season with the club, and sophomore fullback Jim Shipka.

INCOME TAX TIPS

Salesmen Must Support Claims

As a special service to Times readers, Gordon Holms, Victoria chartered accountant, has agreed to provide a series of articles dealing with income tax problems to help eliminate the trouble sometimes experienced in filing proper returns.

By GORDON HOLMS

Commission salesmen are in the same category as professional men and may use page four of the T-1 general form to prepare 1957 statement of income tax and expenses.

These salesmen usually report their incomes on the cash basis. This means the total 1957 cash received or credited to your account — where the monies were available to you — less normal cash expenses paid to earn this income.

Normally your total 1957 income will be shown on the T-4 slip or statement of earnings supplied by the employer.

KEEP RECORDS

However, if you are an independent salesman, you must keep track by maintaining adequate records which can be requested by the tax department for scrutiny.

Let's talk about allowable expenses for which you must have receipts for all charges claimed:

Car expenses will include gas, oil, repairs, insurance and licence and depreciation, as calculated by filling in the schedule at bottom of page four of the T-1 general form. These allowable expenses are reduced by an amount attributed to personal use. This amount is determined by the facts in each individual case. Travelling between your home and place of business is considered personal use.

Other allowable expenses are office rent, light, wages and supplies.

In the case of salesmen, travelling and entertainment expenses must be carefully accounted for, as with car expenses. The tax department does not expect a receipt for every meal purchased, but does expect you to keep a diary or some similar record to back your claim.

A salesmen who has claimed expenses and has received an allowance from his employer for part of these expenses, must add this expense allowance to his commission income and not deduct it from expenses claimed.

When in doubt about allowability of an expense, call on the tax people in the Belmont Building.

To get a few things for supper;
But when she came there
The cupboard was bare,
And her husband began to mutter:

"If she went to Low Cost
To buy me some bread,
I'd know the woman I married
Was using her head.

For there's no doubt about it,
We'd save enough money
To fill up that cupboard,
Which, when empty, ain't funny!"

The Day Christ Died

By JIM BISHOP

(A Condensation of The Book)

INSTALMENT 16

11 A.M., APRIL 7, AD 30 (Con.)

The signs listing the crimes of the three prisoners were hastily painted, and when the high priests saw the one for Jesus, marked "King of the Jews," they became excited and upset and called for an immediate audience with Pontius Pilate.

They were admitted, and as one final favor asked that the sign be changed. They did not want the public to see Jesus proclaimed king of the Jews. He wasn't, and He did not pretend to be. Still, they did not dare say this.

So they said as politely as they could, "Do not let your inscription be, King of the Jews (The sign in Aramaic: 'Jeshu han nostri malka dihudaey.' In Latin: 'Hic est Juses rex Judaeorum.'), but: "He said, 'I am the king of the Jews.'" At this, the procurator smiled grimly and said: "My inscription stands."

The sign was made as Pilate wanted it made. A laborer at the fortress used thin pine boards, about two feet long by one foot high, and these were coated with a whitish substance, like lead or gypsum. On it he lettered the words in black. At the execution grounds, the sign would be placed at the top of the cross for all to see.

Grim Preparations

Abenadar was an efficient soldier. He had drawn this duty before and knew the items he had to requisition—from soldiers to saddles to signs. He ordered a detail sent to fetch the two thieves from the dungeon, and these were placed in single file behind Jesus. A platoon of legionaries formed a box around the prisoners. The soldiers were armed with spears. Three guards arrayed themselves in front of each of the three condemned men. These carried the signs proclaiming the identity and crime of each.

'Trees Ordered'

The centurion ordered the "trees" from the supply room, and three soldiers left ranks to get them. Abenadar hurried back and forth across the courtyard on his several errands. He talked briefly with the executioner, a soldier who had been trained for this in Rome and who understood the exact ritual. He drew rations for the soldiers who would have to stand guard under the crosses.

When everything was ready, the "trees" were placed on the right shoulder of each of the three criminals. This was the cross-piece only; the upright part of the cross was always left standing at the place of execution and was used many times.

The crosspiece was of cypress, about three inches by five inches and about six feet long. It weighed perhaps 30 pounds, and was fashioned roughly with an adze by the executioner.

Detail of Cross

In the bottom of the cross-piece, at the centre, was an oblong mortise so that the crosspiece would fit over the upright piece. The sign would be nailed here and the spikes would lock both pieces of the cross together.

Each man shouldered his tree, and this too was done as ritually prescribed. The prisoners' wrists were bound together with rope which permitted a distance of about six inches between hands. As the crossbeam was placed on the right shoulder, the two hands curled over opposite sides of the beam, which jutted about 30 inches in front of the condemned, and about 42 inches behind him, diagonally to the left.

Tied to Hands

If, in his agony of anticipation, the hands slipped off the beam, the short rope between wrists kept it from sliding to the street in front of the soldier marching behind. (There were other customs, including tying the beam across the back of the shoulders; but all the evidence indicates that the Romans in Palestine used the system of crucifixion as here described.)

When the column was fully formed, the centurion walked the length of it and found it satisfactory. He called a forward march, and the little parade started through the archway. The few high priests moved aside and watched Jesus stagger as He started out under His burden.

Golgatha-Calvary

The road from the arch to Golgotha (its name at the time of the crucifixion was Golgotha — "skull-like", "Calvary" was taken into our language from the Greek translation) was almost exactly 1,000 paces—about 3,000 feet. The first part of the march was by a narrow road, hardly more than 12 feet wide, up a slight incline, then sharply down into the valley below.

Along the sides of the road, pilgrims pressed against the walls and argued loudly for guilt or innocence as the parade moved by. The legionaries moved the crowds back, when necessary with their spears, and the soldier who led the procession on a horse shouted continuously for the people to make way for the soldiers of Rome.

Steps Faltered

At the bottom of the hill, Abenadar turned his column to the left. Jesus made the turn, following those in front, but He was so faint He could not take the next step forward.

The Messiah felt that He was falling, but He could not free His bound hands from the beam and, in a moment, He had pitched downward. He landed on His right knee and both elbows, and the crosspiece hung standing for a split second, and then fell away from Him.

The centurion wanted everything to be orderly. But after a quick glance at the muddy face, and the fresh rivulets of blood starting from the thorns on the right side of Jesus' head, he knew that it was useless, in front of a crowd, to order this Man to stand up and again shoulder the beam.

Substitute Found

The Roman did the next best thing. He studied the people in the crowd to find a man strong enough to shoulder the tree for the rest of the journey. He saw a farmer with brown bulging biceps, a man with a big dome of a head and a black beard. Abenadar beckoned to him and ordered him to pick up the crossbeam and carry it.

The farmer cursed the moment he had permitted his curiosity to bring him to the front of the crowd. He was on his way from his farm to the city. His name was Simon of Cyrene. He was not a Jew, but a pagan (he gave his children pagan names: Rufus and Alexander), and he was a prosperous man who did not want to be a party, however unwilling, to the problems of the Romans or the Jews.

Simon of Cyrene did as he was told. He picked the crossbeam up out of the dust and with a grimace, threw it over his shoulder. He was ready. But Jesus lay on His right side, gasping. Abenadar reached down and lifted Him by the arm. Then he ordered the column forward. The pathetic parade moved down the street to the south, then turned right. Ahead was a formidable hill leading to the Gennath Gate. The walk to the cross was a little more than half finished.

Under the law, sympathy toward an accused was permitted; sympathy toward one condemned was forbidden. However, there was a society of charitable women of Jerusalem (chaburat ir).

As Jesus dragged His feet up the long hill, He was in such acute pain that His breath could be heard by the citizens who watched, and among them were these charitable women. Their hearts were moved and, when one of them burst into tears, all began to sob.

Final Prophecy

The Messiah stopped. His gaze turned shakily from one woman to the next until He had seen them all and had seen the reality of the tears—the first shed for His death. Then in a strained voice He warned the women of the impending pillage of their city:

"Daughters of Jerusalem," He said slowly and with massive effort, "do not weep for Me; weep for yourselves and your children; for, mark My words, a time is coming when people will say 'How blessed the barren are! How blessed the wombs that have never borne children, and the breasts that have never nursed!'

"Then they will actually cry out to the mountains, 'Fall upon us!' and to the hills 'Bury us!'" For the final time, Jesus was a prophet and He had reserved His last warning for the women who were good of heart and who could bear to look upon a strange man reduced almost to the last breath of life.

Sinners, Dry Wood

"Yes," He said, nodding His head slowly, "if this is done to the green wood, what must be the fate of the dry?" (Jesus was the green wood, the new wood. The sinners were the dry wood. If they would do this to Him, what would they to to the jaded and the callous? In 40 years, those who were left of these women, and their children, would see the horrors of unspeakable terror at the siege of Jerusalem.)

Abenadar came running back and urged the column to continue its march. The marchers started up again, and Jesus lifted a foot and brought it forward and set it down. Then, mechanically, He began the effort of lifting the other one and trying to move it ahead.

Beyond the horseman up ahead, Jesus could see the Gennath Gate. It had been a long difficult road for the Galilean, and it was almost a consolation to know that a few more steps would bring Him to the pinnacle of His promise — the chance to die for everyone.

Jesus is crucified. The moment for which He was born has at last arrived — a moment not of defeat, but of glory everlasting. Follow Jim Bishop's realistic account of the Crucifixion in Thursday's instalment of "The Day Christ Died."

U.K. HOME SHOW STARS B.C. TIMBER

LONDON (CP)—An exhibition of Canadian-style houses built from British Columbia timber opened in London on Tuesday.

Prominent were models of 11 houses designed by a panel of British architects under sponsorship of the British Columbia Lumber Manufacturers' Association. The exhibition will be open to the general public until April 3.

The design panel was chosen from more than 300 applicants. The 10 successful architects will visit British Columbia and Alberta at the end of April.

The houses are designed to demonstrate that timber frame construction can be used imaginatively for homes suitable for the needs of a broad cross-section of the public. They range from terraced rural cottages costing £1,800, to a ranch-house style, three-bedroom home costing £5,000.

All the houses have central heating and are insulated. features once rare in British homes.

OFFICIALS HAPPY WITH JOINT CAMPAIGN

Church Giving Boosted 25%

An eight-church fund-raising campaign here realized an overall increase in giving of 25 per cent.

St. Paul's United Church, Sidney, led the field with a 127 per cent increase, it was reported at a dinner meeting Monday night.

Last year collections in the church totalled $5,700. This year the congregation has pledged $12,800. The goal was exceeded by 27 per cent.

Aggregate goal of the churches was a 75 per cent increase, $164,000. Amount raised in pledges was $147,000, as compared to a total income of $117,000 to the churches last year.

"With the unemployment situation as it is, we are quite happy at the outcome," local director Rev. D. R. Pilkey said.

Some 375 members of participating congregations have not yet been called on, he said.

Increases in other churches follow:

Metropolitan United, 15 per cent; Oak Bay United, 30 per cent; Esquimalt United, 40 per cent; Wilkinson Road United, 35 per cent; Knox Presbyterian, Sooke, 22 per cent; Erskine Presbyterian, 72 per cent, and Knox Presbyterian, Victoria, 52 per cent.

ACROSS THE PROVINCE

Council Blasts Grey Cup Group

(From CP Dispatches)

VANCOUVER—Vancouver's 1957 Grey Cup parade committee was sharply criticized by city council Tuesday for overspending its budget. Council was told there was a shortage of $3,652 which the city might be called upon to make good.

The committee spent $23,547 sending B.C. floats, bands, and other entrants to the 1957 Grey Cup parade in Toronto. Total contributions were $19,985 of which the city contributed $6,000 and the provincial government $6,000.

Purpose of the entries was to promote interest in B.C.'s centennial.

"I'm getting fed up with committees which spend more money than they have," said Alderman George Miller.

Ald. Earle Adams described the entire effort as "hogwash," and charged that the money was spent "like a drunken sailor."

City council will decide next Tuesday how the deficit is to be met.

N.Z. BEEF DUE

VANCOUVER — The first cargo of New Zealand beef to arrive here in several years is due this week aboard the Danish vessel Egyptian Reefer.

An official of North Pacific Shipping Company, agents for the vessel, said 400 tons of New Zealand meat, both beef and lamb, will be unloaded here for Vancouver packing houses. He said it is the first such consignment to arrive here for "five or six years."

The vessel already has called at Seattle to unload 865 tons of its 2,200-ton meat cargo.

PRISON ESCAPEE CAUGHT

VANCOUVER—Two escapees from an Oakalla prison work party were captured Tuesday within four hours.

Jack Robert Manson, 20, of Vancouver, and Spurgeon Stanton, 23, made their dash for liberty at 11 a.m. from a fence-building work party east of the prison in suburban Burnaby.

Dressed in his prison denims, Stanton was captured within one-half hour by three prison guards in heavy bush.

Manson, the object of a search by 50 prison guards and RCMP with a tracking dog, was caught in the Deer Lake area just after 3 p.m. He offered no resistance.

JAILED FOR THEFT

PENTICTON — Two Kelowna youths, Alfred Seiwert, 21, and Edward Hennig, 19, were each sentenced Tuesday to two months in jail when they pleaded guilty to stealing a loudspeaker from a drive-in theatre here Saturday night.

NEW COMMISSIONER

KINNAIRD — J. C. McLeod was elected to the village commission by 133 votes to 27 for E. C. Ackerman in a by-election made necessary by the resignation of Joseph Logelin, now village clerk in Castlegar.

Island's Lone Fish Hatchery To Close Down

Provincial Gov't Economy Measure

COURTENAY (CP) — Economy measures of the provincial government will close Vancouver Island's only fish hatchery, on the Puntledge River here.

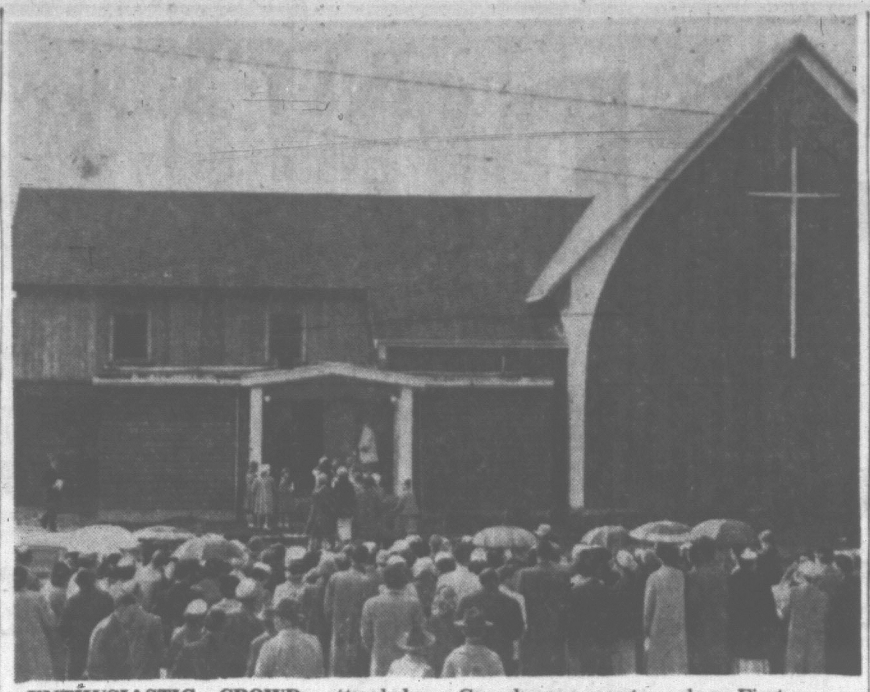

Hatchery manager Jack Phelps was ordered Tuesday to close the plant by April 20. In operation for 10 years, the plant has raised 120,000 steelhead and cut-throat trout annually for stocking Vancouver Island streams for sports fishermen.

Shutdown will save an estimated $15,000 annually.

Mr. Phelps will be transferred to Kelowna and his assistant, Darryl Bissel, to Cultus Lake.

Closure of the Puntledge hatchery leaves only three others in B.C., at Cultus Lake, Summerland and Nelson. Any future stocking of Island lakes and streams will have to be done by tanker truck from the mainland.

About 9,000 young steelhead now at the hatchery will be liberated. Another 26,000 fry likely will be shipped to Cultus Lake.

ENTHUSIASTIC CROWD attended opening Saturday of new Lake Cowichan United Church, when Rev. Peter Kelly, DD, of Nanaimo, president of B.C. Conference of United Church in Canada, was guest speaker. First services were held Sunday, and congregational dinner was held Monday. (Flett Studio Photo.)

Mother, 6 Children Escape Duncan Fire

DUNCAN (CP)—A mother and six children escaped injury Tuesday when fire destroyed their three-room home near here.

Mrs. Albert Erickson and three of her children stayed with neighbors after the fire while the other children slept in a shack converted into a bedroom.

Fire Chief Pat Clackson said he believed the fire started from a cigaret.

Peter Thornton, Red Cross disaster chairman for this area, said Vancouver headquarters will forward bedding and other supplies for the family, and Cowichan Valley Red Cross Society planned to spend $200 on clothing for the family today.

EARLY NANAIMO PIONEER DEAD

A native of Nanaimo and widow of the man who perfected the flotation system for separating most mining ores, Mrs. Lucy Bate Davys died in Seattle Sunday, aged 91.

Mrs. Davys and her husband spent most of their lives in B.C.'s interior where he was a mining engineer. He died 10 years ago.

Mrs. Davys was the daughter of the late Mark Bate, manager of the Nanaimo coal mines.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Hugh MacQueen in Seattle.

Panel Talk On Access For Hunters

NANAIMO (CP) — Should hunters be given access to B.C.'s leased forest lands?

That is the main question to come up for panel discussion at the annual meeting of the Vancouver Island section of the Canadian Institute of Forestry here Friday night.

Karl Highsted of the B.C. Forest Service will moderate the panel, to include Don Robinson, B.C.'s chief game biologist; Bob Chisholm, logging manager, and R. W. Johnson, Vancouver lawyer.

The section will also elect its officers for the year.

Rummage Sale Set By Legion Auxiliary

CHEMAINUS — Canadian Legion Auxiliary will hold a rummage sale April 19 in conjunction with a coffee bar and food stall.

Mrs. Pat Crabbe will be official delegate to the Trail convention in May. Provincial president Mrs. S. McDonald will be guest at the meeting April 1.

HARMFUL TO SALMON

Sportsmen Protest Removal of Gravel

CHEMAINUS — A resolution protesting removal of gravel from river beds as harmful to salmon spawning grounds will be put before the B.C. Federation of Fish and Game Clubs by Chemainus Rod and Gun Club.

The federation will hold its annual convention in Penticton May 1, 2 and 3.

The Chemainus resolution will urge that there "be the greatest public objection and resistance to the desecration of salmon fisheries by the wilful destruction of reproductive stocks safely on the spawning grounds."

It was drafted as the result of an incident last year when a commercial firm removed gravel from Chemainus River. Game club members claimed thousands of salmon eggs were destroyed.

A second resolution will urge that all hunting accidents be investigated fully, and that charges of manslaughter be laid if there is sufficient evidence.

New $300,000 Ferry Wharf Promised Sidney

SIDNEY—Tenders will be called this summer for a $300,000 ferry wharf to speed up ferry service between here and Anacortes, Defence Minister G. R. Pearkes announced here Tuesday night.

The wharf will be completed in about 12 months, he said. It will be at the foot of Second Avenue, close to the present wharf on Beacon Avenue, and will not be reserved solely for Washington State Ferries, operators of the present service.

FOR OTHERS TOO

"If some other company wants to operate out of here they will be able to use the facilities of the new wharf," he said.

"Work will be pushed forward as soon as possible," he said, "and by this time next year the existing government wharf will be freed for the development of a first-class small boat harbor."

ISLAND DIGEST

Coast League Soccer Assured For Nanaimo

NANAIMO (CP) — Official opening of the local Pacific Coast Soccer League season April 19 was assured Monday as parks board officials and Nanaimo City Football Club representatives Gogi Stewart and Jack Steel met at City Hall.

Seating for about 1,400 persons is expected to be ready for the opening, while a gondola for press and radio is to be constructed between the bleachers.

During their business session, parks officials accepted with regret the resignation of Noel Thompson from the board. He will be replaced by a city council appointee.

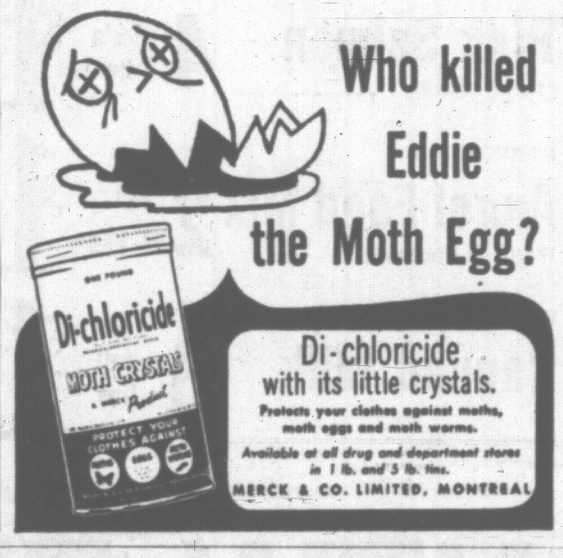

Worker Died Accidentally Jury Rules

NANAIMO (CP) — An inquest jury here Monday returned an "accidental death" verdict in the March 22 death of Harry MacDonald, 54.

He was killed when a tractor which he was driving plunged into a giant hopper at Harmac pulp mill—crushing him beneath it.

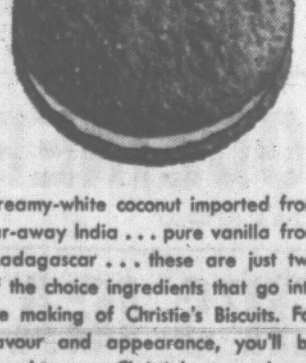

There were no witnesses to the accident.

VICTORIA, B.C., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 26, 1958 21

'Old Sidewheeler' Ready for First Trial Run

Preparing for first trial run as captain of the good ship Commodore is Lieut.-Cmdr. Harold Lawrence, (far left) with his first mate, Lieut. Ed. McFayden. The former naval research vessel HMCS Cedarwood has been converted into a replica of the side-wheel steamer Commodore which arrived in Victoria in 1858 with gold-hungry pioneers abroad.

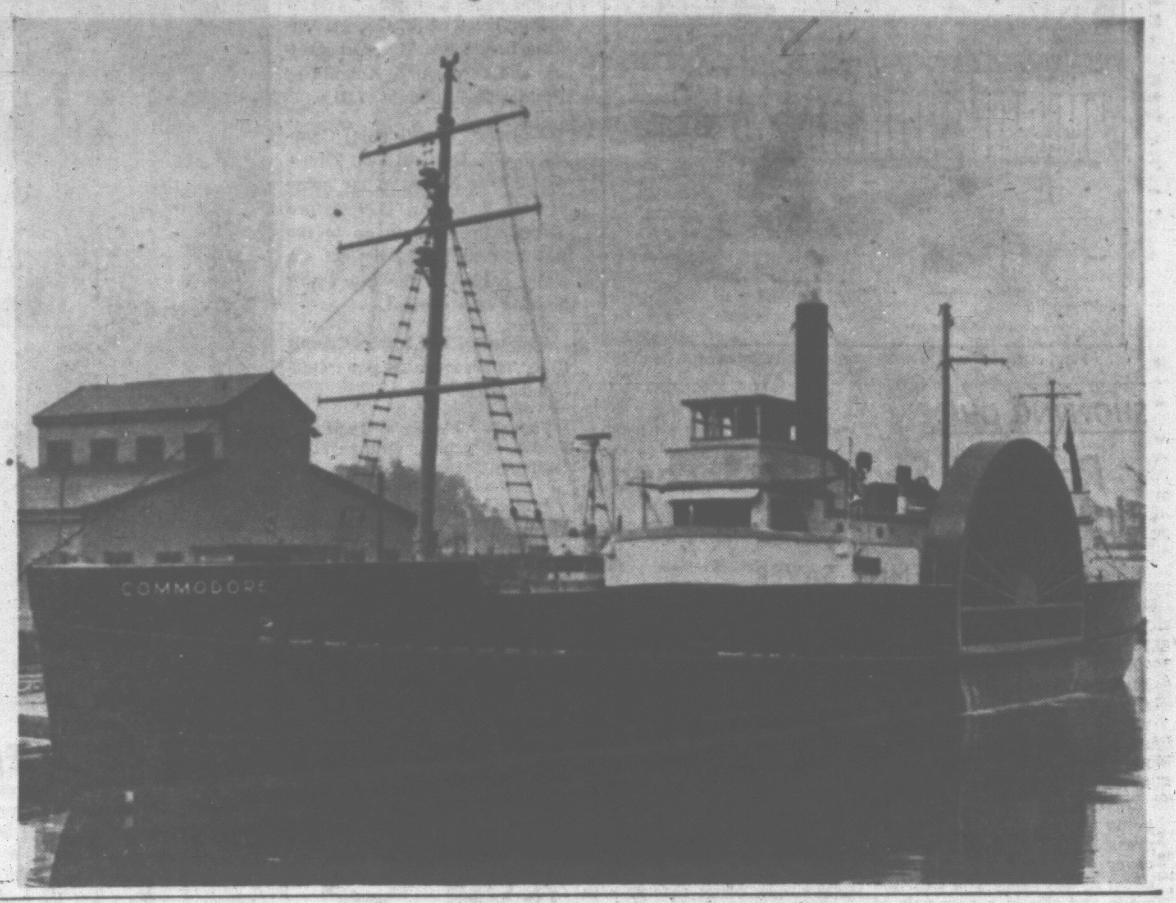

Re-enactment of this historic event will be one of the features of the Centennial Year. Today the Commodore tried out her simulated paddle wheels in the approaches to Esquimalt harbor.

At 2 p.m. Thursday she will leave her moorings at HMCS Naden with an official centennial committee party on board, for a two-hour run in Juan de Fuca Strait.

The hull of the old Cedarwood has been completely repainted, false bulwarks built to raise the height of the ship, masts and yards added, and a pilothouse built above the wheelhouse.

The reproduction is a faithful copy of the original Commodore. Work was done at HMC Dockyard.

Re-enactment of the actual landing here will be carried out on April 26. A detachment of RCN personnel has been "told off" to grow beards and act the part of the arriving minres. (Times photos.)

MONTE ROBERTS

I have long been an admirer of Capt. Lorenzo Lysons Atwood, VRD, RCN, better known as "Bud."

I had the privilege of meeting him for the first time when he was Chief of Staff to the Flag Officer, Pacific Coast. We met on the bridge of the cruiser Quebec, as the guests of Pat Budge, and started a sort of mutual admiration society.

Atwood

Over the months, I found much to like about Bud. Sense of humor which bordered on the sense of the ridiculous; keen mind; lovely wife; wildcat-type but likeable children.

But just today, I found another quality in Bud Atwood even more deserving of admiration.

Capt. Atwood is a man of great courage.

I know, because a new, official photograph of Capt. Atwood has just arrived from naval headquarters, at Ottawa.

And do you know what my friend is wearing in this photograph?

My friend is wearing a monocle.

Now, it is a tribute to the skill and perseverence of a man if he is ABLE to wear a monocle.

(Whether it is a tribute that he would WANT to wear one is something else again.)

I suspect there are many secret monocle-wearers.

But for a man to come right out in public, and wear a monocle in his official Royal Canadian Navy photograph—a photograph distributed to every daily newspaper in Canada—a photograph which is apt to get itself published almost anywhere, even here—this calls for a type of bravery far and above anything I can conceive.

Incidentally, I see Bud's newest job is director of Naval Intelligence at Ottawa.

All that courage—and intelligence, too?

All Workers Stay Off Mansion Job

Teamsters Cause Complete Shutdown

The rush job of constructing Government House was stopped in its tracks this morning when no workers showed up.

About 75 carpenters and laborers, carrying out a decision reached Tuesday, stayed away from the project because of teamster picket lines.

The mass refusal to cross the picket lines ended two days of confusion which saw some carpenters staying on the job while others packed up their tools because of the "on strike" placards borne by the teamsters.

RETALIATION

The pickets were set up against the contractor, John Laing and Son (Canada) Ltd., in retaliation for lockouts of the union by Heavy Construction Association of B.C. members on the mainland.

No teamsters were employed on the Government House job but the striking Vancouver Teamsters Local 213 is certified as bargaining agent with the company on a province-wide basis.

53c HOURLY

The union is striking against the construction association for implementation of a 53-cent an hour wage increase recommended by a conciliation board.

A company spokesman said the teamsters strike should not delay the November completion target unless it lasts a further two weeks.

Horse Racing Dates Approved By Government

The provincial government today approved horse racing dates for the 1958 season, including 14 days at Sandown Park, Sidney.

Kempton Park Ltd. has been authorized to operate races at Sandown Sept. 13, 17, 18, 19 and 20. Goodwood Park Ltd. will operate the track Sept. 24, 25, 26, 27 and Oct. 1, 2, 3, 4 and 6.

Racing dates approved for the Vancouver area are:

Lansdowne Park, Richmond: June 13, 14, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28; July 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 7, 8, 12, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 23, 24, 25, 26, 28, 29, 30, 31; Aug. 1, 2, 4.

Exhibition Park, Vancouver: May 16, 17, 19, 21, 23, 24, 26, 28, 30, 31; June 2, 4, 6, 7, 9; Aug. 7, 8, 9, 11, 13, 14, 15, 16, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30; Sept. 1, 5, 6, 8.

Five-Mile Danger Area for Planes at 'Big Rip' Blast

Aircraft will not be allowed within five miles of the Ripple Rock explosion April 5, the air services branch of the transport department announced today.

The restriction will extend over a three-hour period beginning one hour before the scheduled time of the explosion, or from 8.30 to 11.30 a.m.

The warning applies to all heights over the area, since it is felt danger to aircraft from flying rock and air concussion would be appreciable.

In addition, rockets will be sent to heights of at least 14,000 feet in connection with certain scientific tests to be held in conjunction with the blast.

If the blast is delayed because of poor weather, the restriction will be rescheduled for from 9.30 a.m. to 12.30 p.m., April 6, and for 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., April 7.

R. L. CHALLONER

Ex-Box Firm President Dies at 59

Victoria - born businessman Robert Lindsay Challoner, 1663 Rockland, died at his home Tuesday after a brief illness.

Mr. Challoner, 59, had been president and manager of Victoria Box and Paper Ltd., until retirement in 1957.

He founded the firm in 1926 with the re-organization of Davis and Schmelk into Victoria Paper Box Co. This was developed further in 1934 under the present name.

An enthusiastic golfer, Mr. Challoner had been captain of Uplands Golf Club, and a member of Victoria Golf Club. He also was a member of First United Church, the Union Club, and past president of Victoria Gyro Club.

Born in 1898, the son of pioneer city jeweler W. L. Challoner, he attended University School here and the Royal Military College at Kingston, Ont.

OVERSEAS

On graduation in 1916, Mr. Challoner served overseas with the Royal Engineers as lieutenant until 1919. He was awarded the Military Cross for gallantry.

During the Second World War he was a lieutenant in the reserve force and later a major commanding the 39th Field Battery, RCA (R).

Surviving are the widow Eileen at home; one daughter, Mrs. Richard Greaves, San Francisco; one son, FO Robert Russell Challoner, Penhold, Alta.; one sister, Mrs. Florence Challoner Huston, Salem, Ore., and relatives in eastern Canada and southern California.

In 1954, Mr. Challoner had the honor of presenting wings of the RCAF to his son at a ceremony in Winnipeg.

He was predeceased by another daughter, Beverley Eileen, in 1943.

Funeral arrangements are in the charge of Hayward's B.C. Funeral Home.

Minister Urges Teachers To Withdraw Strike Threat

Dispute Flares For Second Day At Kamloops

The dispute between B.C. teachers and municipal school authorities over salary negotiations flared on a second front today at Kamloops.

Twenty-two of 47 teachers at the 1,100-student Kamloops High School offered themselves in a "package deal" to any other school that would give them a job.

They claimed their salaries were fixed without negotiation and that Kamloops teachers stay at the bottom of the heap in B.C."

The 22 teachers include principal W. H. Gurney, vice-principal Perry Richards and 10 department heads. Some of the teachers have been at the school for 22 years.

The Kamloops dispute resulted in a public meeting which voted 107 to 4 in favor of negotiations. The teachers abstained from voting at the meeting.

But the Kamloops school trustees by a 4-to-2 vote still refused to negotiate with the teachers.

Ex-Victorian Wins $30,000 Scholarship

Former Oak Bay High School student, Dr Robert F. Hetherington, has been awarded a $30,000 scholarship by the John and Mary R. Markle Foundation.

The scholarship, to be paid at the rate of $6,000 a year for five years, will enable Dr. Hetherington to continue his studies and research in neurological surgery.

Graduate of Oak Bay High in 1943, he attended UBC and received his MD at the University of Toronto. Ontario's Rhodes Scholar for 1950, he studied at Oxford University where he received his doctor of philosophy degree.

Dr. Hetherington is now touring European neurological institutes as a McLaughlin Travelling Fellow.

His appointment as assistant professor of Queen's University faculty of medicine, Kingston, Ont., is effective July 1.

Dr. Hetherington, son of Mrs. C. R. Reid, Okanagan Mission, also attended Monterey School here. He was well known as a lacrosse player here and in the interior.

POLL DISCUSSES TEACHER RIGHTS

By BEN CROW
Western Surveys-Research Ltd.

The citizens of Greater Victoria are almost unanimous in their opinion that school teachers should have the same bargaining rights as other workers except for the right to strike.

This decision is largely based on the concept of fairness: "They have rights the same as any other profession;" "They should get an even break."

Ben Crow

Other persons say: "The teachers need better wages and we need better teachers!"

But the majority are against teachers having the right to strike. Women are especially against teachers striking because they are conscious of and anxious to insure their children's education.

This attitude of the public is especially interesting at this time because a group of teachers on the Lower Mainland has just petitioned to join a labor union as a test case.

The majority also feels blacklisting and other bargaining procedures are lowering the dignity of the teaching profession. In fact, it is because teaching is considered a profession, that some people are against negotiations, and especially strikes, by teachers.

This group show its anxiety in comments like this: "It will give a poor opinion to the students;" "People now look up to them;" "Blacklisting certainly will lower their dignity;" "It will lower everyone's dignity;" "They're getting as bad as the Trade Unions;" "They have the right but it is still shortsighted."

★ ★ ★

Of course a large number of persons support the teachers: "Drastic procedures to get a raise are best;" "They should have a union;" "Only done when school boards go to arbitration;" "Other industries do."

Another few think these tactics are bad but temporary and necessary: "Perhaps at first but it may be a necessary evil."

The questions with answers from a scientifically selected sample of 100 men and women are as follows:

In your opinion, should B.C. school teachers have the right, or not have the right, to bargain with school trustees as follows:

★ ★ ★

To negotiate wages, working conditions, and other benefits under the same laws as other workers, except for the right to strike?

Yes, should have right	83
No, should not have right	6
No opinion	11

To also have the right to strike?

Yes, right	30
No	58
No opinion	12

Fears Harm To Weekend Conference

Education Minister Leslie Peterson appealed today to Cowichan district school teachers to withdraw their strike threat at least until a weekend meeting of provincial teachers' and trustees' representatives.

The minister made the request through the executive of the B.C. Teachers' Federation.

He described the strike threat as "unfortunate" because it might "prejudice the atmosphere" of the weekend meeting.

WALKOUT APRIL 16

John Homer, chairman of the board of school district 65, said he had been informed by telephone that a meeting of teachers had taken a strike vote to walkout April 16 if the board refuses to re-open wage negotiations.

Mr. Peterson said he had mailed a letter to the Teachers' Federation asking the executive to persuade the Cowichan teachers against their stand.

C. D. Ovans, general secretary of the Federation, told the Times he had not yet received the minister's letter.

"We don't want to do anything to prejudice the meeting," Mr. Ovans said, "but I don't see what can be done now that the news is out."

AUTONOMY

Mr. Ovans said local members of the federation have complete autonomy over salary matters.

He added that he didn't believe the step taken by the Cowichan teachers is a "very serious type of action."

"They are just saying what they are going to do if necessary."

Their move is symptomatic of the dissatisfaction of teachers throughout the province, Mr. Ovans said.

SOLUTION

Both Mr. Peterson and Mr. Ovans expressed hope that this weekend meeting in Victoria will reach a solution to end the present situation in which 26 school districts are "blacklisted" by the teachers.

Mr. Homer said the Cowichan School Board had decided after four meetings with the teachers it was "futile" to continue negotiations.

There was a "vast difference" between the board's last offer of a 5.2 per cent salary increase and the lowest figure demanded by the teachers—18 per cent.

Lightning Causes Rush Hour Blackout

A double multi-million-volt shot of lightning, which blew the fuses in Greater Victoria's 132,000-volt power system, was the cause of a rush hour blackout Tuesday.

B.C. Electric supervisory personnel, in the first major power break of the three-week-old electricians' strike, were thrown into the breach when a localized thunder storm knocked out the area's 28 circuits after lightning flashes hit power lines in Saanich and Malahat areas within minutes of each other.

IN SEVEN MINUTES

Power was restored to the priority circuits, such as hospitals, within seven minutes of the first lightning strike at 4.57 p.m.

The majority of circuits here were back in operation within 23 minutes but outlying areas such as Brentwood and Cobble Hill went without power for periods up to 70 minutes as the circuits were re-activated in stages.

The Malahat area went without power from 8 p.m. until 3.20 this morning as BCE supervisory personnel worked to replace a transformer at Finlayson Arm.

The transformer was damaged in the initial power blackout but continued to operate until 8 p.m. when it finally broke down.

NO MISHAPS

No traffic accidents occurred during the blackout in Victoria although traffic signals were cut off. Police were rushed to busy intersections for point duty.

Both hospitals switched into their auxiliary power systems when the lights went out. City radio stations and the television station fell silent during the break.

ASK The TIMES

Q. I have an American silver dollar dated 1870. It is worth more than $1 now? B.H.M.T.

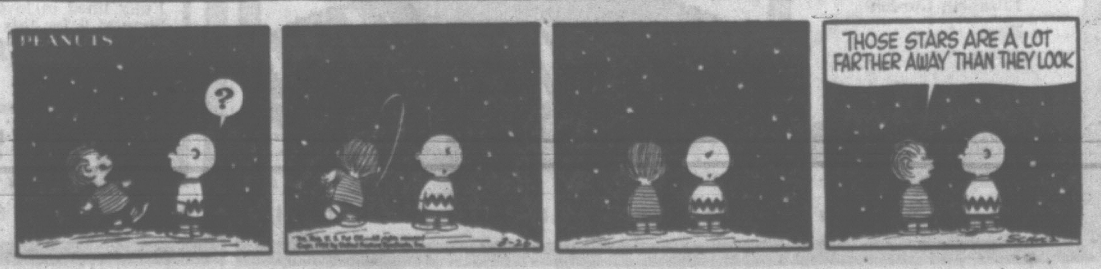

A. It is valued at between $1 and $2.50, depending on its condition.

Q. I have a $1 bill, green on one side and blue on the other. Could you please tell me if it is worth more than $1? B.D.

A. It is not worth more than $1. The color change could have been effected by acid, beer or a sulphurous atmosphere.

Re-Heel Shoes in Seconds With Replaceable Lifts

By PENNY SAVER

Now you can re-heel your own shoes! And I don't mean you have to get out a do-it-yourself re-heeling kit and go to work. I mean that now you can buy shoes with replaceable "lifts." That is, when your heels get run down, you just pull off the lifts and slip new ones into place in a jiffy. Specially-made shoes (in latest styles: pointed toes, needle heels), are equipped with hollow aluminum heels covered with the leather of the shoes. Only the top part of the heel is wooden . . . the aluminum part tapers to fashionable slimness and the little lifts just slip up inside a hole in the bottom.

Just think how handy this is going to be! Next time you're dressing for a party and discover your best shoes are run down at the heels, you can just smile and slip in a new pair of lifts, which sell for 50 cents a pair. (That's about the price of a re-heeling job at a shoe repair shop.) And, if you've had trouble with your slim heels breaking, you'll know these aluminum heels are designed to prevent such accidents happening.

Now to talk about styles of shoes you can buy with these replaceable lifts.

Favor black patent? Then smart, pointed toe pumps with interesting vamp detail, such as a bit of leather fluting or a silver-trimmed black patent ornament, are for you.

There's also a smart shoe combining a textured black leather with black patent, with three little black patent buttons on the toes.

There are more fashionable styles to choose from, too, and in such popular leathers as creamy beige, red and navy. You pay $18.95 for the shoes, and, as before mentioned, 50 cents for additional pairs of heel lifts.

Travellers take note: you won't get caught miles from a shoe repair store, if you are equipped with these shoes!

Tears, Tantrums Warrant Handkerchief—Dismissal

CALGARY (CP) — Three of four women panelists agreed Monday on a cure for the business woman who has a habit of bursting into tears — offer a handkerchief, and follow it up with a dismissal slip.

But one of the panel members at the Second Annual Seminar on Mental Health in Industry was more sympathetic to her kind. Miss Florence Thorpe, women's editor for Calgary radio station CFAC, said the crying girl should be ignored.

Mrs. John Gorman, a lawyer, had a quick answer for men who find their female employees repeatedly in tears. Help wipe away the tears and then fire them, she said.

FEW PASSES FROM BOSSES

She drew unqualified support from Mrs. Berryl Rowland, business manager of the Calgary Philharmonic Society. Mrs. L. S. Willmore, women's editor of The Herald, said it depended on the reason for the tears and how frequently they came.

The panel was considering the problems of women in industry. More than 125 persons have registered for the seminar sponsored by the Calgary branch of the Canadian Mental Health Association. It ends today.

Miss Thorpe, the only unmarried woman on the panel, said very few bosses make a "pass" at a woman employee unless they get encouragement.

Mrs. Willmore and Mrs. Gorman felt that a working woman makes for a better wife. When she has worked she knows the value of money and appreciates what her husband does throughout the day, Mrs. Willmore said.

Mrs. Rowland said some women found difficulty in the business world because most men resent newcomers, male or female, until they prove their ability. Some men have such high standards that it was almost impossible for a woman to meet them.

She believed women should not use feminine "wiles" on their jobs and "men don't expect it." But no woman wants to be considered a little boy.

"Most women can get further by coaxing than by brow-beating," Miss Thorpe added. "A woman would be a fool to use wiles without anything to back them up and she'd be as equal a fool to let men forget she is a woman."

Both Mrs. Gorman and Miss Thorpe said women who are liable to get married do not make for inefficient functioning of industry.

"Industry isn't in imminent collapse," Miss Thorpe said. "Men change their jobs faster now than women."

Cod Liver Oil—At a meeting of Sir Matthew Baillie Begbie Chapter, IODE, a sum of $25 was voted for a spring donation of cod liver oil for the needy. The oil is distributed through the Victorian Order of Nurses. A sum of $3.50 was voted for Easter treats for children's at the chapter's adopted school at Ruby Creek. The regent, Mrs. H. Parizeau, was named delegate to the Provincial annual meeting in Vancouver, in April.

CLUB WOMEN'S NEWS

Centennial Theme — Plans were made at meeting of the Parents Auxiliary of St. Ann's Academy for the annual spring fete in early May. As the centennary of the coming of the Sisters of St. Ann to Victoria is this year, it was decided to carry out a centennial theme with a showing of early day fashions during the tea hour. Conveners will be Mrs. J. White and Mrs. L. Gill. At close of business a synopsis of Canadian history was given by four of the grade 8 students.

Official Visit — District Deputy Supreme Honored Lady Mrs. Davies, Courtenay, B.C., made an official visit to Victoria Lodge No. 5, Order of the Royal Purple, auxiliary to BPO Elks and was welcomed by the head of the local group, Mrs. M. Cox. Other guests welcomed at the meeting were members from Duncan and Lake Cowichan lodges. Ritualistic work was exemplified by drill team and officers and announcement made that cash donations had been sent to the polio fund, heart fund and the Red Cross and that hampers were being delivered to four old-age pensioners each month.

Thankoffering — Mrs. Carl Hagglund, guest speaker, took as her subject "The Hands of Jesus" at Easter thankoffering meeting of Fairfield Woman's Missionary Society. Mrs. T. B. Lowe presided; Mrs. Winnie Sedgeley was soloist and Miss Renwick's group convened the social hour.

For the Men — Members of Strawberry Vale Women's Institute held their annual "entertain our husbands" evening last Saturday. Refreshment tables were decorated in institute colors, yellow and green under convenership of Mrs. J. Humphries. Mrs. J. Smalley, institute president, welcomed the guests. A program included piano and electric guitar numbers by H. Ogden; bingo games in charge of Mrs. J. Jones and a comedy reading, "Green Grow the Cabbages," by Mrs. R. J. Ashmore, Mrs. J. Jones, Mrs. L. Fitzpatrick, Mrs. A. Longland and Mrs. C. Martin.

To Join Project—It was decided at meeting of Colwood Women's Institute to participate in the Tweedsmuir district handicraft section project which is the compiling of a book of "grandmother's" quilt block designs. Plans were made for the spring tea and sale to be held on April 10 with Mrs. T. Mossop convener. She will be assisted by Mrs. G. Smith and Mrs. A. J. Proudfoot, home cooking; Mrs. F. Searle, Mrs. E. Shields, Mrs. T. Dawson, needlework; Mrs. S. Lang, Mrs. E. Emery, Mrs. S. Cooper and Mrs. T. Parsons, plants and flowers.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Soap and Water 'Facial' Is Essential for Beauty

Make-up is meant to enhance, not to camouflage your complexion. How many times have you seen an extremely attractive woman or girl whose appearance was spoiled by poor skin? Even heavy make-up doesn't cover a mass of large pores, pimples, blackheads or other blemishes.

Once coarse skin was an occupational hazard in the theatre. Actresses had trouble coping with the heavy grease-paint. This is no longer true, thanks to a better understanding of the importance of soap and water cleanliness.

NEGLECT

Today, nine times out of 10 bad skin is due to neglect. It is amazing how many women who are meticulous in other ways are still plagued by cosmetic skin because they haven't worked out a regulated beauty routine based on cleanliness.

Soap and water is best for cleansing if you have a normal skin or one which is oily. Many women find that even a dry complexion improves with the use of some soap and water as well as cleansing and lubricating creams.

Just for the record, how many times a day do YOU wash your face with soap and water? To keep your skin in best condition you should give yourself a new face twice a day. Scrub briskly for deep pore cleansing upon rising in the morning and before going to sleep at night. Do not skimp in the morning just because your face was clean when you went to bed at night. During the night your skin has exuded oils and many impurities which need to be washed away — not packed down with a foundation or base or powder. This holds true even for the dry skin.

Washing also is an essential routine for those few women who use few or no cosmetics. Wash your face thoroughly with soap and water twice a day (unless you have a very dry skin). This is not only cleansing but is stimulating and helps your skin do its own work.

Also be sure to launder your powder puff once or twice a week. Ditto your compact puff, which gets even dirtier quicker. Suitable make-up, cleverly applied, will make you look lovelier IF your skin is clean!

If you would like to have my leaflet about skin care, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 47 to Josephine Lowman in care of this paper.

LEAVING HOUSE GUESTS FOR DATE

My girl friend from another city is coming to visit me for four days during spring vacation. One of the evenings when she will be here I have a date with my boy friend to go to a dance. He has so far been unable to get another boy for her. If he can't get anybody, would it be all right if I keep my date, or should I call it off and stay home with her.

Louise Davis

LOUISE DAVIS ANSWERS:

Your first obligation is to your house guest. You will be her hostess for four whole days! If you walk out on her to go on your date, you would be thoughtless, inconsiderate and rude. Imagine yourself visiting her for four days. She is unsuccessful in getting a boy for you, so leaves you at home while she goes dancing. I have an idea that another Prince Charming will turn up if you and your boy friend keep working at it. If your efforts are futile, your only alternative is to stay at home with your guest. I suggest that you tell the boy immediately that you will not be able to keep the date with him unless a blind date can be gotten for your guest. He might as well know right now. He wants to go to that dance as much as you do. Determination sometimes works wonders.

'Eve Baiting' Discussed in India's Parliament But Bill Did Not Pass

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The battle of the sexes has had a round in the upper house of India's parliament: woman lost.

Mrs. Savitri Nigam, member of the upper house and the ruling Congress party, introduced a bill providing a maximum of 15 years in prison and a fine of 10,000 rupees ($2,100) for any man guilty of molesting a woman.

The bill defined molesting as "indecent behavior, insult, assault, kidnapping, abduction, procuration and importation or wrongful confinement of a woman for an immoral purpose."

Mrs. Nigam emphasized the "indecent behavior and insult" part of the bill. There are too many young men loitering on streets and passing remarks as women pass by, she said, and unless this "Eve teasing" is stopped, India will become a land of hoodlums. Gentlemen will be found only in museums.

P. N. Sapru, ordinarily a staunch advocate of women's rights, drew male cheers and female blushes by declaring immoral behavior is "two-way traffic," that women can seduce men as well as the other way around. Present laws suffice, he said.

Mrs. Violet Alva, deputy minister of home affairs, joined the side of manhood, asserting it would be "monstrous to suggest 15 years imprisonment."

She warned that if the bill passed, "some of the honorable members of the upper house might find themselves in trouble."

There are 16 women among the 230 members of the upper house, but the bill won only one vote—from Mrs. Nigam.

White Heather in Bride's Bouquet

Centennial United Church was the setting for the recent wedding of Miss Ann Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Turner of 2460 Dalhousie Street and Ralph Alexander, son of Capt. H. R. Stratford and Mrs. Stratford of Cumberland Road. Rev. Douglas Carr officiated. On the arm of her father, the bride walked up the aisle wearing a soft wool suit in a powder blue shade. The softly tailored jacket featured a crossover stand away collar and the skirt was pleated. Her white satin pill-box style hat was adorned with a large rose, and she carried a Colonial bouquet of white heather and roses.

A tailored wool dress in a brick red tone was worn by maid of honor Miss Sonia Molofy. Her tiny cloche hat was of white feathers and she had matching accessories. She carried a colonial bouquet of white tulips and heather.

Thomas Moss was best man and Norman Moss ushered.

At a reception following the ceremony at the home of the groom's parents, the couple cut a three-tier cake made by the bride's aunt Mrs. G. Hunter. It centred the bridal table and was flanked by two small bowls of pink roses and white candles. The house was decorated in a wedding theme created by the groom's aunt Mrs. B. Quayle, Vancouver.

James Nicol proposed a toast.

For a wedding trip to Seattle and the mainland, the new Mrs. Stratford topped her wedding ensemble with a short muskrat jacket and a corsage of white carnations.

For the ceremony Mrs. Powell chose a Robell model suit of soft grey with accessories, en tone. She was attended by her sons, Mr. Michael Powell and Mr. Peter Powell. The Marques had as his best man, Mr. Charles E. Price. Dean Brian Whitlow officiated. Following a honeymoon in San Francisco, Calif., the couple will return to live at 943 Beach Drive.

Wedding in Vernon

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gabriel of Vernon, B.C., announce the engagement of their daughter, Theresa (Terry), to Mr. William Peter Hurst, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Begnor Hurst, 1321 Johnson Street, Victoria. Wedding will take place in St. James' Roman Catholic Church at Vernon on Saturday, April 19, at 11 a.m. Attendants will be Miss Evelyn Gail, maid of honor; the groom-elect's sister, Mrs. Ray Wormald, Victoria, and Miss Rose Pollock, bridesmaids, and Lieut. Wormald, best man.

Miss Gabriel and Mr. Hurst will arrive this weekend from the interior for a round of parties in their honor, commencing with a tea-hour reception to be given by Mr. and Mrs. Hurst from 3 to 6 on Sunday afternoon.

Twenty-First Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. H. Irwin, of Maple Bay, are entertaining in Vancouver Saturday at the cocktail hour to honor their daughter, Miss Margot Irwin on the occasion of her 21st birthday. Victorians planning to attend the party, which will be held at the Vancouver home of Miss Irwin, 1065 Burnaby Street, include Miss Heather Sinclair, Miss Terry French, Mr. John Goult, Mr. Jim Miller and Mr. Michael Rose.

To Meet The Queen

Miss Sally Laundy, who is now in Holland, is among those who have received invitations to a reception being held there today for members of the British Commonwealth of Nations to meet Her Majesty the Queen and Prince Philip. The Royal couple are in Holland for a three-day official visit. Miss Laundy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Laundy, Queenswood Drive, Victoria.

Home From Trail

Miss Elsie Lupton, whose marriage takes place early in April, will return to Victoria on Thursday from Trail, B.C., where she has been an employee of the B.C. Telephone Company. She will stay with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Lupton, at the family home on Darwin Road.

Honor Joan Steel

Camellias and heather en corsage was presented to Miss Joan Steel at a shower held at the home of Mrs. Raymond McTavish at Colwood. Co-hostess was Mrs. Walter C. McKay. Corsages of yellow primulae and heather were received by the bride-elect's mother Mrs. Archibald Steel and the groom-elect's mother, Mrs. H. M. Guiney. A decorated umbrella in white and pink tones held gifts. Guests included Mrs. C. N. Smith, Mrs. V. McTavish, Mrs. A. Steel Jr., Mrs. A. McTavish, Mrs. V. Smith, Mrs. R. Bunyan, Mrs. Alan Guiney, Mrs. Carl Irvin, Mrs. N. Smith and Mrs. K. Johnson.

Can You Break Into Canadian Society?

It's easier than it used to be! Having money . . . working on the right committee . . . or owning a horse are a few of the roads into high society. But even in Canada some doors will be closed unless you have the right ancestors.

Has Canadian Society changed much since the war? How hard is it to crash the upper, upper old guard? Who's who and where? You'll find the answers to your questions, and the fascinating story of Canadian Society today in April Chatelaine. On sale at all newsstands March 20. Veronika Braun Married

In a quiet ceremony, Tuesday evening, at Grace Lutheran Church, Miss Veronika Braun, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Braun of Hohenzollerndamm, Berlin, Germany, became the bride of Siegfried Marquardt of Victoria. Rev. L. I. Nadiger officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by her father who is visiting in the city from Germany at present. Groom is son of Mr. B. Marquardt, Okanagan, B.C.

She wore a cocktail-length gown of white silk organza in a princess style. The simple, fitted bodice featured a scoop neckline and cap sleeves. A tiny coronet of net, sprinkled with seed pearls held the silk chapel-length veil. She carried a white prayer book topped with white orchids.

The newly-weds will spend their honeymoon in California and returning, will make their home in Victoria.

From Gulf Islands

Mrs. John Freeman of South Pender Island has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. William U. Pender at their home on Tolmie Avenue for the past few days. While in the city Mrs. Freeman attended an executive meeting of the Victoria Historical Society of which she is a member.

$594 Realized

A sum of $594 was made at the coffee party and tea held last Saturday in the Hudson's Bay Douglas Room by the League of the Handicapped.

The tea was opened by Mrs. O. H. Lamont, executive secretary of Goodwill Enterprises and guests were received by Walter Thomson, president of the league.

A home-cooking stall was in charge of Mrs. Betty Hammond and the general convener of the day-long affair was Mrs. Lorna Vinden, secretary of the league.

OPENING OF HOTEL

Fifty-Dollar-a-Plate Grand Ball to Benefit Hospitals

MONTREAL — Montreal's two children's hospitals will share the entire proceeds of the fifty-dollar-a-plate grand ball and banquet marking the opening of The Queen Elizabeth Hotel on April 16, it has been announced by the CNR and Hilton of Canada Limited.

With attendance limited to 1,000, including some 400 out-of-town guests who will be in Montreal for the two-day opening ceremonies, the formal ball will be held in the Grand Salon. Final event of the hotel-opening program, it will also be the outstanding social event of the spring season.

The Montreal Children's Hospital and St. Justine's Hospital which will share the proceeds of the ball have appointed a joint invitation and ticket committee headed by Mrs. James Woollven and Mrs. G. G. Ryan. Invitations to the ball will be extended to those who donate one hundred dollars per couple to the two institutions.

All expenses of the ball are being borne by The Queen Elizabeth, including a complete banquet, beverages and gratuities and entertainment consisting of dance music by Guy Lombardo and his Royal Canadians from New York and Denny Vaughan's Queen Elizabeth orchestra, songs by Guylaine Guy, Montreal-born RCA Victor artist who is flying here from Paris for the evening, music and dancing by Los Chavales, a colorful troupe of Spanish dancers and musicians.

Easy to make; practical, because it costs so little, and a definite favorite that once tasted will be requested by your family again and again, honey jelly should be a decided asset in meal planning for spring and early summer.

Honey Jelly for the Spring Season

Are the shelves in your fruit cellar getting rather empty now? This is the season when last year's home-made jelly and preserves have been eaten and this summer's garden has not yet born fruit.

Here is a simple way to replenish your jelly stock. A honey jelly or a honey jam recipe can be used the year around but is appreciated especially at this time of the year.

Make just a few glasses at a time and cook in a large saucepan.

LEMON HONEY JELLY

¾ cup lemon juice, 2½ cups honey, ½ cup liquid fruit pectin.

Combine lemon juice and honey. Bring to a full rolling boil. Add pectin, stir vigorously and boil about 2 minutes. Pour into hot, sterilized glasses. Cover with paraffin to seal. This makes about 6 glasses of jelly.

PINEAPPLE HONEY JAM
(Using Canned Pineapple)

3¼ cups prepared fruit (No. 2 can crushed pineapple plus water), 1½ cups honey, 2 cups sugar, one 2½-oz. box powdered fruit pectin.

Measure contents of No. 2 can crushed pineapple (about 2 1/3 cups). Add enough water to make 3¼ cups. Place in a large saucepan.

Measure honey and sugar and set aside. Add powdered fruit pectin to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once stir in honey and sugar. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and skim off foam with metal spoon. Then stir and skim by turns for 5 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into glasses. Cover jam at once with ⅛-inch hot paraffin. (Yield: about 6 medium glasses.)

APRICOT HONEY JAM

3 cups prepared fruit (6 oz. dried apricots), 2 cups honey, 2 cups sugar, one 2½-oz. box powdered fruit pectin.

First, prepare the fruit. Add 2¾ cups water to 6 ounces dried apricots. Cover and let stand 4 hours or overnight. Drain, reserving liquid. Grind apricots or chop very fine; combine with liquid. Measure 3 cups into a large saucepan.

Then make the jam. Measure honey and sugar and set aside. Add powdered fruit pectin to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once stir in honey and sugar. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and skim off foam with metal spoon. Then stir and skim by turns for 5 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into glasses. Cover jam at once with ⅛-inch hot paraffin. (Yield: about 8 medium glasses.)

TODAY'S RECIPE

APPLE SAUCE CINNAMON SANDWICH

Two slices bread, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 tablespoon brown sugar, ¼ teaspoon cinnamon, 2 tablespoons apple sauce.

Butter the bread. Sprinkle one slice with brown sugar and cinnamon. Cover with other slice to make a sandwich. Toast in waffle iron, using same temperature as that used for waffles. Remove when waffle pattern shows a golden brown. Spread with apple sauce and serve hot. Sandwich may be served whole or cut in halves, quarters or "fingers."

Women Progress Says Novelist In Democracy

TORONTO (CP) — The progress of women has been not so much feminist as democratic, says British novelist Vera Brittain.

Miss Brittain, wife of Dr. George Catlin, professor of political science at McGill University, Montreal, was guest speaker at a meeting of the Council of Business and Professional Women's Clubs of Metropolitan Toronto.

The title of her speech, "lady into woman," was also the title of one of her 22 published books. Miss Brittain lives in London and Montreal.

In civilized countries, the self-reliant woman has replaced the helpless lady — a democratic change — linking all women of all classes in their quest for liberty, she said.

The quest for women's rights was not a middle class phenomenon. But it was they who were sheltered and who had the time and money to lead the movement.

Although women in the west now were emancipated, they still were the "interrupted sex," having to decide small problems at all hours of the day and lacking the power of concentration necessary for creative work.

She said there were still a few "astounding citadels" which exclude women, such as the stock exchanges, the Oxford Union and Hart House at the University of Toronto.

A summary of Miss Brittain's speech was given to the press prior to delivery.

Women Choose to Bloom or to Fade

One hundred years ago, a woman had no choice about the way she looked. A self-respecting woman could not enhance her complexion with creams and make-up. She could not change the color of her hair if she didn't like the original color nor could she cover gray hair with color.

Nothing was known about diet or exercise and so her figure went from good or bad to bad or worse. She considered herself old at 30 and so did everyone else.

These days, a woman can change her figure, her hair coloring, her skin tones and literally make herself into a beauty. She needs time, a little money and lots of willpower. It's worth it, isn't it?

* * *

The older woman who watches her weight and keeps her figure trim through exercise is the wise one. She looks younger, for one thing.

She can find, with ease, clothes which fit her and flatter her. She pays less for her clothes. She can wear slacks, sleeveless evening dresses, sweaters and frivolous shoes, fashions which are unbecoming to the mature woman who's much overweight. She finds walking and other mild exercise pleasant rather than tiring. She can wear youthful hats and gay colors.

Of course, there are years of discipline back of her good looks. Years of saying "no" to dessert. Years of walking in fresh air, of spot exercises, of sound diet, of plenty of sleep.

So, when other women tell her she's lucky to be able to wear small sizes and dashing fashions, she can afford to accept the compliment with grace and say nothing. She knows that her "luck" really adds up to hard work.

* * *

Every normal teen-ager wants to be a beauty. It's part of being a girl. The first rule of being beautiful is being individual.

It doesn't mean trying to copy Marilyn Monroe, Jayne Mansfield or the president of the senior class. It means studying your own looks and deciding not to wear the pony tail hairdo because it's becoming to very few people.

It means discarding blue jeans even if everybody else does wear them. It means getting rid of sloppy sweaters and shirts and socks and substituting neat sweaters, trim skirts and nylon stockings. It means being a person in your own right, not part of the herd.

Once you've achieved this individuality, you'll find your good looks. And you'll also find other girls copying you.

Couple Honored For Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Maedel who recently celebrated their diamond wedding anniversary were guests of honor Monday evening at Court Columbia 834, Canadian Order of Foresters.

Other invited guests were members of Court Lady Arbutus. District deputy high chief ranger Bert Davies presented Mr. Madel with a 60-year button, Mr. Maedel being a member of 62 years standing in the Canadian Order of Foresters.

Mrs. G. Buckler presented Mrs. Maedel with a corsage of pink carnations.

A congratulatory telegram was sent by high chief ranger of the Canadian Order of Foresters, Syd Berridge. Miss Joyce Dandridge sang, "Because," accompanied by Mrs. Buckler. Mr. Buckler gave a humorous recitation.

Cutting of the anniversary cake concluded the evening. Tom Kirkwood conducted the candlelit ceremony.

Bringing Up Baby

HINTS COLLECTED BY Mrs. Dan Gerber (MOTHER OF 5)

It's only human to want to show baby off to all and sundry. And it's only human for doting grandmothers, aunties and others to want their full share of cuddling. But too much attention from strangers can be overpowering and may bewilder baby. Given time to study strangers, baby will make friends in his own sweet time and way. P. S. Baby may feel more secure if you give him a favorite "hold toy" before introducing him to a first-time visitor.

* * *

6 good-tasting ways to keep baby delighted with his daily serving of cereal—Gerber Rice, Barley, Oatmeal, Wheat, Mixed Cereal and Protein Cereal Food. Each has its own mild but distinctive flavor—all have the smoothest texture this side of a baby spoon. Gerber Cereals all contain vitamins and minerals and are a snap to fix. Just add formula or milk.

Sweet scent-iments for sweethearts. A cake of lightly scented soap, placed in baby's clothes drawers, lends a sweet scent to baby's togs.

* * *

To market to market. If you take baby to market with you, schedule your shopping tour after baby has had a nap. A baby refreshed from 40 winks is less apt to be fussy. Before you venture out, get yourself ready first, your honeybun may get overheated waiting for you.

* * *

Your baby grows more during the first year than the next few years put together. That's why it's so important to give your pride 'n joy plenty of protein foods to help that growth along. Gerber's New Meat Dinners for Babies are cooked with special care to preserve the utmost in protein and vitamin values. Extra meat is combined with selected vegetables and cereal for the most delightful flavor and smoothest texture this side of a baby spoon. There are 7 delicious varieties of Gerber Strained and Junior Meat Dinners. Gerber Baby Foods, Niagara Falls, Canada.

$208,396 COMMUNITY CHEST BUDGET

Charity Needs Getting Harder to Fill Yearly

Greater Victoria Community Chest will spend more money this year, and filling the community's charity needs gets annually harder, budget chairman Brian A. Tobin told the 21st annual chest meeting Tuesday.

The meeting at Spencerhouse approved 1958 agency allotments totalling $208,396.07, or $1,194.24 more than in 1957.

Hubert A. Wallace, president of Yarrows Ltd., was elected president, replacing R. B. Wilson, who had served the two previous years.

Justin Harbord, of Harbord Insurance Ltd., was named first vice-president and G. Conway Parrott, Vancouver Island Coach Lines, second vice-president.

R. A. Dykes was re-elected honorary treasurer and 46 directors were named, an increase of two over 1957.

HUBERT WALLACE
. . . new chest president

FELL SHORT

The retiring president pointed out the 1957 Community Chest campaign fell short of its $250,000 objective by $30,000, although the amount given was largest in the local chest's history.

Of the 1958 allotments to 20 member agencies, nine are reduced from their 1957 amounts, five remain the same and six are increased, some only slightly.

"Almost without exception the individual agency budgets increase each year, yet the contributions for their support have not kept pace," Mr. Tobin said.

FUTURE PROBLEMS

"It becomes increasingly clear that to continue as we have, making quite drastic cuts in agency budgets, through necessity rather than choice, is only laying up future problems for the community," he said.

It may be found expedient to recommend expansion or contraction of some services in order that the best results may be obtained from Chest funds, Mr. Tobin said.

Deterioration of economic conditions had been emphasized during the 1957 campaign in an effort to offset anticipated greater need.

Unemployment, causing economic disaster within families, is reflected in the greater number of children coming into care of the Family and Children's Service, biggest Chest budget at $60,000 this year and last.

ABOVE AVERAGE

The president said in the past 11 days 21 children were taken into care, a total well above average.

He said it is a tragedy that some generous people give without knowing too much about the organization which receives and uses the money.

"By all means let the public give to whom they wish, but perhaps more information about the financial structures would be an assistance towards more intelligent giving," he said.

Mrs. Frank McKenzie noted the meeting was open to anyone who had given $1 or more to the chest.

"It seems a great pity that more of the public . . . do not take advantage first hand of the opportunity to take part in a meeting of those who administer welfare in their community," she said.

About 30 people were present.

In order to meet agency allotments for 1958, $13,846.07 was taken from contingencies reserve, an amount which is expected to be reduced by about $6,000 when municipal grants to YMCA and YWCA are made.

LESS FOR Ys

Although allotments to the Ys appear greater than chest payments a year ago, these agencies actually will get less money because the local grants are subtracted from the allotment.

The YMCA will be down $1,995 to $21,780; the YWCA will be down $1,047 to $20,071.

Others which dropped compared with a year ago are notably the SPCA, $1,147 (from $2,000 in 1957); Silver Threads Service, $4,417 ($7,500); Christmas Bureau, $400 ($600); Canadian Welfare Council, $1,000 ($1,200); Citizens' Recreation Rooms, $1,885 ($2,125); CNIB, $12,017 ($12,420) and Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society, $8,941 ($9,250).

CENTENNIAL DOLLAR, signifying in this case a total of 100 years' service to the B.C. Electric Company, is held aloft by (from left), H. Austin Goward, public information assistant; R. Norman Hall, residential sales promotion supervisor; Ralph B. Mathews, executive assistant to the vice-president, and Kenneth L. Roach, gas superintendent. The quartet, each with 25 years' service, was inducted into the BCE Quarter-Century Club at a recent ninth annual banquet in the Empress Hotel. (Times Photo by Bill Halkett.)

LURED TO WOODS BY WOMAN

Extremists Tar-Feather Priest For Opposing War in Algeria

SAINT ETIENNE, France (AP)—A young French priest was kidnapped from his parish house and tarred and feathered in the woods apparently because he opposes the war in Algeria, Roman Catholic Church officials disclosed today.

The incident occurred March 8. Rev. Marcel Matricon, vicar of the St. Firmin parish in Firminy, was awakened in the middle of the night by a woman who said she wanted him to administer last rites to a dying person.

The priest followed her to a car in which several other persons waited. He was given to the woods about six miles away, stripped to the waist and tarred and feathered. The abductors then fled.

Police said the abductors may have been an extremist group who wanted to punish the priest for signing an appeal some time ago against the war in Algeria.

AMMAN, Jordan (Reuters)—An earth tremor shook Jerusalem and many areas of Jordan Tuesday night, but no damage or casualties were reported. The tremor lasted only a few seconds.

Neighbors Picket U.K. Baby Hater

TIMPERLEY, Eng. — A 25-year-old mother who has agreed to give away her unborn child glared out the window at a crowd of neighbors staring at her from across the street.

"I hate babies," shouted Mrs. Sheila Winkley, a mother of three. Then she turned to a reporter and shook her mop of hair.

"I just couldn't face the thought of washing those diapers again," she said.

"Babies! You wheel them around in the pram and people peer at them. . . . They're just babies, all alike and made to a pattern. I loathe them."

Mrs. Winkley whose 27-year-old engineer husband, Roy, earns £15 a week, started the controversy by stating she doesn't want to keep the baby due next July. Every day the postman brings her abusive letters. When she goes shopping, she is ignored by neighbors. Someone recently heaved a brick through the door.

"I've always loathed babies," said Mrs. Winkley, "and so does my husband."

She looked across the neatly kept parlor at her three-year-old daughter, Annette, playing beside the television set.

"Of course, I just love her," the young mother said. "And her big brother, David, who is seven, is just a pet. But there, they aren't babies any more."

Another child, 15-month-old Christine, is being looked after by welfare officials.

Union 'Lifts' Pickets at Supply Firm

Pickets were withdrawn from Douglas Building Supply Ltd., 2811 Douglas, Tuesday after the firm had agreed to a union shop for five employees.

The company was picketed by Vancouver Island Building Trades Council for more than two weeks in protest against "unfair" competition to unionized supply houses.

Donald S. Bushell, VIBTC secretary, said Tuesday the pickets were "lifted" after agreement was reached through the Victoria Building Industries Exchange for provision of union agreements to cover the employees.

Pineau Favors Neutralized Central Europe

NEW YORK (CP)—The New York Times says in a Paris dispatch that France's Foreign Minister Pineau is reported favoring the demilitarization and neutralization of part of Central Europe.

The Times says this report was carried Tuesday by the newspaper Paris-Presse, but had been promptly denied by the foreign ministry "as corresponding in no way with French views on European security."

The dispatch says, however, that despite the denial "well-informed sources insisted that M. Pineau had evolved a new approach to the problem of European security." The Paris-Presse report did not go into details about the demilitarization.

Viet Nam Troops Invade Frontier

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Troops of Communist North Viet Nam today were reported to have occupied frontier posts believed to be inside the vaguely defined Indochina jungle border between Laos and North Viet Nam.

Government sources said large numbers of Laotian troops have been deployed along the frontier to secure it, but no incidents have been reported.

CITY NEWS BRIEFS

City council will be asked to give speedy treatment to a proposed bylaw amendment which will permit stores to remain open Thursday until 9 p.m., when the following Friday is a statutory holiday.

Finance committee has asked that the amendment be introduced Thursday and finally passed at a special meeting April 3.

This would make it effective for shoppers wishing to "stock up" for the Easter weekend.

The organization, 80-strong, is meeting in closed sessions for informal discussions on improvement and development from a technological viewpoint of fish product applications.

Minimum Pay Schedule Set

A new minimum wage level for truck drivers, motorcycle operators and swampers and helpers has been set by the provincial labor department.

The new order increases the minimum rate for truck drivers, swampers and some warehousemen from 80 cents to $1 an hour, and the rate for motorcycle operators from 55 to 70 cents an hour.

It also makes employees in these occupations eligible for overtime if they work beyond an 8½-hour shift, whether or not it falls into one or two days.

TRAFFIC FINES

In city police court Monday:

Robert Archibald Simpson, 344 Niagara, $20 for speeding over 30.

Stuart A. Thompson, 490 Vancouver, $10 for failing to notify Motor Vehicles Branch of a change of address, and $10 for driving with inadequate muffler.

Robert T. Settler, 946 Dunn, $25 for speeding over 30.

ISLAND ENTRIES INVITED

'Dance Carnival' Set for July 14

Dancing teachers and their students from Vancouver Island communities have been invited to take part in a five-day "Carnival of the Dance" to be held in Vancouver July 14 to 18.

The event is sponsored by the province-wide B.C. Dance Teachers' Association. It will combine features of the teachers' annual convention with a series of events and displays in which students will participate.

Special events will be a pageant showing the growth of the dance, an original dance talent quest, and a grand ball.

Committees are now at work ironing out details of the pageant and original dance talent contest, in which prizes will be awarded for the best solo number created and performed by individual students without help from anyone.

In addition to students from Vancouver Island communities, participants are expected from Vancouver and the Lower Mainland, the B.C. Interior and Fraser Valley. Headquarters for the five-day carnival will be the Scottish Auditorium, at Twelfth and Fir in Vancouver.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Darrell Brennan, aged 13, of Detroit, Mich., for his question:

How Did the Quakers Originate?

Last year many of us enjoyed the thoughtful and colorful movie, "Friendly Persuasion." It was about a charming family who tried to live up to a noble idea. They believed that it is never right for human beings to act with violence against one another. Problems arrived when rebel raiders rode over their rich farmland. The movie showed how each member of the family adjusted his or her noble principles to the practical everyday world.

The characters in "Friendly Persuasion" belonged to the religious Society of Friends. We call them Quakers. A few months ago, a group of people made news by camping near the atomic testing ground. Their object was to call our attention to the horrifying dangers of atomic warfare. These people were Quakers. They also reminded us of a hope which is as old as mankind himself. Someday, maybe the nations of the world will learn to solve their problems without violence.

The Society of Friends has held to this idea since way back in the year 1647. This was long before the United States' system of democratic government was born. In fact, some Quakers had a say in the founding of this system of government. The Declaration of Independence was signed right in the City of Brotherly Love, Philadelphia in Pennsylvania, still known as the Quaker State.

The founder of the Society of Friends was George Fox, born in Leicestershire, England, in 1624. It was a period of history when people tended to forget the normal rules of honesty and good conduct. When such a thing occurs, it is only a question of time until someone speaks up. He attracts followers because normal people want to live by the normal standards of honesty and good conduct.

Founder Suspected as Spy

Fox gained many followers. Even though they took no action against people of bad conduct, their new way of life was an example and therefore a threat. The Friends, like the Puritans, were persecuted. Fox himself was thrown into jail eight times. England was torn with civil war and, of all things, the authorities suspected that this preacher of peace was a spy for the warring opposition.

One of his converts was brilliant William Penn. This rich Quaker had received a land grant in the New World. It was a lush land of rolling green hills. It is called Pennsylvania meaning Penn's woods. The persecuted Quakers of England now had a place where they could follow their ideals without threat. For, pretty soon, the new country was to guarantee freedom of worship to all its people. This freedom of worship has come to mean more than non-persecution. We do not hold a person's religious beliefs against him, whether he is a Quaker or a member of any other faith. It just does not make sense for us to do so.

★ ★ ★

Andy sends a Hammond's Ambassador World Atlas to Joan Dillabough, age 13, of Brockville, Ont., for her question:

When did the Province of Ontario get its name?

Ontario celebrates its birthday on July 1, which is Canada's Dominion Day. On that day in the year 1867 Canada attained her status as a Dominion of the British Commonwealth of Nations. Two vast territories had, until that time, been known as Canada East or Lower Canada, and Canada West, or Upper Canada. Canada East became known as the Province of Quebec. Canada West became the Province of Ontario. Ontario took her name from the Great Lake, Ontario.

The history of Ontario's territory, however, goes way back before it became a province. When the early French held Quebec, Ontario was held by hostile Iroquois. In 1673 Count Frontenac built an outpost fort on what is now the site of Kingston. In 1873 the southern shores of Lake Erie and Lake Ontario were settled by English loyalists from the United States.

But this was by no means the beginning. In 1931 the rusty weapons of an ancient Viking were unearthed near Lake Nipigon. Visitors from Europe must have come to what is now Ontario 1,000 years ago. The soil of Ontario held, perhaps, the bones of the first European to perish in the New World.

ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE

THANK YOU FOR BUYING OUR CARS AND TRUCKS!

You're keeping General Motors people and our suppliers busy all over Canada

From the beginning of the General Motors Golden Jubilee year, we have firmly believed that our Golden Milestone cars and trucks are outstanding. And the overwhelming enthusiasm of your response, as proven by actual sales, has fully justified our optimism.

Latest available figures show that you bought 35,706 General Motors cars and trucks from January 1st through March 10th this year. This is 4,406 more than the number sold during the same period in 1957—an increase of 14.1%. At the same time, the unsold stock of GM vehicles on hand across the country is practically the same as it was last year.

Thanks to your magnificent acceptance of our products, GM plants in Oshawa, Windsor and St. Catharines have been hard at work keeping up with the demand. Currently, more than 18,000 people are employed by General Motors making cars and trucks in Canada.

All this activity—the direct result of your purchases—means that our many suppliers, employing thousands more people, are busily at work across Canada. To maintain this activity, General Motors plans to spend more than four hundred million dollars for goods, services and wages in Canada during 1958.

To our thanks to you, the public, we add a special word of gratitude and appreciation to the great family of General Motors dealers and salesmen. Their confidence, optimism and hard work are making significant contributions to the communities in which they live, and to our entire national economy. To them, to our suppliers, to all GM people and to you, we publicly express our gratitude.

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

THURSDAY, MARCH 27, 1958

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)—Many opportunities are present today to discuss at length with associates the contemplated changes to be made. This will result in coming to better understanding and saving the situation quickly.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)—Instead of worrying over the apparently poor conditions now existing in your affairs, try to analyze the causes thereof, and take the right steps to ameliorate matters. You can do it today with ease.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)—Your best move today is to go to your fellow workers and associates and put the cards on the table. Ask for needed advice, how it would be best to proceed for greater harmony and more decided success all around.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21)—This is not the right time to take any fliers in new ventures, for it would result disastrously. Keep working diligently at present activities instead. Thus you get rid of defects and gain greater security.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)—While a most radical and yet far-seeing partner seems to annoy you today with certain ideas, it would be well to listen carefully, for therein is the kernel of a brilliant plan. Don't be so lionish. Nobody knows it all.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)—Look to closest ties today for the comfort and advice you need. They are not prejudiced and can give you really fine ideas concerning the present situation. Don't look for show and pomp. Stick to the practical now.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)—There are so many things breaking into the open at present that you are confused and hardly know which way to turn. But if you maintain the practical attitude, you will know how to turn chaos into real opportunity.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)—It is almost impossible for you to decide about changing positions both at home and at work today. Your friends don't assist very much either. It is best to contact advisors or those who can give you good advice.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)—Here is a day when you can accomplish just about anything you set your heart upon. So many others are just knee deep in problems, but your way seems very smooth. Don't waste time talking. Up and at it now.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)—All forces are with you today for making plans for the future that will prove very successful, though your savings may have to be gambled. Be wise and frugal, clever. P.M. relax and be happy. Entertain at home.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)—Today you will spend time with a partner whose actions are as unpredictable and clever as your own. Be a good sport and give credit where credit is due, cement better relations and make a friend for life.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20)—Get into the so-called silence today and get the inspiration you need. Leave all the noise behind you and get into your ivory tower. You are then master of the situation and can get things under control. Be adult now!

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN THURSDAY . . .

The fascinating child born Thursday is the kind whose life will be filled with interesting experiences, starting from earliest childhood. Much ability is in this horoscope, and the most modern things of the future will be easily adopted by your offspring, and even improved upon. So give as fine an education as possible and equip child properly.

By PHIL LEE, Times TV Editor

A FEW REVIEWS—When the critics and men in high places review the drama projected on the television screens during 1958 it is hoped they won't forget the night of Monday, March 24, when brilliant young actress Julie Harris, Christopher Plummer, Barry Jones and a splendid cast of supporting players brought to their living rooms a 90-minute play, "The Little Moon of Alban," which, surely, must be classified as being among the best that TV has ever offered.

As Brigid Mary Mangan, the unhappy Irish colleen who had lost her father, her brother and then, finally her young lover, George Peppard, to the bullets of the British, Miss Harris was superb. It will be a long time before those who witnessed James Costigan's play will forget her savage, hysterical denunciation of God as she smashed the church's candles out with her bare hands, her lover dead at her feet; and more quietly, but equally moving, at the end giving up her new love, an English army officer, played understandingly by Plummer so she might carry out her religious work on behalf of the needy.

AMONG the secondary and tertiary characters three stood out above all others by their down-to-earth handling of their roles. Norah O'Mahony, as Shelagh Mangan, Miss Harris' mother, her faded but proud hat set uncompromisingly upon her undaunted head, seemed so true to the Ireland of 1919, at least the unhappy Ireland of one's imagination, that she lent the whole much of its early atmosphere that made all the rest real. Barry Jones as the kindly Dr. Clive, and Frank Conroy, as the distraught but understanding priest, were also of high order. And, finally, a bow to director George Schaefer, whose skilful hand could be noted in every scene.

Indeed, if Summertime means "repeats" then let them repeat "The Little Moon of Alban" for all those who were unfortunate to miss it.

★ ★ ★

ALSO A BOW from this corner to the CBC in Vancouver for its happy 90-minute musical historical, showing the growth of the city between the wars of 1918 and 1939 by intensely interesting still photographs and capturing the spirit of the ever-expanding city through the songs of the day.

Today's CELE-BIRTHDAY

SYNGMAN RHEE
Pres. South Korea

Born: March 26, 1875 Whanghai Province, Korea

South Korea's firebrand for freedom descended from ancient rulers of the Yi dynasty, edited Korea's first daily paper. Stirred by murder of Queen Min, young Rhee organized mass student demonstrations against Japanese influence, fought for reforms, Tortured, sentenced to life, Rhee was converted to Christianity in prison. Later freed, he attended Harvard (M.A.), Princeton (Ph.D.), returned for the relentless fight.

SEASIDE RESORT
LODGE, CABINS

Offered for the first time, we are pleased to have the opportunity to show this exceptional property to the discerning buyer looking for revenue with opportunities for expansion. Consisting of 6 acres of well-treed and developed land almost surrounded by sea. Included are lodge, furnished cabins, swimming pool, boats, floats, games room and staff quarters. Could be developed as "Boatel." Good fishing and hunting available. Col-ored photos in our office. See these and get full particulars from Mr. Agar. Phone 5-3742 or 3-6410 for appointment.

"MONEY MAKER"

One of the most successful modern auto courts on Vancouver Island is now on the market for the first time. Starting with a small capital in 1946, the owner-operator has built this motel into a tiptop money-maker by adding new units each year and modernizing others, meeting all these expenses out of profits.

The struggle of the early years, which all motel operators encounter is now a thing of the past, and the operation is running smoothly grossing $70,000 a year from the 16 up-to-date units plus a smart modern fully-equipped cafe. There is a comfortable 3-bedroom Oil-O-Matic residence for the owner, smart reception offices, blacktop driveways, lawns, and extra building lots for further expansion.

NEW DEVICE INSTALLED AT ST. JOSEPH'S

'Race Results' Reveals Dangers

By PETE LOUDON

They throw a switch at St. Joseph's Hospital laboratory and thousands of tiny molecules race down a paper track.

Sometimes it's a life-and-death race—because the race results can reveal certain liver and heart conditions, kidney diseases, arthritis and some cancers, in a patient reclining with a magazine in some distant bed.

This painless "review" of what goes on inside you is available through the use of a new piece of equipment just installed—a Spinco Model R, Electrophoresis System.

It is the only one of its kind in any B.C. hospital, although St. Joseph's, like other hospitals, has used a home-made device for the same job in the past.

MORE ACCURACY

The new machine gives greater accuracy and can handle more tests in shorter time.

Many medical men feel the device has a potential use even greater than its present achievements.

It may make it possible for doctors to give advance notice to patients who might ordinarily be a sudden victim of a coronary thrombosis.

Though vastly complicated, the new system has a simple basis of operation. By use of electrical currents, it separates the molecules in blood serum.

Eight strips of filter paper are stretched between positive and negative electrical fields. A measured amount of serum is daubed on the paper. A current is passed through the paper and all the tiny molecules begin immediately to migrate toward the positive pole.

None of them would win, place or show on most tracks. It takes them 13 hours to spread out over three or four inches of the paper tracks.

IN WAVES

The molecules travel at different rates, depending upon the types of protein they carry. Types A, B, C, and D remain grouped. They surge down the track in waves.

At this point a technician removes the paper from the current, immerses it in alcohol to "fix" the tiny racers in their last positions. Then a dye is applied which clearly shows the separations.

The density of the color compares the quantities of protein types within the blood.

Another electronic wonder, an analytrol, or "scanner" puts an electric eye to work on the dyed paper. It measures, and a pen records on a graph, how much of each protein type is present.

A doctor, reading the graph, sees a breakdown of your protein mixture. He then is able to make a specific diagnosis and prescribe the best treatment.

St. Joseph's medical administrator Dr. E. N. Boettcher explains that measurement of one type of protein, the Lipoprotein, one day may lead doctors to be able to warn a patient years in advance of coronary thrombosis — the constriction or hardening of tiny vital arteries leading to the brain, from the heart.

It has already been proven that where this protein is increased, the patient is more susceptible to such an attack.

The new equipment cost $2,148.

Advance notice of a fatal illness, so far in advance that you could ward it off by proper care, is worth how much to you?

31 WIVES LATER

'Women Not Worth Salt'

CAIRO (AP)—A 43-year-old Egyptian carpet dealer, who believes women are not worth their salt, has married 31 times and is aiming to wed some more—just because he strives to be a good Moslem.

Hajj Rizk el Manakhly, father of 13 sons, is a dignified man with an average income. He travelled to Mecca for the holy Moslem pilgrimage and for that reason possesses the title of Hajj before his name.

He says he does not believe in marriage for love. His only love marriage was at 26 when he was "green." That was his first.

TOO BUSY

"It was my only love marriage out of the 31 and it did not endure long," Hajj Rizk says. It was to a lady doctor whom he divorced after two months because she was "too busy to be a wife."

El Maakhly justifies his frequent marrying by quoting the prophet Mohammed's words in the Koran: "A Moslem may take four wives at one time."

"I am a devout Moslem who has never disappointed God. I abide strictly by the rules of Islam. At the same time I am a great admirer of women. I desire them badly. So instead of taking a woman and flirting with her and thus committing a sin, I'd rather marry and be sure that I have not displeased God."

Hajj Rizk, who at present has only three wives, says he has had no favorite wife.

He arranges to spend two days weekly with each of his three wives, and observes a day off for his personal affairs.

Quickest marriage: at a tea room. He sent his card to the woman sitting next to his table. She responded. They left hand in hand and were married two hours later.

Youngest wife: A 16-year-old schoolgirl whom he divorced in two months after learning she was a flirt.

Busiest day: Divorcing four wives in one day and replacing them.

Divorce in Islam is not expensive. A Moslem who desires to divorce his wife pays about $2 to a sheikh who hands out the divorce warrant.

POLLS OPEN 8 TO 6 ON ELECTION DAY

Polls will be open between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. Monday for the federal election.

Last June, when the province was on Daylight Time, the hours were 9 to 7.

Under the Election Act, workers must be given three consecutive hours to cast their votes.

You are eligible to vote if you are 21, a Canadian citizen or British subject, and have lived in the country for the past 12 months.

There are no absentee ballots, only a special advance poll for certain classes of workers who will be away from home on voting day. Special provision is made for patients of chronic hospitals only.

'LOTS TO TALK ABOUT'

Princess Has Tea With Townsend

LONDON (CP) — Princess Margaret today had tea with Group Captain Peter Townsend, whose love she renounced in 1955 on religious grounds because of his divorce.

Royal sources said Townsend called on the princess this afternoon at Clarence House, Margaret's mansion on the Mall near Buckingham Palace.

The couple took tea together in the drawing room of the 'princess' private suite in the home she shares with the Queen Mother.

Informants said the meeting was arranged well before Townsend's return this morning from his round-the-world tour.

The Queen Mother was present for the reunion of the 43-year-old wartime RAF hero and the 27-year-old princess.

Margaret renounced Townsend's love in October, 1955, on religious grounds because he was divorced from his wife. The Church of England, of which the Queen is temporal head, frowns upon divorce.

MORE MEETINGS?

The Associated Press quoted one royal source as saying:

"They have so much to talk about.

"Townsend wants to tell the princess about his experiences during the last two years and more, and the princess has been anxious to hear of them.

"No doubt they will meet again and again while the group captain is in London."

Since Margaret issued a personal statement renouncing the handsome war hero who once served as a palace equerry, he has travelled 60,000 miles on a lone tour of the world.

DUTCH AUCTION

Queen Buys Orchids For $160

AALSMEER, The Netherlands (Reuters)—Queen Elizabeth bought flowers in a "push-button auction sale" today during a visit to this centre of Holland's floral industry.

The Queen, on the second day of her three-day state visit to Holland, came away with a bunch of carnations, which she bought for 51 Dutch cents (about 15 cents a bloom.

Queen Elizabeth also bought some orchids. She pushed the button at 570 guilders ($160).

The queen then left for a drive through central Holland to The Hague.

In the royal party was Canada's Gen. H. D. G. Crerar, aide-de-camp-general to Queen Elizabeth.

Third U.S. Satellite In Orbit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States put into orbit its third earth satellite, the army's Explorer III, at 12.45 p.m., EST (9.45 a.m., PST) today.

Dr. Richard Porter, chairman of the technical panel of the U.S. earth satellite program, made the announcement.

He said the tiny "moon" is expected to have a rather short life.

The new satellite was fired from Cape Canaveral, Fla., at 12.38 p.m. EST (9.38 a.m. PST).

The third U.S. satellite was described as being the same size as the previous two army Explorers—80 by six inches and bullet shaped.

FIRST CIRCUIT

The first Explorer stayed up but the fourth stage of the second one failed to fire and did not go into orbit.

Porter said the new satellite made its first circuit around the earth in 121 minutes.

Porter said the short lifetime was expected because of "an apparent deviation in the planned orbit."

It was the third Jupiter-C launching in less than two months.

The rocket team fired Explorer I into its orbit Jan. 31. On March 5 a Jupiter-C propelled Explorer II to orbital altitude but the satellite failed to attain orbital speed because the 50-pound rocket in its fourth and final stage did not ignite.

Two other man-made satellites in addition to Explorer I awaited a travelling companion in their eliptical paths around the earth.

VANGUARD HIGHER

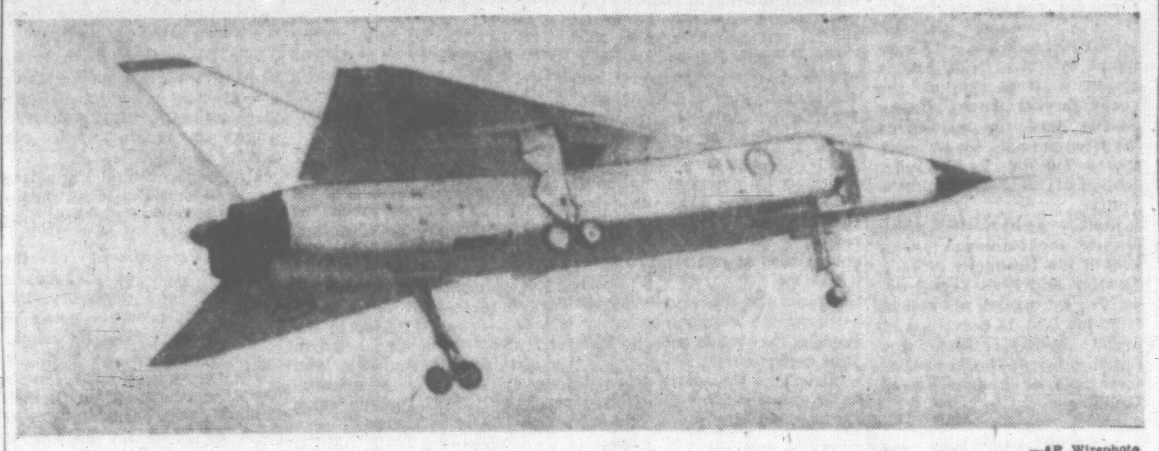

The navy's Vanguard I, the 31-pound aluminum sphere 6.4 inches in diameter, is speeding along far above its sister satellites.

The Vanguard satellite is being trailed through space by the dead hull of the 50-pound, five-foot-long third stage rocket that thrust it to orbital speed. Estimates are that Vanguard may last 10 to 30 years.

Also still in business is the second Soviet satellite, launched Nov. 3. Sputnik II, weighing 1,018 pounds and having an estimated length of 15 feet, has a dead dog aboard. The Red moon has been slowing and descending gradually and may drop out of the skies by April 15.

The first of the artificial moons—Russia's Sputnik I, a 23-inch sphere weighing 184 pounds—was launched Oct. 4.

The final-stage rocket for Sputnik I disappeared late in November, and the satellite itself dropped out of sight the first week in January.

CANADA'S NEWEST JET IN ROARING DEBUT

Ending months of tension for its designers and engineers, the CF-105 Arrow, the most expensive plane ever built in Canada, made a successful 35-minute test flight Tuesday at Toronto. The delta-wing jet interceptor, shown after taking off, is estimated to have a potential speed of 1,220 miles an hour. Tuesday test pilot Jan Zurakowski was told to keep the speed under 400 miles on the maiden flight.

Chance to Win $140,000 Thrills Jobless Immigrant

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

An unemployed Dutch immigrant and his pretty fair-haired wife have a chance to win $140,000 in the Irish Hospitals Sweepstake on the Grand National steeplechase Saturday, it was learned today.

This is a happy chance for tall black-bearded Harry Olivier of 1623 Richmond Avenue, as he is now unemployed for the first time since coming to Canada seven years ago.

Mr. Olivier holds a ticket on Limber Hill, a 100-to-1 shot with the non-de-plume Goldmine. Even if Limber Hill does not win a place in the Saturday race he will receive at least $1,500.

A pipe fitter by trade, Mr. Olivier has worked on construction projects in and around Victoria since he came here in 1951 but became unemployed recently through falling trade.

He and his wife, Margo, and their two children, aged three and five, live in a trim white-painted frame house with rambler roses climbing the walls.

"We don't want any publicity," Mr. Olivier said when approached this morning. "We are just keeping our fingers crossed."

Mrs. Olivier admitted to being "happy and excited" but would not be drawn into any speculation as to how the money would be used.

"We will wait and see," she said.

They declined to say if they would take a trip home to Holland if they won the big prize.

Another shy Victorian with a chance to win $140,000 is Mrs. V. H. V. Shepperd, 1857 Bowker Place, who is employed at the Royal Naval Dockyard, Esquimalt.

"I do not want any notoriety," she told The Times.

Mrs. Shepperd holds a ticket on Richardstown, another 100-to-1 shot, using the nom-de-plume Trudy—her cat.

"How old is your cat?" she was asked.

"If you must know, she's 10-years-old, but I don't want any publicity for her either. And I don't want her photographed."

MASS POW GRAVE FOUND

WARSAW (AP) — A mass grave containing bodies of 5,000 to 6,000 Allied war prisoners — including some Canadians — today was reported discovered at Szprotawa in the former German area of western Poland.

They died in POW camps and were not victims of Nazi massacres.

Graves of more than 20,000 Allied troops have been discovered in the same area in the last two years.

Szprotawa, formerly the German town of Sprottau, is 18 miles from Zagan, where most of the previous graves were discovered in dense woodland. In the region were two big POW camps, Stalag W2C and Stalag Luft III.

Sumatra Coast Mined

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—The Indonesian navy today announced it has mined a 60-mile stretch of Sumatra's west coast centred on the rebel headquarters port of Padang.

The Jakarta government declared the area from Pariaman to Paninan a danger zone closed to all shipping.

Bulganin Ouster Denied by Russ

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Russia's Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan has told Western correspondents "you are wrong if you expect" any government changes when the Supreme Soviet meets Thursday.

Mikoyan, at an embassy reception Tuesday night, told the reporters "you will be there yourselves and you will see."

Under constitutional procedure, President Klementi Voroshilov, Premier Bulganin and other government leaders will submit their formal resignations to the Supreme Soviet.

But the positions of Nikita Khrushchev and other party leaders are not affected during Supreme Soviet sessions. Their posts are decided at party conclaves.

Any changes in government leadership—if contemplated—should be made this week.

In New York, William Ryan, Associated Press news analyst, says speculation is mounting in Western circles that a new premier may be installed in Nikolai Bulganin's chair when the Soviet Union's new parliament convenes.

High Court Approves Sale of Toronto Star

TORONTO—Sale of the Toronto Star Publishing Company for $25,555,021 to the Hawthorn Publishing Company was approved today in the Ontario Supreme Court.

WIRE BRIEFS

Coldwell Will Stay

WINNIPEG — CCF Leader M. J. Coldwell said today he has no intention of retiring from Parliament or as CCF leader. He made the comment in an interview when questioned about his health.

High Seas Argument

GENEVA (Reuters) — Britain and the United States joined forces today to oppose a Communist-bloc proposal to ban naval and air training ranges on the high seas.

Feisal Bosses Army

CAIRO (Reuters) — Crown Prince Feisal, brother of King Saud, was reported today by the Egyptian press to have assumed "complete control" of Saudi Arabia's armed forces. The reports, quoting Mecca radio, said this is in addition to the full powers granted him last week over the country's domestic, foreign and financial affairs.

'GUILTY OF GOBBLE-DE-GOOK'

Low Dares John D. Answer Gas Charge

CALGARY (CP) — Social Credit Leader Solon Low has challenged Prime Minister Diefenbaker to answer the charge the Progressive Conservative policy delayed export of natural gas from Canada.

"If he really means business," he told a political rally attended by about 400 persons Tuesday night, "I expect Mr. Diefenbaker to answer that before the federal election next Monday."

In his speech, a bristling attack on the federal government, Mr. Low:

Challenged Agriculture Minister Harkness to a public debate on the minister's claim that the Social Credit and CCF parties had not forced the government to make amendments to the Farm Stabilization Bill;

Declared the Progressive Conservatives had gone underground and were hiding behind "the Diefenbaker club";

"FALLEN FLAT"

Said the attempt to arouse mass hysteria under the war cry of Sir John A. Macdonald that Canada should have "no truck or trade with the Yankees" had "fallen flat."

Mr. Low charged that Mr. Diefenbaker's statements on gas export were most misleading.

"He was guilty of gobble-de-gook. He knows he played right into the hands of the gas and utility companies in the U.S. that were fighting strongly against the import of Canadian gas."

Selection To Include Russ Team

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today he is asking the United Nations to send foreign observers — probably Russian as well as Western —to U.S. atomic tests scheduled for the Pacific this summer.

Eisenhower made the announcement at a press conference. He said:

"In line with what I said to the press on July 3, 1957, the United States will demonstrate the progress our scientists are achieving in reducing radioactive fallout from nuclear explosions.

"To this end, for the first time at any test, we are planning to invite the United Nations to select a group of qualified scientific observers to witness at the Pacific proving ground this summer a large nuclear explosion in which radioactive fallout will be drastically reduced."

(At United Nations U.S. sources said Russian and Czechoslovak scientists will be among international observers invited to witness an American H-bomb test next summer.

They said the United States will send invitations to all 15 members of the UN scientific committee on the effects of atomic radiation. Canada is a committee member.)

This would indicate planned detonation of a hydrogen bomb since it is only with the H-bomb that fallout can be materially reduced.

While Eisenhower spoke of tests to be held in the Pacific this summer, the 1958 test series may get started next month.

DANGER AREA

At Atomic Energy Commission announced in February that a vast danger area around the Eniwetok testing base would become effective April 5.

An earlier AEC announcement last fall described the planned test series as concerned with "further development of nuclear weapons with greatly reduced radioactive fallout."

It was not clear from Eisenhower's announcement whether foreign observers would be limited to one specific test—the large nuclear explosion mentioned in the statement.

Eisenhower also said the U.S. will invite "as we have on occasions in the past" a representative group of U.S. and foreign news correspondents.

"The United States scientists have been making progress in reducing radioactive fallout from nuclear explosions in the hope and belief that basic advances in both the peaceful and military uses of nuclear energy will thus be achieved," Eisenhower said. "The advantages to mankind of continued progress in his field are obvious.

"The United States has always publicly announced in advance its nuclear testing programs. We trust that the forthcoming test will provide valuable information to the world."

Voters to Back Sommers, Martin Roars at Hecklers

VANCOUVER (CP) — Health Minister Eric Martin Tuesday night predicted a huge majority for ex-cabinet colleague Robert Sommers in the next B.C. election.

Mr. Martin had to roar out his claim to be heard over the voices of two persistent hecklers at a Social Credit rally of about 100 here.

The minister, first member of the B.C. cabinet to enter the federal fight in Vancouver, exploded under repeated needling about Sommers and alleged "cutbacks" in social services.

"He (former forests minister Sommers) is in the area where at the last election the people gave him 35 per cent of the vote.

"And what's more," he roared above the heckling, "at the next election he's going to get over 70 per cent." Mr. Sommers is MLA for Rossland-Trail.

Mr. Martin shouted to one heckler:

"Once a public man is down, kick him in the teeth. That's the kind of man you are. You don't deserve to call yourself a Canadian. Now get out of this hall."

Five Socreds moved in on the bewildered heckler, but Mr. Martin changed his mind.

"Let him alone," he shouted. "I can out-shout any man any day of the week. In fact, I'd like to have him stay."

Mr. Martin turned to an attack on the "tight-money policy" which he said was a major cause of Canada's current unemployment problem.

"And now Coyne has the audacity to lie to us in the middle of an election campaign," Mr. Martin declared.

He apparently referred to Bank of Canada governor James Coyne's recent statement that, by his definition, there was no "tight-money" policy.

Parliament and the government have lost control of the Bank of Canada, Mr. Martin said.

Mr. Martin conceded the March 31 election to the Conservatives. But, he said, "this is the last election the Conservative party will ever win."

PRAYER FOR TODAY

O Lord, have mercy upon us. Cleanse our souls from all hatred and malice toward others. By Thy mercy strengthen our weakness and keep us from hurting anyone by word or deed. May we be wholly given to obedience to what we know of Thy way this day; in Christ's name. Amen.

Oscar Race Wide Open At Tonight's Big Show

BY PHIL LEE
Times Movie Reviewer

They're giving away the "Oscars" tonight in the 30th annual presentation from Hollywood.

DEBORAH KERR

And, in most categories, it's a wide-open race in which almost anyone can win.

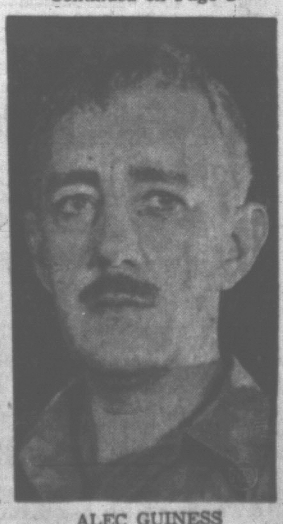

It is also interesting from another angle. Will the 250 voting members of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences allow "patriotism" to subconsciously affect their ballots?

For instance, the critics seem about split between England's Alec Guinness as best actor in "Bridge On the River Kwai" and Marlon Brando for his role in "Sayonara." It is believed to be just as tight a race in the "best picture" category between "The Bridge On the River Kwai" and "Sayonara."

Be that as it may, for the sixth year we'll hold our breath and say how we would vote—if we had a vote—in the various categories.

Best Picture — Unfortunately we haven't seen all of "The Bridge On the River Kwai," but we have seen enough to appreciate that it is the best in the field. And, if it wasn't, our vote would not be for "Sayonara." As we stated when we reviewed the film in the Times, it had, for all its beauty and solid acting, a sameness to it. Much rather would we vote for either "12 Angry Men" or

LONDON—Lord Grey De Ruthyn, a 74-year-old nobleman whose family tree goes back to the 14th century, today reported a branch missing. He can't find his mother's birth certificate.

Without it officialdom won't let him take his hereditary seat in the House of Lords. A search of the family archives and a poll of friends and relatives drew a blank.

All the 25th Baron Grey knows is that his mother, the Hon. Ella Cecily Mary Bowdon-Butler, was born in "some remote part of Scotland" about 104 years ago.

QUEBEC — Le Soleil says Cleveland industrialist Cyrus Eaton has invited some 30 nuclear scientists from all parts of the world to attend informal conferences at nearby Lac Beauport starting next week.

Similar conferences have been held in the past at Mr. Eaton's estate in Pugwash Junction, N.S.

The newspaper says the entire Manoir St. Castin, a resort hotel, has been rented for the conference, scheduled to last from March 31 to April 11.

NEW YORK — A hardy Scot named David Ramsay, now in his 90th year, announced in Greenlea, Scotland, that his 39-year-old wife had given birth to twin girls, and immediately he got the inevitable reporter's query as to how he carried his years so lightly.

He is said to have answered that he kept his youthfulness by "eating a plate of porridge every day and working hard."

OLYMPIA, Wash. — An attempt by Dave Beck, Sr., to obtain a transcript of the grand jury testimony of two Seattle men was blocked at least temporarily by an order issued Tuesday by the chief justice of the State Supreme Court.

Beck, wealthy retired president of the teamsters union, sought the testimony of Jack Stratton and Fred Verschueren, Jr., for use in his appeal from his Dec. 14 conviction of grand larceny. Beck was found guilty of stealing $1,900 from sale of a union-owned Cadillac.

ATHENS—King Paul and Queen Frederika of Greece attended a service in the Te Deum Cathedral here to commemorate the Greek uprising against the Ottoman empire 137 years ago. In a message to the people, Prime Minister Constantine Georgakopoulos said the Greek struggle for independence will only be complete when Cyprus is united to Greece.

LONDON — Doina Trandabur, 23-year-old Romanian dancer who slipped away from her troupe in Britain, applied for asylum as a political refugee from her Communist homeland.

The pretty dancer, now hiding out in London, disappeared from the closely-guarded Romanian dance company in Liverpool last Friday. The rest of the company flew back home Monday.

"Peyton Place," both of which for our money were the next best pictures to "The Bridge" in the past 12 months.

Best Actor — Alec Guinness. Here is a man long overdue for a U.S. award. The brilliant English actor is one of those rare thespians who changes his character from within by some strange chemical reaction rather than resorting to physical histrionics. Many of Guinness' movies, such as "Kind Hearts and Coronets," "Captain's Paradise" and "The Lady Killers" would have been worthy of awards.

Best Actress—Of all, this is the most difficult category. It could quite easily go to Deborah Kerr, Joanne Woodward or Elizabeth Taylor. For each of the three had one thing in common. They WERE the picture. Miss Kerr filled an unpretentious sneaker called "Heaven Knows, Mr. Allison," with warmth and life. Miss Woodward had a most difficult assignment in "The Three Faces of Eve," depicting one woman with three different personalities. And, finally, Miss Taylor displayed unexpected range as the demented southern belle in "Raintree County". However, our vote must go to Miss Kerr, for she is supreme in every recent picture she has been in and we think honors are long overdue her.

Best Supporting Actress—Our choice here is Diane Varsi, the girl who breathed such reality and naturalness into "Peyton Place". However we wouldn't be too displeased if wonderful little Miyoshi Umeki got the nod for her performance in "Sayonara".

Best Supporting Actor — Another tight race here, between Red Buttons for "Sayonara" and Sessue Hayakawa for "Bridge on the River Kwai". But we'll go with Buttons because his role demanded more facile acting, greater ability to change moods and his range, therefore, had to be superior. If we had seen more of the "Bridge" we might have cast our vote the other way.

Best Director—It seems only sensible to give it to the man responsible for the best picture . . . therefore, David Lean, for "The Bridge on the River Kwai."

Best Song—Possibly "All the Way" from "The Joker Is Wild". But we're a softie and can't possibly vote against little Debbie Reynolds' "Tammy" from "Tammy and the Bachelor".

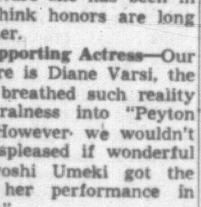

That's that for another year. Meanwhile, don't forget to watch the hour and 45 minute program (unsponsored) that gets under way on Channel 4 at 7.30. It will be repeated on Channel 2 at 11.15.

B.C. ELECTION ROUNDUP

Liberal Attacks Pearkes Claims

George Preston, Liberal candidate in Esquimalt-Saanich, charged Tuesday night that Defence Minister George Pearkes has made some misleading statements in campaign literature.

At a meeting in Sooke Community Hall, Mr. Preston said his Conservative opponent had referred to construction of fishermen's floats in Sooke, and lengthening of Patricia Bay Airport runways.

Money for both these projects was appropriated while the Liberals were in power, he said.

The new post office at Sooke listed in the Conservature brochure is actually a privately-owned building in which the government is merely a tenant, the Liberal candidate said.

Mr. Preston told his audience of 50 that the Conservatives are also trying to claim credit for the St. Lawrence Seaway project started by the Liberals.

Hypocrisy, dictatorship and autocracy were terms used by Harold Winch of Vancouver in referring to the Conservative government at a CCF meeting in Kamloops.

He said the conservatives had betrayed the country on every promise they made prior to last June's election.

"It is time Canadians stopped being governed by the United States. Forty-eight per cent of all manufacturing in Canada is owned by the United States," said Mr. Winch, who seeks re-election in Vancouver East.

"We cannot control export of goods manufactured in this country, but must take orders from Washington. And the Conservatives have done nothing to stop it."

Mr. Winch said:

"You think you are free. You cannot travel in Canada's northland without a signed permit from the American government. When I was member of parliament I could not make a trip through the north country without one of these permits." June's election.

The Progressive Conservative party deserves to be re-elected for its anti-recession housing policy if for nothing else, Works Minister Howard Green said in Kitimat Tuesday night.

He told about 100 persons including a few hecklers that a record 140,000 homes will be started this summer under the Conservative's $250 million loan program for small housing units.

The program kept 100,000 workers employed during the winter and was reflected in the total of 8,319 houses started in Canada during January and February of this year compared with 3,227 for the same period last year.

Mr. Green also claimed the United States is following the Conservative's anti-recession policies by pouring billions into housing.

He saw Prime Minister Diefenbaker as another John A. Macdonald. Mr. Green said the prime minister's 16-year-habit of fighting for "the little people" is the reason "thousands come to hear him."

Premier Bennett pushed his campaign into the Okanagan with Highways Minister Gaglardi to address an audience of 600 in Vernon.

"If this province received a bad deal from the Liberals, we have received a worse deal from the Tories," the premier said.

The Diefenbaker government has no substance, no loosening of credit, no loosening of Canadian dollars, no dynamic program to create work and wages, he said.

Mr. Gaglardi said Canadians would be voting a blank-cheque policy if they returned the Conservatives.

"The development of the northern part of Canada is interesting and necessary, but how is this program going to help the provinces," he asked.

The record of the Social Credit government in British Columbia is proof Social Credit could do more for Canada if returned to Ottawa, Recreation Minister Earle Westwood told a political rally in Rossland.

"The B.C. works project in the last six years has been tremendous," said Mr. Westwood, "and has been an example for the rest of Canada."

"Our debt reduction since 1952 has been $82,000,000."

Speaking at Langford, Esquimalt-Saanich CCF candidate Dr. J. M. Thomas spoke of the need for a constructive attitude toward world peace problems, and the "immense danger of the mad nuclear arms race being carried on by the great powers."

He decried the "ballyhoo" method of present-day electioneering, which, he said, encourages the electorate to forget the issues at stake and to concentrate on the personalities of party leaders.

"This practice led to such disastrous results in several European countries where it was successful in the 1930s," he said.

"All thinking men must be deeply disturbed by the factors affecting democracy in the western world, which Bruce Hutchison set forth so tellingly in a recent article in a local paper," Dr. Thomas said.

Electricians Back To Posts Friday

Some 175 striking Victoria electricians return to work Friday.

About 100 employed by B.C. Electric will take over manning of power facilities from supervisory personnel starting at 12.01 a.m. Friday.

Another 75 employed by Hume & Rumble Ltd. will resume their jobs at 8 a.m.

The same schedule will be followed in Vancouver where another 1,300 members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers were involved in the same strike.

Earlier reports said the men would return to work today but a union official in Vancouver said the Friday return was decided for an efficient changeover avoiding "fits and starts."

Mr. Justice H. W. McInnes has been named as arbitrator to settle the wage increase question. He was expected to sit in Vancouver Monday to hear submissions from both sides.

The electricians ended their three-week-old strike after receiving assurances that the wage arbitration would not be less than a 19 per cent increase for skilled workers.

The union originally went on strike to back demands for increases up to 40 per cent for skilled employees.

LEVELLING OFF IN JOBLESS 'FASTER THAN EXPECTED'

WHITBY, Ont. (CP)—Labor Minister Starr said Tuesday unemployment is levelling off faster than he had expected.

Mr. Starr told a service club meeting the most recent statistics show 550,000 unemployed in Canada in mid-February. "I expected the figure would be more than 600,000," he said.

Boy Gets Life Term

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Russell Alex Burchfield, 15, described by a psychiatrist as intelligent but emotionless, Tuesday was sentenced to life in the state prison for murdering his younger brother.

Contract Let

Contract for construction of the new Lake Hill Elementary School on Lucas Avenue has been awarded Weismiller Construction Ltd.

The firm was low bidder with an offer of $127,322. School district building and grounds superintendent, R. Hamilton Smith, said it is hoped the building will be completed for the fall term this year.

The new school will serve the north Quadra area. It will contain six teaching rooms and an activity room, as well as offices and other usual accommodations. Original estimate of cost in the last school building loan by-law was $148,000.

Russ 'Blundered' On Satellites, Says Dr. Shrum

Russia's launching of two earth-circling satellites has sparked a scientific revolution, but was a "colossal blunder" just the same, Dr. Gordon M. Shrum, UBC head of physics, said here Tuesday.

"If the Russians were able to launch a satellite there was no reason to do it," he told a dinner meeting of the Pacific Fisheries Technologists, "and if they were going to launch it, they shouldn't have announced it."

If the satellite-launching had not been announced, "we would have been much more complacent than we are today," Dr. Shrum said.

"We would never have been able to convince the United States that Russia was ahead of us in everything if they hadn't staged such a spectacular demonstration."

The Western world now is "seriously threatened" for the first time in the field of the inter-continental ballistic missile, he said, a "great achievement" for Russia in the light of the country's background.

Intensive Education in Russia

At the end of the Second World War, Russia had not developed radar, atomic energy or jet engines. Now their advances in these fields are "in some respects greater than ours."

Secret of Russia's success is the development of science and technology through a system of intensive education, he said.

Scientific training in the schools is "five times as much as required to enter UBC" at a time when Western education has "de-emphasized any subject that's difficult."

"We've practically wiped out a lot of drill necessary for mathematics, languages and science," the doctor said.

"In Canada we think we're one of the great industrial nations of the world," he told the meeting. "Yet in the appreciation of science we rank behind Britain, the United States and Russia."

The physics head charged there has been an "incomprehensible neglect" of science in Canadian schools and universities.

The subject has been neglected for so long, he said, that "there are practically no teachers available" and those who are "in many cases haven't any more education on the subject than their students."

'No Emphasis on What They Teach'

Nowadays teachers are well trained in methods of teaching "with no emphasis whatsoever on what they teach."

Russia's advances, if not equalled or surpassed, could lead to world power, Dr. Shrum said.

"If Russia decides to stop putting up satellites and go into industrial production, they will outsell and out-produce us. If the country sends technical men to Asia, they will carry their philosophy with them.

"And if they lead us in science and technology there is no doubt they will take over the world."

PLANE RUNS OUT OF GAS, 5 DROWNED

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A carefree day of shopping in the Bahamas ended Tuesday night with a plane crash which drowned three adults and two children. The rented plane ran out of gas.

The only survivor was Floyd Scites, of Detroit, who was rescued from the Atlantic 2½ miles off Hollywood, Fla., by a fishing boat.

Hugh Wilkinson; his wife, Patricia, 30; their son, Dana, 7; Scites' wife, Dolores, 30; and their 18-months-old daughter Deborah, perished.

Pickpockets Pilfer Pilgrims' Pockets

LOURDES, France (AP) — Police today said 15 pilgrims were the victims of pickpockets during the two-day ceremonies of the consecration of the new underground basilica here.

Special police reinforcements had been sent to Lourdes from Paris with the sole duty of keeping an eye on the pickpockets.

RECOGNITION of long years of service to the Liberal Party has been given to Daniel A. MacDonald, 371 Kerr. Mr. MacDonald, left, was presented with a life membership in the Saanich District Liberal Association by Esquimalt-Saanich candidate George Preston. Mr. MacDonald, 86, has been voting Liberal for 65 years. He first came to B.C. in 1898, moved to Alberta in 1912, and returned here in 1944.

Heart Disease Discovery Hailed

NEW YORK (CP)—The magazine Newsweek says that a discovery by Dr. Hans Selye of Montreal, world authority on stress as a cause of death, is being hailed as a research "breakthrough" in the fight against heart disease.

Dr. Selye, director of the Institute of Experimental Medicine and Surgery at University of Montreal, has long experimented with the theory that stress, causing chemical imbalance in the body, is the cause of degenerative diseases, including those of the heart, kidneys and blood vessels.

In recent experiments he has shown that rats always die after being placed under stress, extreme cold, following injections of certain chemicals—hormones and salts.

Says Newsweek:

"But what Selye has discovered is that other rats, treated exactly the same but given injections of magnesium and potassium, always live—apparently protected against stress."

This indicates that the new chemical treatment prevents, in rats, the kind of heart damage known as cardiac infracts, or "accidents," which account for half the annual toll of 900,000 lives, the magazine says.

"The discovery has been hailed as a breakthrough in the important sense that it can lead to prevention of one kind of heart disease where the best hope has been treatment."

FROM VICTORIA TO MAINLAND

Diamond Jubilee for Paper

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Province celebrates its diamond jubilee today. It was 60 years ago when the newspaper first began publication as a daily paper here.

Vancouver, with a population then of 20,000, already had two newspapers — The World and The News-Advertiser—but Hewlitt Bostock, A. H. Scaife and Archer Martin decided it needed a third. They closed their Victoria weekly and came to the mainland.

Mr. Bostock later sold out his interest to Walter Cameron Nichol, going on to the House of Commons and eventually becoming Speaker of the Senate.

Mr. Nichol continued to operate The Province until 1924 when he sold his interest to the Southam group of newspapers. The publishing reins during ensuing years passed through the hands of Frank J. Burd, M. E. Nichols, O. L. Spencer, P. C. Galbraith and in 1950 to the present publisher, A. W. Moscarella.

One of its biggest scoops was chalked up in 1918 by Roy Brown, a reporter who later became the paper's editor. This was the sinking of the CPR's Princess Sophia in Alaska waters with the loss of 398 lives.

Company officials first learned of the sinking when they read Brown's story. W. C. Nichol, then owner and editor, demanded of Brown how he had found out about it; but he never did tell who gave him the tip.

SCIENTISTS CLOSER TO TARGET

Anti-Cancer-Drug Seen

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Scientists are coming closer to an antibiotic against cancer.

Their search began long ago when doctors noticed that a few cancer patients were actually cured when they had a serious bacterial disease, erysipelas.

The erysipelas germs were producing a chemical—an antibiotic—that fought against the cancer.

Antibiotic means a chemical or drug produced by living organisms. Penicillin and streptomycin are made by tiny molds. They're effective against many kinds of germs, but not against cancers.

New steps toward the cancer antibiotics were described today to an American Cancer Society tour for science writers of major United States research centres.

Certain bacteria, including erysipelas germs, produce an antibiotic known as a polysaccharide, a complex sugar. These chemicals have had some temporary successes against human cancers. But a drawback is they're poisonous or damaging themselves.

But now several new ones have been found which apparently have no bad effects at all, said Drs. Helga Francis Havas and A. J. Donnelly of the Institute for Cancer Research here.

Some cause complete disappearance of two-thirds of cancers planted artificially in mice. But they don't do much against natural or spontaneous cancers in mice, the scientists admit.

CHURCHILL BUSY AGAIN —PASSES 'GOOD NIGHT'

ROQUEBRUNE CAP MARTIN, France (Reuters)—Sir Winston Churchill "passed a good night," a member of his household said today. Now recovering from a slight recurrence of pneumonia, he was back at work again and dictated a heavy mail to his two secretaries this morning.

He was in high spirits to celebrate his escape from bed, where he had been confined since Saturday because of a slight setback in his convalescence from pneumonia and pleurisy.

An official bulletin Tuesday said he is thinking about returning to England as soon as the weather improves.

Probe Into Freight Rate Cuts Welcomed by Canadian Truckers

OTTAWA (CP) — The national organization of Canada's truckers today welcomed a decision of the board of transport commissioners to investigate heavy reductions in freight rates put into effect by the railways in the west last year.

"It is a victory for long-haul trucking in the west but more so for shippers of the west," executive secretary John Magee of Canadian Trucking Associations said in a statement commenting on the board's decision Tuesday.

"Only the trucks stand between western shippers and the return of railroad monopoly service and railroad monopoly rates."

The railways last spring effected sharp rate cuts on many commodities in the four western provinces. The truckers organization asked the board to disallow them, claiming they were illegal.

The board Tuesday ruled the CTA does not have the status of an applicant, but said it will conduct its own investigation into the new rates and will permit CTA to present evidence.

CTA represents about 6,000 local and long-distance haulage firms through provincial associations.

Mr. Magee's statement said competition from trucks has saved shippers hundreds of millions of dollars in the west and because of this the railways are determined to cripple western Canada's long-haul trucking industry.

College Keeps Western Title With Easy Win

By IAN SMITH

Victoria College Vikings are uncertain today when they will start their second Canadian junior basketball final, but they should finally be convinced that following a coach's instructions pays off.

Vikings, who had to batttle all the way to build up a 2-1 lead in the first three games of the best-of-five western Canada final against Winnipeg Buffaloes, nailed down their second straight western title at Victoria High School Tuesday night.

And they did it with surprising ease, whipping the Buffaloes 62-32, as they baffled the Prairie champions with a switch in tactics.

College officials were still uncertain today when the best-of-five Dominion final against the eastern titleholders would start.

Reports from the east give the starting date as April 12, but original plans were to have the final start on the home floor of the western champions April 21. The latter date would conflict with school examinations and it is possible Vikings would default if it is not changed.

SUITABLE DATE

However, college officials stated this morning that since both east and west have asked for a switch from the April 21 starting time, it is believed dates suitable to both finalists will be worked out.

Vikings, who had often forgotten instructions and stayed entirely with their usual fast-breaking style of play in the opening three games and dropped a 72-71 overtime thriller Monday, followed coach Bill Garner's instructions to the letter Tuesday night.

Apparently determined to squash rumors that they had lost the spirit and teamwork that had carried them to the Dominion final last year, Vikings were in command from the start.

They started off by almost freezing the ball near mid-court waiting for the Buffs to open up their defence. When the Buffaloes moved out, Vikings sent a man slashing through the centre and carved out a 10-6 lead in the opening 10 minutes.

QUICK SWITCH

Then they suddenly unleashed their familiar fast-breaking attack before again switching back to ball control methods, and held a 26-12 lead at the half.

Garner, apparently believing Winnipeg coach Sam Dolhun would have told his charges to combat the slow-moving Viking tactics, had his crew off and running with the second-half whistle.

Five minutes after the intermission, Vikings, on a remarkable combination of deadly shooting and alert rebounding, were out of reach with a 42-16 lead.

BETTER CHECKINIG

From then on, it was just a matter of playing out the game and both clubs sent their second-stringers into the tussle.

One of the biggest improvements in the college crew was in checking.

Alex Keenan, who had scored 18, 25 and 18 points in the first three games of the series as he kept his team in the running, was powerless to do anything as Vikings stopped him at 11 points.

It was Harvey Muth, though, who felt the greatest decline. The victim of concentrated college attention throughout the game, Muth, Monday's top point-catcher with a total of 21, wound up with a completely blank night.

Vikings, on the other hand, found their shooting eyes of old Tuesday, and, while their totals were not enormous, they hit consistently.

BOB GETS 14

Tall Bob Tomlinson came to the fore with 14 points as he played one of his better games, while Waldo Skillings, who except for brief flurries of stardom in earlier games had had a mediocre series, played well during his whole time on the floor in the last game and wound up with 13 points.

Tom English also exhibited improvement over his Monday performance, chipping in 12 points to cap a good performance all around.

Getting the best mileage for his floor time was Art Chiko, who tossed in nine points after entering the game with only 11 minutes remaining in the second half.

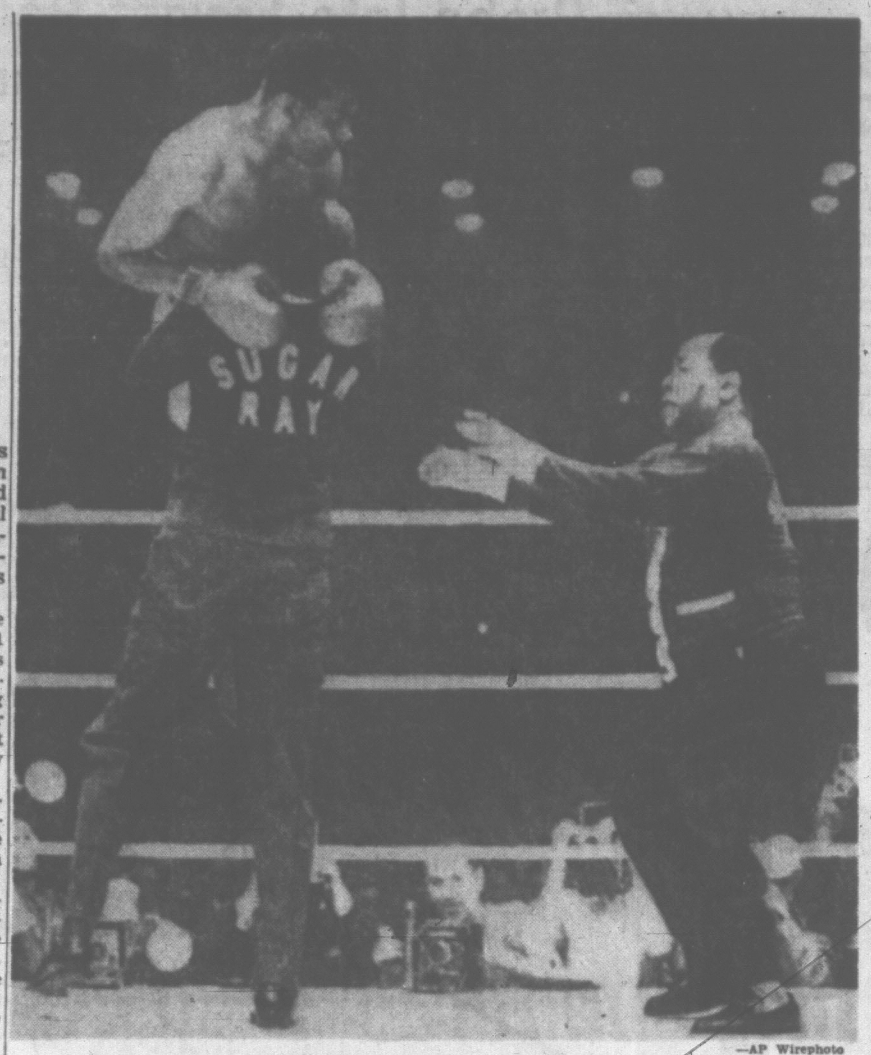

Scorers follow:

Winnipeg Buffaloes—Mackl. Meinhardis 8, Seeplah 6, Muth, Block, Osadchuk 4, Leach 4, Robinson 2, Johnston, Keenan 11. Total—32.

Victoria College Vikings—Skillings 13, Patterson 2, Kowalyk 2, McCullpch, Finch, Showers 2, Chiko 9, Brousseau 8, English 12, Tomlinson 14. Total—62.

Aging Robinson Has Final Say For Return Bout

CHICAGO (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson beat Father Time and one-eyed Carmen Basilio Tuesday night to regain the world middleweight championship for an incredible fourth time.

The fight was tough in both cases.

Robinson was exhausted at the end of the 15 rounds in taking a split decision. He was so limp he barred the press from his Chicago Stadium dressing room and held a news conference two hours later in his hotel suite after regaining composure and breath.

Age (he will be 38 in May) nearly caught up with him Tuesday night. But this was something 30-year-old Basilio, a 2-1 favorite, couldn't do.

ATTACKS EARLY

The fight actually was between a good welterweight and a good middleweight. Basilio came in at 153 pounds. Robinson weighed 159¾.

Robinson did most of his damage early. In the fifth round he stunned Basilio with three quick lefts to the face and a smashing right that had the champion a little rocky at the bell.

It was then that a cut opened over Basilio's left eye. The eye became swollen shut in the sixth round and from then on he could be considered at the mercy of Sugar Ray.

But the Harlem dandy couldn't put his courageous little opponent away. The steam of a former day was gone, and Basilio's raw tenacity made it all the tougher.

The ingredients are present for another rematch, which the International Boxing Club hopes to stage in June in New York, Robinson willing.

SPLIT DECISION

Robinson, who can ham it up as well as the next TV performer wouldn't say yes or no. He is expected to play the part of being on the brink of retirement to the hilt—until he and IBC President Jim Norris get down to financial facts.

In the meantime, Basilio will be demanding a rematch although there was no such stipulation in their contracts.

All the fanfare is there for a promotion. Basilio lifted the 160-pound title from the Sugarman in New York last September on a split decision. This time it was in reverse, the referee again being in the middle.

In New York, the two judges went for Basilio and the referee for Robinson. Tuesday night, Judge Frank McAdams saw it for Robinson, 72-64, under the five-point must system and Judge John Bray scored it 71-64. Referee Frank Sikora voted for Basilio, 66-69, and thereby drew loud booing. The AP card favored Robinson, 70-63.

NO KNOCKDOWNS

Undoubtedly, Basilio would have been much more effective if the curtain had not dropped over his left eye. There were no knockdowns but both fighters landed enough blows to rock each other occasionally.

Paid attendance was announced as 17,976 but there appeared to be a standing-room gathering that would top 20,000. Gate receipts were $351,900 with a net of $278,108.

Basilio and Robinson each received 30 per cent of the net and the same cut of an estimated $300,000 from the closed circuit network that was fed into 38 states, Canada and the District of Columbia, $30,000 in radio proceeds and an unknown amount from movie rights. Each will pocket nearly $200,000.

In 150 fights, Robinson has lost only six times. Basilio now stands at 13 defeats in 72 bouts.

JEEPERS, WHAT A PEEPER!

Loser, but no weeper, Carmen Basilio manages wry smile as he sits in dressing room after losing world middleweight title to Ray Robinson. Swollen eye is evidence of punishment handed out by new champion in brutal 15-round battle. (AP Wirephoto.)

Weary Sugar Silent

CHICAGO (AP) — Fabulous Sugar Ray Robinson played the role of a six-time champion to the hilt Tuesday night by barring reporters from his dressing room and holding a press conference hours later in his hotel suite.

"He's just too tired to talk now," said manager George Gainford right after Robinson had bettered Carmen Basilio for 15 rounds to regain the middleweight title of the world for the fourth time.

Sugar Ray, the one-time welterweight champion and five-time winner of the middleweight crown, was whisked to his hotel room. Lying in bed in a pair of blue and white striped pajamas, the weary champion answered questions softly and briefly.

"It was one of my toughest fights," said Robinson. "I'm tired, very tired. I haven't made up my mind what I'm going to do."

Robinson said Basilio "hurt me several times," but he said he was "very surprised" when he learned referee Frank Sikora had scored Basilio the winner.

VISION IMPAIRED

Robinson plans to return to New York late today.

Basilio, his left eye closed, swollen and discolored, talked about a return bout with the man whom he dethroned in 15 rounds in New York last Sept. 23.

Carmen said his vision was impaired from the fourth round on and kept him off balance. By the sixth round the eye was shut completely.

"I couldn't get my distance right," said Basilio. "If you can't get distance, you find yourself off balance."

"We want a return match," said co-manager Joe Netro.

While Basilio and his handlers talked freely of a possible third fight, there was no indication from the Robinson camp that there would be another one.

"We don't have any contract for a third fight," said Gainford. "You guys are talking to a man who just swam the English Channel and now that he's through, you're asking him if he's going to swim back."

Phil Big Help in Rout, But Rocket Started It

MONTREAL (CP)—Rookie Phil Goyette surprised even himself with a three-goal hat trick in joining Montreal Canadiens' big guns Tuesday night in an unmerciful 8-1 rout of Detroit Red Wings in the opening game of their Stanley Cup semifinal.

Canadiens, National Hockey League champs, got the jump on the Wings in the best-of-seven series with a spectacular five-goal production in the first period, led by the veteran Maurice (Rocket) Richard.

Before the game was five minutes old, the 36-year-old Rocket, idol of Montreal fans, had exploded for two goals and the rout was on.

BAD BEATING

Jean Beliveau, Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion and Dickie Moore—all big names in Montreal's scoring power over the last few seasons—had a hand in one of the worst drubbings suffered by a team in the annual post-season competition.

The teams meet here again Thursday night.

The Red Wings' lone goal came on a power play in the second period, Johnny Wilson letting go a 40-footer that was screened all the way and plopped into the net behind startled goalie Jacques Plante.

Rocket Richard's return to scoring form was welcomed by his teammates. Sidelined by an injury from Nov. 13 until Feb. 20, the Rocket scored only four goals in the last 13 games of the NHL season. They came in pairs in two games.

He also helped on two other goals Tuesday night, his four points bringing his total for his 16 season career to 1,0003, including playoff games. The Rocket has scored 508 goals in regular-season play and 72 in 12 post-season series.

Both of his goals Tuesday night were scored from just outside the crease. He tipped in Dickie Moore's foot-high pass at 2.22 and slapped in Boom Boom Geoffrion's rebound at 4.07.

NEW YORK WINS OPENER

Few Ranger Fans Agree With Muzz

NEW YORK (AP) — New York Rangers, off to a fast start in their semifinal Stanley Cup set against Boston, will have to get along without captain Red Sullivan for the remainder of their best-of-seven series with the Bruins.

The second-place Rangers whipped Boston 5-3 Tuesday night before a capacity crowd of 15,925 in Madison Square Garden. But their enthusiasm was tempered by the triple fracture of the jaw suffered by Sullivan.

Sullivan, who fell heavily when he was checked by the Bruins' Vic Stasiuk midway in the first period, was resting in a hospital today. His jaw was to be wired by a dental surgeon. There is a possibility he will return for the final National Hockey League playoff if New York eliminates the Bruins.

"It was a deliberate injury," said Ranger coach Phil Watson.

"It was a fair check and is all part of the game," said Muzz Patrick, the team's general manager.

"I don't know what hit me," offered Sullivan.

Most of the partisan Ranger followers agreed with Watson and jeered the Bruins vociferously for the remainder of the opening session.

The second game will be played here Thursday night. But because a circus will occupy the New York garden the rest of the series will be in Boston.

Veteran Dave Creighton was the Rangers' big gun Tuesday night.

He scored twice and assisted on one of three first-period goals that enabled the second-place blueshirts to come from behind.

Fight Fan Fraley Learned a Lesson

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UP) — Sugar Ray Robinson apparently is here to stay but as far as box fighting goes, there are three things which have to go. They are:

1. Watching them long distance by television.

2. Carmen Basilio, who up to now has defied the theory that a man can take only so much punishment.

3. The lady who sat in front of me, wore an ostrich feather in her hat and could have been no other than two-ton Tony Galento's big sister, three-ton.

In retrospect, after watching the cash register kid from Harlem take back the middleweight crown through the magic lantern at a Broadway theatre, it wasn't too bad really. I didn't have to make the trip back from Chicago.

It must be admitted that I use the word "watching" rather loosely. From my aerie in the peanut gallery, it was like tracking two trained seals through the wrong end of a telescope in a snowstorm. The picture may have been so fuzzy because on this night he didn't have to look sharp. The customers paid $5 a head and at those prices, oh happy day, you don't have to watch Mickey Mantle shave.

It was one of the few blessings.

Nothing was very clear, not even to the ring announcer. He introduced Spider Webb as a "pieces of fighting machine" while the camera was focused on Frankie Sinatra (featherweight) and George Raft (obviously grown into a heavy middleweight). Oh, yes, Hedda, Lauren wasn't there.

Life at Home Never Like This!

The lights went out as the participants clambered into the ring and the man in back of me said to his companion:

"Baby, run out in the kitchen and get me a beer."

Habit, no doubt.

The man in back of me came stumbling in with hot dogs and soft drinks, first sitting in my lap and then doing an Abbott to my Costello. Naturally I got the mustard and the drenching.

There were the usual amenities in the middle of the ring and then a fellow with 40-40 vision announced to those within the sound of any healthy tugboat that "they're off." He undoubtedly wandered in from Gulfstream.

To me it looked like two apprentice muggers practicing in the subway. I thought they made a mistake and picked up the re-run of "Dancing in the Dark" but somebody, either in Chicago or New York, pulled a switch or juggled a lever and in came a picture which was just about as good as the old Kaleidescope of "Birth of a Nation."

You could follow it pretty well, in all fairness, if you didn't mind getting a terrific headache.

I did, particularly when the lady in back of me stuffed a lighted cigaret in one of those ash trays on the back of the seat — my seat. About that time I thought it was Jimmy Cagney paying the extreme penalty, with physical effects.

"Fix up the eye, Sugar," somebody boomed in my ear.

He must have had inside information. I couldn't even make out Basilio's head.

But I see by the morning papers, the guy must have read the script. The next time, however, I'm going to be there in person. My eyes feel worse than Basilio's.

Floyd Scores KO In London Bout

LONDON (AP) — Cleveland Williams, hard-hitting heavyweight contender from Houston, Tex., Tuesday night stopped Welshman Dick Richardson in the fourth round of a 10-round bout at Empress Hall. Williams weighed 208½, Richardson 203.

Referee Frank Wilson stopped the right and disqualified the 23-year-old Richardson for "persistent butting." The Welsh milkman had been given several warnings.

Also featured on the program was an exhibition by world heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson who drew a roar from the sellout crowd of 10,000 when he dropped sparmate Dusty Rhodes with a left to the jaw.

Patterson's manager, Cus D'Amato, is trying to line up a title challenger for June.

James to Return To Hockey Leafs

TORONTO (CP) — Gerry James signed a 1958-59 contract with Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League Tuesday, ending months of uncertainty over whether he would continue playing hockey.

James, star fullback with Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the Western Interprovincial Football Union, will report to the Leafs after the conclusion of this year's football season. The right winger joined the hockey club on that basis last fall.

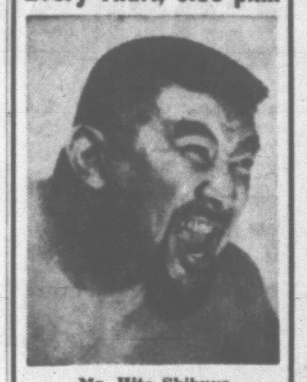

Acting manager Stafford Smythe also announced the signing of centre Brian Cullen for next season.

Colt League Slates Player Registrations

All boys wishing to play baseball in the Colt League this season are invited to attend a practice session at Windsor Park Sunday afternoon.

Players will be registered during a two-hour workout, which starts at 2.

SUE WON'T FORGET CARACAS . . . . . LIVED IN A PENTHOUSE

Tennis Difficult at 3,000 Feet

Susan Butt, rated one of Canada's finest tennis prospects, is currently on a three-month tour of Florida and Caribbean tournaments. The 19-year-old Victoria girl is writing a series of articles exclusively for The Daily Times, telling her impressions of people, places and tennis on the winter circuit.

This is the 12th of the series.

By SUSAN BUTT

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico—They call it Caracas the beautiful and, looking back at our stay in that city during the Venezuelan tennis championships, I must admit I was rather impressed.

Susan

Caracas is beautiful and it has the reputation of being the richest, most modern and most expensive city in the world to live in.

The city lies in a mountain valley, 3,000 feet above sea level. It's difficult to play tennis at that altitude if you're not used to it. The lighter atmosphere makes ball control tricky and saps one's energy.

The mountains of Venezuala, with their oil and gold and minerals, have given Caracas its richness. But wealth also causes conflict and Caracas has gone through a reign of terror during the recent revolution.

Because of the political upheaval, it appeared for a time that the tournament would not be held.

The championships, held at the very fancy Altimira Tennis Club, were first class. The umpires were good; the ballboys trained almost to perfection, and transportation well arranged.

The club is a wealthy one and money is one thing that always makes a tournament easy to run. It was at this club that I saw bridge being played for $3 a point.

The weather was much too hot for tennis. These tropical places seem very unhealthful.

A number of players became quite ill because of changes in the climate, water and food.

It's hard to believe it when you see the city now, but people say that five years ago Caracas "was nothing." But now the tall buildings, fancy highways and other feats of engineering have set it apart from other places.

The old government, a dictatorship that fell because of the revolution, was supposedly responsible for building Caracas into the city it is today. They didn't seem to be afraid of spending money and examples of this can be seen all around.

One example of their free spending is a hotel (now called Hotel Humboldt) on top of a 7,000-foot mountain overlooking Caracas. At night, the hotel looks like a huge jewel hanging in the sky.

It can only be reached by a cable car which runs up the side of the mountain. Along with the hotel, there are also a few bars and dining rooms, an indoor swimming pool, an ice-skating rink and several ballrooms.

One morning all the tennis players were taken up to see the hotel. The ride on the cable car was a little frightening, but a beautiful one.

From the top, we saw Caracas lying below, a city of almost a million nestled in a long valley. And on the other side, we saw farm-studded slopes descending steeply into the sea.

I suppose I'll remember Caracas for a long time. For there, for the first time in my life, I lived in a penthouse.

'Old Sidewheeler' Ready for First Trial Run

Preparing for first trial run as captain of the good ship Commodore is Lieut.-Cmdr. Harold Lawrence, (far left) with his first mate, Lieut. Ed. McFayden. The former naval research vessel HMCS Cedarwood has been converted into a replica of the side-wheel steamer Commodore which arrived in Victoria in 1858 with gold-hungry pioneers aboard.

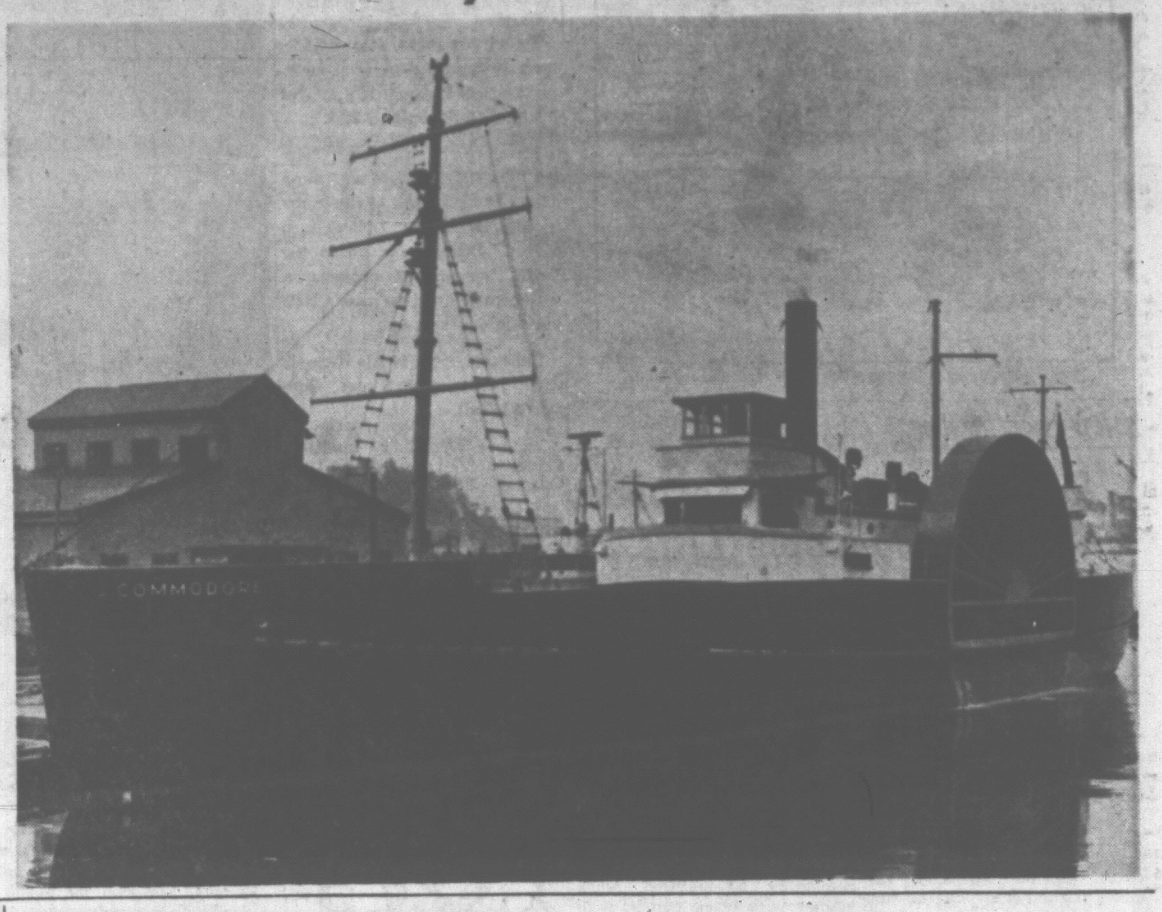

Re-enactment of this historic event will be one of the features of the Centennial Year. Today the Commodore tried out her simulated paddle wheels in the approaches to Esquimalt harbor.

At 2 p.m. Thursday she will leave her moorings at HMCS Naden with an official centennial committee party on board, for a two-hour run in Juan de Fuca Strait.

The hull of the old Cedarwood has been completely repainted, false bulwarks built to raise the height of the ship, masts and yards added, and a pilothouse built above the wheelhouse.

The reproduction is a faithful copy of the original Commodore. Work was done at HMC Dockyard.

Re-enactment of the actual landing here will be carried out on April 26. A detachment of RCN personnel has been "told off" to grow beards and act the part of the arriving miners. (Times photos.)

VICTORIA, B.C., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 26, 1958 21

MONTE ROBERTS

I have long been an admirer of Capt. Lorenzo Lysons Atwood, VRD, RCN, better known as "Bud."

I had the privilege of meeting him for the first time when he was Chief of Staff to the Flag Officer, Pacific Coast. We met on the bridge of the cruiser Quebec, as the guests of Pat Budge, and started a sort of mutual admiration society.

Atwood

Over the months, I found much to like about Bud. Sense of humor which bordered on the sense of the ridiculous; keen mind; lovely wife; wildcat-type but likeable children.

But just today, I found another quality in Bud Atwood even more deserving of admiration.

Capt. Atwood is a man of great courage.

I know, because a new, official photograph of Capt. Atwood has just arrived from naval headquarters, at Ottawa.

And do you know what my friend is wearing in this photograph?

My friend is wearing a monocle.

Now, it is a tribute to the skill and perseverence of a man if he is ABLE to wear a monocle.

(Whether it is a tribute that he would WANT to wear one is something else again.)

I suspect there are many secret monocle-wearers.

But for a man to come right out in public, and wear a monocle in his official Royal Canadian Navy photograph—a photograph distributed to every daily newspaper in Canada—a photograph which is apt to get itself published almost anywhere, even here—this calls for a type of bravery far and above anything I can conceive.

Incidentally, I see Bud's newest job is director of Naval Intelligence at Ottawa.

All that courage—and intelligence, too?

All Workers Stay Off Mansion Job

Teamsters Cause Complete Shutdown

The rush job of constructing Government House was stopped in its tracks this morning when no workers showed up.

About 75 carpenters and laborers, carrying out a decision reached Tuesday, stayed away from the project because of teamster picket lines.

The mass refusal to cross the picket lines ended two days of confusion which saw some carpenters staying on the job while others packed up their tools because of the "on strike" placards borne by the teamsters.

RETALIATION

The pickets were set up against the contractor, John Laing and Son (Canada) Ltd., in retaliation for lockouts of the union by Heavy Construction Association of B.C. members on the mainland.

No teamsters were employed on the Government House job but the striking Vancouver Teamsters Local 213 is certified as bargaining agent with the company on a province-wide basis.

53c HOURLY

The union is striking against the construction association for implementation of a 53-cent an hour wage increase recommended by a conciliation board.

A company spokesman said the teamsters strike should not delay the November completion target unless it lasts a further two weeks.

Horse Racing Dates Approved By Government

The provincial government today approved horse racing dates for the 1958 season, including 14 days at Sandown Park, Sidney.

Kempton Park Ltd. has been authorized to operate races at Sandown Sept. 13, 17, 18, 19 and 20. Goodwood Park Ltd. will operate the track Sept. 24, 25, 26, 27 and Oct. 1, 2, 3, 4 and 6.

Racing dates approved for the Vancouver area are:

Lansdowne Park, Richmond: June 13, 14, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28; July 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 7, 8, 12, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 23, 24, 25, 26, 28, 29, 30, 31; Aug. 1, 2, 4.

Exhibition Park, Vancouver: May 16, 17, 19, 21, 23, 24, 26, 28, 30, 31; June 2, 4, 6, 7, 9; Aug. 7, 8, 9, 11, 13, 14, 15, 16, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30; Sept. 1, 5, 6, 8.

Five-Mile Danger Area for Planes at 'Big Rip' Blast

Aircraft will not be allowed within five miles of the Ripple Rock explosion April 5, the air services branch of the transport department announced today.

The restriction will extend over a three-hour period beginning one hour before the scheduled time of the explosion, or from 8.30 to 11.30 a.m.

The warning applies to all heights over the area, since it is felt danger to aircraft from flying rock and air concussion would be appreciable.

In addition, rockets will be sent to heights of at least 14,000 feet in connection with certain scientific tests to be held in conjunction with the blast.

If the blast is delayed because of poor weather, the restriction will be rescheduled for from 9.30 a.m. to 12.30 p.m., April 6, and for 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., April 7.

R. L. CHALLONER
... brief illness

Ex-Box Firm President Dies at 59

Victoria - born businessman Robert Lindsay Challoner, 1663 Rockland, died at his home Tuesday after a brief illness.

Mr. Challoner, 59, had been president and manager of Victoria Box and Paper Ltd., until retirement in 1957.

He founded the firm in 1926 with the re-organization of Davis and Schmelk into Victoria Paper Box Co. This was developed further in 1934 under the present name.

An enthusiastic golfer, Mr. Challoner had been captain of Uplands Golf Club, and a member of Victoria Golf Club. He also was a member of First United Church, the Union Club, and past president of Victoria Gyro Club.

Born in 1898, the son of pioneer city jeweler W. L. Challoner, he attended University School here and the Royal Military College at Kingston, Ont.

OVERSEAS

On graduation in 1916, Mr. Challoner served overseas with the Royal Engineers as lieutenant until 1919. He was awarded the Military Cross for gallantry.

During the Second World War he was a lieutenant in the reserve force and later a major commanding the 39th Field Battery, RCA (R).

Surviving are the widow Eileen at home; one daughter, Mrs. Richard Greaves, San Francisco; one son, FO Robert Russell Challoner, Penhold, Alta.; one sister, Mrs. Florence Challoner Huston, Salem, Ore., and relatives in eastern Canada and southern California.

In 1954, Mr. Challoner had the honor of presenting wings of the RCAF to his son at a ceremony in Winnipeg.

He was predeceased by another daughter, Beverley Eileen, in 1943.

Funeral arrangements are in the charge of Hayward's B.C. Funeral Home.

Minister Urges Teachers To Withdraw Strike Threat

Dispute Flares On Second Front At Kamloops

The dispute between B.C. teachers and municipal school authorities over salary negotiations flared on a second front today at Kamloops.

Twenty-two of 47 teachers at the 1,100-student Kamloops High School offered themselves in a "package deal" to any other school that would give them a job.

They claimed their salaries were fixed without negotiation and that Kamloops teachers stay at the bottom of the heap in B.C."

The 22 teachers include principal W. H. Gurney, vice-principal Perry Richards and 10 department heads. Some of the teachers have been at the school for 22 years.

The Kamloops dispute resulted in a public meeting which voted 107 to 4 in favor of negotiations. The teachers abstained from voting at the meeting.

But the Kamloops school trustees by a 4-to-2 vote still refused to negotiate with the teachers.

Ex-Victorian Wins $30,000 Scholarship

Former Oak Bay High School student, Dr Robert F. Hetherington, has been awarded a $30,000 scholarship by the John and Mary R. Markle Foundation.

The scholarship, to be paid at the rate of $6,000 a year for five years, will enable Dr. Hetherington to continue his studies and research in neurological surgery.

Graduate of Oak Bay High in 1943, he attended UBC and received his MD at the University of Toronto. Ontario's Rhodes Scholar for 1950, he studied at Oxford University where he received his doctor of philosophy degree.

Dr. Hetherington is now touring European neurological institutes as a McLaughlin Travelling Fellow.

His appointment as assistant professor of Queen's University faculty of medicine, Kingston, Ont., is effective July 1.

Dr. Hetherington, son of Mrs. C. R. Reid, Okanagan Mission, also attended Monterey School here. He was well known as a lacrosse player here and in the interior.

POLL DISCUSSES TEACHER RIGHTS

By BEN CROW
Western Surveys-Research Ltd.

The citizens of Greater Victoria are almost unanimous in their opinion that school teachers should have the same bargaining rights as other workers except for the right to strike.

This decision is largely based on the concept of fairness: "They have rights the same as any other profession;" "They should get an even break."

Ben Crow

Other persons say: "The teachers need better wages and we need better teachers!"

But the majority are against teachers having the right to strike. Women are especially against teachers striking because they are conscious of and anxious to insure their children's education.

This attitude of the public is especially interesting at this time because a group of teachers on the Lower Mainland has just petitioned to join a labor union as a test case.

The majority also feels blacklisting and other bargaining procedures are lowering the dignity of the teaching profession. In fact, it is because teaching is considered a profession, that some people are against negotiations, and especially strikes, by teachers.

This group show its anxiety in comments like this: "It will give a poor opinion to the students;" "People now look up to them;" "Blacklisting certainly will lower their dignity;" "It will lower everyone's dignity;" "They're getting as bad as the Trade Unions;" "They have the right but it is still shortsighted."

★ ★ ★

Of course a large number of persons support the teachers: "Drastic procedures to get a raise are best;" "They should have a union;" "Only done when school boards go to arbitration;" "Other industries do."

Another few think these tactics are bad but temporary and necessary: "Perhaps at first but it may be a necessary evil."

The questions with answers from a scientifically selected sample of 100 men and women are as follows:

In your opinion, should B.C. school teachers have the, right, or not have the right, to bargain with school trustees as follows:

★ ★ ★

To negotiate wages, working conditions, and other benefits under the same laws as other workers, except for the right to strike?

Yes, should have right	83
No, should not have right	6
No opinion	11

To also have the right to strike?

Yes, right	30
No	58
No opinion	12

Lightning Causes Rush Hour Blackout

A double multi-million-volt shot of lightning, which blew the fuses in Greater Victoria's 132,000-volt power system, was the cause of a rush hour blackout Tuesday.

B.C. Electric supervisory personnel, in the first major power break of the three-week-old electricians' strike, were thrown into the breach when a localized thunder storm knocked out the area's 28 circuits after lightning flashes hit power lines in Saanich and Malahat areas within minutes of each other.

IN SEVEN MINUTES

Power was restored to the priority circuits, such as hospitals, within seven minutes of the first lightning strike at 4.57 p.m.

The majority of circuits here were back in operation within 23 minutes but outlying areas such as Brentwood and Cobble Hill went without power for periods up to 70 minutes as the circuits were re-activated in stages.

The Malahat area went without power from 8 p.m. until 3.20 this morning as BCE supervisory personnel worked to replace a transformer at Finlayson Arm.

The transformer was damaged in the initial power blackout but continued to operate until 8 p.m. when it finally broke down.

NO MISHAPS

No traffic accidents occurred during the blackout in Victoria although traffic signals were cut off. Police were rushed to busy intersections for point duty.

Both hospitals switched into their auxiliary power systems when the lights went out. City radio stations and the television station fell silent during the break.

Fears Harm To Weekend Conference

Education Minister Leslie Peterson appealed today to Cowichan district school teachers to withdraw their strike threat at least until a weekend meeting of provincial teachers' and trustees' representatives.

The minister made the request through the executive of the B.C. Teachers' Federation.

He described the strike threat as "unfortunate" because it might "prejudice the atmosphere" of the weekend meeting.

WALKOUT APRIL 16

John Homer, chairman of the board of school district 65, said he had been informed by telephone that a meeting of teachers had taken a strike vote to walk out April 16 if the board refuses to re-open wage negotiations.

Mr. Peterson said he had mailed a letter to the Teachers' Federation asking the executive to persuade the Cowichan teachers against their stand.

C. D. Ovans, general secretary of the Federation, told the Times he had not yet received the minister's letter.

"We don't want to do anything to prejudice the meeting," Mr. Ovans said, "but I don't see what can be done now that the news is out."

AUTONOMY

Mr. Ovans said local members of the federation have complete autonomy over salary matters.

He added that he didn't believe the step taken by the Cowichan teachers is a "very serious type of action."

"They are just saying what they are going to do if necessary."

Their move is symptomatic of the dissatisfaction of teachers throughout the province, Mr. Ovans said.

SOLUTION

Both Mr. Peterson and Mr. Ovans expressed hope that this weekend meeting in Victoria will reach a solution to end the present situation in which 26 school districts are "blacklisted" by the teachers.

Mr. Homer said the Cowichan School Board had decided after four meetings with the teachers it was "futile" to continue negotiations.

There was a "vast difference" between the board's last offer of a 5.2 per cent salary increase and the lowest figure demanded by the teachers—18 per cent.

ASK The TIMES

Q. I have an American silver dollar dated 1870. It is worth more, than $1 now? B.H.M.T.

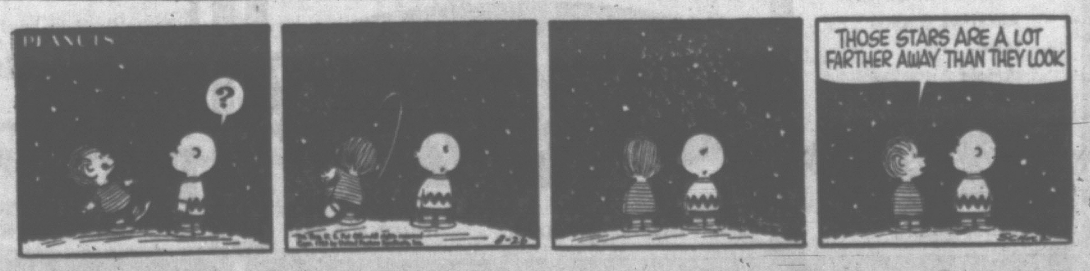

A. It is valued at between $1 and $2.50, depending on its condition.

Q. I have a $1 bill, green on one side and blue on the other. Could you please tell me if it is worth more than $1? B.D.

A. It is not worth more than $1. The color change could have been effected by acid, beer or a sulphurous atmosphere.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

Re-Heel Shoes in Seconds With Replaceable Lifts

By PENNY SAVER

Now you can re-heel your own shoes! And I don't mean you have to get out a do-it-yourself re-heeling kit and go to work. I mean that now you can buy shoes with replaceable "lifts." That is, when your heels get run down, you just pull off the lifts and slip new ones into place in a jiffy. Specially-made shoes (in latest styles: pointed toes, needle heels), are equipped with hollow aluminum heels covered with the leather of the shoes. Only the top part of the heel is wooden . . . the aluminum part tapers to fashionable slimness and the little lifts just slip up inside a hole in the bottom.

Just think how handy this is going to be! Next time you're dressing for a party and discover your best shoes are run down at the heels, you can just smile and slip in a new pair of lifts, which sell for 50 cents a pair. (That's about the price of a re-heeling job at a shoe repair shop.) And, if you've had trouble with your slim heels breaking, you'll know these aluminum heels are designed to prevent such accidents happening.

Now to talk about styles of shoes you can buy with these replaceable lifts.

Favor black patent? Then smart, pointed toe pumps with interesting vamp detail, such as a bit of leather fluting or a silver-trimmed black patent ornament, are for you.

There's also a smart shoe combining a textured black leather with black patent, with three little black patent buttons on the toes.

There are more fashionable styles to choose from, too, and in such popular leathers as creamy beige, red and navy. You pay $18.95 for the shoes, and, as before mentioned, 50 cents for additional pairs of heel lifts.

Travellers take note: you won't get caught miles from a shoe repair store, if you are equipped with these shoes!

Tears, Tantrums Warrant Handkerchief—Dismissal

CALGARY (CP) — Three of four women panelists agreed Monday on a cure for the business woman who has a habit of bursting into tears — offer a handkerchief, and follow it up with a dismissal slip.

But one of the panel members at the Second Annual Seminar on Mental Health in Industry was more sympathetic to her kind. Miss Florence Thorpe, women's editor for Calgary radio station CFAC, said the crying girl should be ignored.

Mrs. John Gorman, a lawyer, had a quick answer for men who find their female employees repeatedly in tears. Help wipe away the tears and then fire them, she said.

FEW PASSES FROM BOSSES

She drew unqualified support from Mrs. Berryl Rowland, business manager of the Calgary Philharmonic Society. Mrs. L. S. Willmore, women's editor of The Herald, said it depended on the reason for the tears and how frequently they came.

The panel was considering the problems of women in industry. More than 125 persons have registered for the seminar sponsored by the Calgary branch of the Canadian Mental Health Association. It ends today.

Miss Thorpe, the only unmarried woman on the panel, said very few bosses make a "pass" at a woman employee unless they get encouragement.

Mrs. Willmore and Mrs. Gorman felt that a working woman makes for a better wife. When she has worked she knows the value of money and appreciates what her husband does throughout the day, Mrs. Willmore said.

Mrs. Rowland said some women found difficulty in the business world because most men resent newcomers, male or female, until they prove their ability. Some men have such high standards that it was almost impossible for a woman to meet them.

She believed women should not use feminine "wiles" on their jobs and "men don't expect it." But no woman wants to be considered a little boy.

"Most women can get further by coaxing than by brow-beating," Miss Thorpe added. "A woman would be a fool to use wiles without anything to back them up and she'd be as equal a fool to let men forget she is a woman."

Both Mrs. Gorman and Miss Thorpe said women who are liable to get married do not make for inefficient functioning of industry.

"Industry isn't in imminent collapse," Miss Thorpe said. "Men change their jobs faster now than women."

Cod Liver Oil—At a meeting of Sir Matthew Baillie Begbie Chapter, IODE, a sum of $25 was voted for a spring donation of cod liver oil for the needy. The oil is distributed through the Victorian Order of Nurses. A sum of $3.50 was voted for Easter treats for children's at the chapter's adopted school at Ruby Creek. The regent, Mrs. H. Parizeau, was named delegate to the Provincial annual meeting in Vancouver, in April.

CLUB WOMEN'S NEWS

Centennial Theme — Plans were made at meeting of the Parents Auxiliary of St. Ann's Academy for the annual spring fete in early May. As the centennary of the coming of the Sisters of St. Ann to Victoria is this year, it was decided to carry out a centennial theme with a showing of early day fashions during the tea hour. Conveners will be Mrs. J. White and Mrs. L. Gill. At close of business a synopsis of Canadian history was given by four of the grade 8 students.

Official Visit — District Deputy Supreme Honored Lady Mrs. Davies, Courtenay, B.C., made an official visit to Victoria Lodge No. 5, Order of the Royal Purple, auxiliary to BPO Elks and was welcomed by the head of the local group, Mrs. M. Cox. Other guests welcomed at the meeting were members from Duncan and Lake Cowichan lodges. Ritualistic work was exemplified by drill team and officers and announcement made that cash donations had been sent to the polio fund, heart fund and the Red Cross and that hampers were being delivered to four old-age pensioners each month.

Thankoffering — Mrs. Carl Hagglund, guest speaker, took as her subject "The Hands of Jesus" at Easter thankoffering meeting of Fairfield Woman's Missionary Society. Mrs. T. B. Lowe presided; Mrs. Winnie Sedgeley was soloist and Miss Renwick's group convened the social hour.

For the Men — Members of Strawberry Vale Women's Institute held their annual "entertain our husbands" evening last Saturday. Refreshment tables were decorated in institute colors, yellow and green under convenership of Mrs. J. Humphries. Mrs. J. Smalley, institute president, welcomed the guests. A program included piano and electric guitar numbers by H. Ogden; bingo games in charge of Mrs. J. Jones and a comedy reading, "Green Grow the Cabbages," by Mrs. R. J. Ashmore, Mrs. J. Jones, Mrs. L. Fitzpatrick, Mrs. A. Longland and Mrs. C. Martin.

To Join Project—It was decided at meeting of Colwood Women's Institute to participate in the Tweedsmuir district handicraft section project which is the compiling of a book of "grandmother's" quilt block designs. Plans were made for the spring tea and sale to be held on April 10 with Mrs. T. Mossop convener. She will be assisted by Mrs. G. Smith and Mrs. A. J. Proudfoot, home cooking; Mrs. F. Searle, Mrs. E. Shields, Mrs. T. Dawson, needlework; Mrs. S. Lang, Mrs. E. Emery, Mrs. S. Cooper and Mrs. T. Parsons, plants and flowers.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Soap and Water 'Facial' Is Essential for Beauty

Make-up is meant to enhance, not to camouflage your complexion. How many times have you seen an extremely attractive woman or girl whose appearance was spoiled by poor skin? Even heavy make-up doesn't cover a mass of large pores, pimples, blackheads or other blemishes.

Once coarse skin was an occupational hazard in the theatre. Actresses had trouble coping with the heavy greasepaint. This is no longer true, thanks to a better understanding of the importance of soap and water cleanliness.

NEGLECT

Today, nine times out of 10 bad skin is due to neglect. It is amazing how many women who are meticulous in other ways are still plagued by cosmetic skin because they haven't worked out a regulated beauty routine based on cleanliness.

Soap and water is best for cleansing if you have a normal skin or one which is oily. Many women find that even a dry complexion improves with the use of some soap and water as well as cleansing and lubricating creams.

Just for the record, how many times a day do YOU wash your face with soap and water? To keep your skin in best condition you should give yourself a new face twice a day. Scrub briskly for deep pore cleansing upon rising in the morning and before going to sleep at night. Do not skimp in the morning just because your face was clean when you went to bed at night. During the night your skin has exuded oils and many impurities which need to be washed away — not packed down with a foundation or base or powder. This holds true even for the dry skin.

Washing also is an essential routine for those few women who use few or no cosmetics. Wash your face thoroughly with soap and water twice a day (unless you have a very dry skin). This is not only cleansing but is stimulating and helps your skin do its own work.

Also be sure to launder your powder puff once or twice a week. Ditto your compact puff, which gets even dirtier quicker. Suitable make-up, cleverly applied, will make you look lovelier IF your skin is clean!

If you would like to have my leaflet about skin care, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 47 to Josephine Lowman in care of this paper.

LEAVING HOUSE GUESTS FOR DATE

My girl friend from another city is coming to visit me for four days during spring vacation. One of the evenings when she will be here I have a date with my boy friend to go to a dance. He has so far been unable to get another boy for her. If he can't get anybody, would it be all right if I keep my date, or should I call it off and stay home with her.

Louise Davis

LOUISE DAVIS ANSWERS:

Your first obligation is to your house guest. You will be her hostess for four whole days! If you walk out on her to go on your date, you would be thoughtless, inconsiderate and rude. Imagine yourself visiting her for four days. She is unsuccessful in getting a boy for you, so leaves you at home while she goes dancing. I have an idea that another Prince Charming will turn up if you and your boy friend keep working at it. If your efforts are futile, your only alternative is to stay at home with your guest. I suggest that you tell the boy immediately that you will not be able to keep the date with him unless a blind date can be gotten for your guest. He might as well know right now. He wants to go to that dance as much as you do. Determination sometimes works wonders.

$208,396 COMMUNITY CHEST BUDGET

Charity Needs Getting Harder to Fill Yearly

Greater Victoria Community Chest will spend more money this year, and filling the community's charity needs gets annually harder, budget chairman Brian A. Tobin told the 21st annual chest meeting Tuesday.

The meeting at Spencerhouse approved 1958 agency allotments totalling $208,396.07, or $1,194.24 more than in 1957.

Hubert A. Wallace, president of Yarrows Ltd., was elected president, replacing R. B. Wilson, who had served the two previous years.

Justin Harbord, of Harbord Insurance Ltd., was named first vice-president and G. Conway Parrott, Vancouver Island Coach Lines, second vice-president.

R. A. Dykes was re-elected honorary treasurer and 46 directors were named, an increase of two over 1957.

. . . new chest president

FELL SHORT

The retiring president pointed out the 1957 Community Chest campaign fell short of its $250,000 objective by $30,000, although the amount given was largest in the local chest's history.

Of the 1958 allotments to 20 member agencies, nine are reduced from their 1957 amounts, five remain the same and six are increased, some only slightly.

"Almost without exception the individual agency budgets increase each year, yet the contributions for their support have not kept pace," Mr. Tobin said.

FUTURE PROBLEMS

"It becomes increasingly clear that to continue as we have, making quite drastic cuts in agency budgets, through necessity rather than choice, is only laying up future problems for the community," he said.

It may be found expedient to recommend expansion or contraction of some services in order that the best results may be obtained from Chest funds, Mr. Tobin said.

Deterioration of economic conditions had been emphasized during the 1957 campaign in an effort to offset anticipated greater need.

Unemployment, causing economic disaster within families, is reflected in the greater number of children coming into care of the Family and Children's Service, biggest Chest budget at $60,000 this year and last.

ABOVE AVERAGE

The president said in the past 11 days 21 children were taken into care, a total well above average.

He said it is a tragedy that some generous people give without knowing too much about the organization which receives and uses the money.

"By all means let the public give to whom they wish, but perhaps more information about the financial structures would be an assistance towards more intelligent giving," he said.

Mrs. Frank McKenzie Ross noted the meeting was open to anyone who had given $1 or more to the chest.

"It seems a great pity that more of the public . . . do not take advantage first hand of the opportunity to take part in a meeting of those who administer welfare in their community," she said.

About 30 people were present.

In order to meet agency allotments for 1958, $13,846.07 was taken from contingencies reserve, an amount which is expected to be reduced by about $6,000 when municipal grants to YMCA and YWCA are made.

LESS FOR Ys

Although allotments to the Ys appear greater than chest payments a year ago, these agencies actually will get less money because the local grants are subtracted from the allotment.

The YMCA will be down $1,995 to $21,780; the YWCA will be down $1,047 to $20,071.

Others which dropped compared with a year ago are notably the SPCA, $1,147 (from $2,000 in 1957); Silver Threads Service, $4,417 ($7,500); Christmas Bureau, $400 ($600); Canadian Welfare Council, $1,000 ($1,200); Citizens' Recreation Rooms, $1,885 ($2,125); CNIB, $12,017 ($12,420) and Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society, $8,941 ($9,250).

CENTENNIAL DOLLAR, signifying in this case a total of 100 years' service to the B.C. Electric Company, is held aloft by (from left), H. Austin Goward, public information assistant; R. Norman Hall, residential sales promotion supervisor; Ralph B. Mathews, executive assistant to the vice-president, and Kenneth L. Roach, gas superintendent. The quartet, each with 25 years' service, was inducted into the BCE Quarter-Century Club at a recent ninth annual banquet in the Empress Hotel. (Times Photo by Bill Halkett.)

LURED TO WOODS BY WOMAN

Extremists Tar-Feather Priest For Opposing War in Algeria

SAINT ETIENNE, France (AP)—A young French priest was kidnapped from his parish house and tarred and feathered in the woods apparently because he opposes the war in Algeria, Roman Catholic Church officials disclosed today.

The incident occurred March 8. Rev. Marcel Matricon, vicar of the St. Firmin parish in Firminy, was awakened in the middle of the night by a woman who said she wanted him to administer last rites to a dying person.

The priest followed her to a car in which several other persons waited. He was diven to the woods about six miles away, stripped to the waist and tarred and feathered. The abductors then fled.

Police said the abductors may have been an extremist group who wanted to punish the priest for signing an appeal some time ago against the war in Algeria.

AMMAN, Jordan (Reuters)—An earth tremor shook Jerusalem and many areas of Jordan Tuesday night, but no damage or casualties were reported. The tremor lasted only a few seconds.

Neighbors Picket U.K. Baby Hater

TIMPERLEY, Eng. — A 25-year-old mother who has agreed to give away her unborn child glared out the window at a crowd of neighbors staring at her from across the street.

"I hate babies," shouted Mrs. Sheila Winkley, a mother of three. Then she turned to a reporter and shook her mop of hair.

"I just couldn't face the thought of washing those diapers again," she said.

"Babies! You wheel them around in the pram and people peer at them. . . . They're just babies, all alike and made to a pattern. I loathe them."

Mrs. Winkley whose 27-year-old engineer husband, Roy, earns £15 a week, started the controversy by stating she doesn't want to keep the baby due next July. Every day the postman brings her abusive letters. When she goes shopping, she is ignored by neighbors. Someone recently heaved a brick through the door.

"I've always loathed babies," said Mrs. Winkley, "and so does my husband."

She looked across the neatly kept parlor at her three-year-old daughter, Annette, playing beside the television set.

"Of course, I just love her," the young mother said. "And her big brother, David, who is seven, is just a pet. But there, they aren't babies any more."

Another child, 15-month-old Christine, is being looked after by welfare officials.

Union 'Lifts' Pickets at Supply Firm

Pickets were withdrawn from Douglas Building Supply Ltd., 2811 Douglas, Tuesday after the firm had agreed to a union shop for five employees.

The company was picketed by Vancouver Island Building Trades Council for more than two weeks in protest against "unfair" competition to unionized supply houses.

Donald S. Bushell, VIBTC secretary, said Tuesday the pickets were "lifted" after agreement was reached through the Victoria Building Industries Exchange for provision of union agreements to cover the employees.

Pineau Favors Neutralized Central Europe

NEW YORK (CP)—The New York Times says in a Paris dispatch that France's Foreign Minister Pineau is reported favoring the demilitarization and neutralization of part of Central Europe.

The Times says this report was carried Tuesday by the newspaper Paris-Presse, but had been promptly denied by the foreign ministry "as corresponding in no way with French views on European security."

The dispatch says, however, that despite the denial "well-informed sources insisted that M. Pineau had evolved a new approach to the problem of European security." The Paris-Presse report did not go into details about the demilitarization.

Viet Nam Troops Invade Frontier

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Troops of Communist North Viet Nam today were reported to have occupied frontier posts believed to be inside the vaguely defined Indochina jungle border between Laos and North Viet Nam.

Government sources said large numbers of Laotian troops have been deployed along the frontier to secure it, but no incidents have been reported.

Ross, Bennett Asked to See Blast

VANCOUVER (CP)—Lieutenant-Governor Frank Ross and Premier W. A. C. Bennett have been invited to watch the destruction of Ripple Rock. The Federal Works Department says places have been reserved for them in one of two observation bunkers 7,000 feet from the blast centre. They have not yet advised the department whether they will attend.

Man Repeats Window Plunge

TORONTO (CP) — An unidentified man ran into a house after a three-car crash today, threw himself out a second-storey window, dashed back into the building and jumped again. He was pinned down by a bystander until police arrived. Police said they could not immediately determine his connection with the accident in which three persons were injured.

Radar Defence Web Completed

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—The final hookup in a 3,000-mile, $140,000,000 defence communications network was completed today. As soon as the great radio relay web was energized at ceremonies at Elmendorf air force base here, the radar warning outposts of the Alaskan air command and the Alaskan segment of the Distant Early Warning line were linked. Gaping holes in the defence line were thereby closed.

Ike Invites UN Group To A-Blast

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today he is asking the United Nations to send foreign observers — probably Russian as well as Western —to U.S. atomic tests scheduled for the Pacific this summer.

Eisenhower made the announcement at a press conference. He said:

"In line with what I said to the press on July 3, 1957, the United States will demonstrate the progress our scientists are achieving in reducing radioactive fallout from nuclear explosions.

"To this end, for the first time at any test, we are planning to invite the United Nations to select a group of qualified scientific observers to witness at the Pacific proving ground this summer a large nuclear explosion in which radioactive fallout will be drastically reduced."

(At United Nations U.S. sources said Russian and Czechoslovak scientists will be among international observers invited to witness an American H-bomb test next summer.

They said the United States will send invitations to all 15 members of the UN scientific committee on the effects of atomic radiation. Canada is a committee member.)

This would indicate planned detonation of a hydrogen bomb since it is only with the H-bomb that fallout can be materially reduced.

While Eisenhower spoke of tests to be held in the Pacific this summer, the 1958 test series may get started next month.

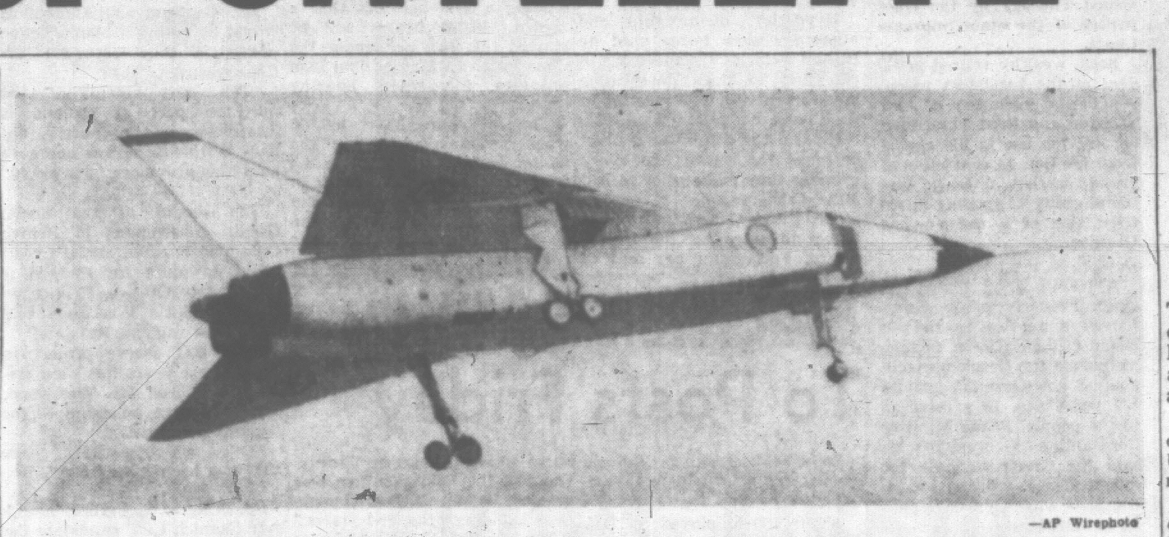

DANGER AREA

At Atomic Energy Commission announced in February that a vast danger area around the Eniwetok testing base would become effective April 5.

An earlier AEC announcement last fall described the planned test series as concerned with "further development of nuclear weapons with greatly reduced radioactive fallout."

It was not clear from Eisenhower's announcement whether foreign observers would be limited to one specific test—the large nuclear explosion mentioned in the statement.

CANADA'S NEWEST JET IN ROARING DEBUT

Ending months of tension for its designers and engineers, the CF-105 Arrow, the most expensive plane ever built in Canada, made a successful 35-minute test flight Tuesday at Toronto. The delta-wing jet interceptor, shown after taking off, is estimated to have a potential speed of 1,220 miles an hour. Tuesday test pilot Jan Zurakowski was told to keep the speed under 400 miles on the maiden flight.

Short Life Predicted For 'Moon'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States put into orbit its third earth satellite, the army's Explorer III, at 12.45 p.m., EST (9.45 a.m., PST) today.

Dr. Richard Porter, chairman of the technical panel of the U.S. earth satellite program, made the announcement.

He said the tiny "moon" is expected to have a rather short life.

The new satellite was fired from Cape Canaveral, Fla., at 12.38 p.m. EST (9.38 a.m. PST).

The third U.S. satellite was described as being the same size as the previous two army Explorers—80 by six inches and bullet shaped.

FIRST CIRCUIT

The first Explorer stayed up but the fourth stage of the second one failed to fire and did not go into orbit.

Porter said the new satellite made its first circuit around the earth in 121 minutes.

Porter said the short lifetime was expected because of "an apparent deviation in the planned orbit."

It was the third Jupiter-C launching in less than two months.

The rocket team fired Explorer I into its orbit Jan. 31. On March 5 a Jupiter-C propelled Explorer II to orbital altitude but the satellite failed to attain orbital speed because the 50-pound rocket in its fourth and final stage did not ignite.

Two other man-made satellites in addition to Explorer I awaited a travelling companion in their eliptical paths around the earth.

VANGUARD HIGHER

The navy's Vanguard I, the 31-pound aluminum sphere 6.4 inches in diameter, is speeding along far above its sister satellites.

The Vanguard satellite is being trailed through space by the dead hull of the 50-pound, five-foot-long third stage rocket

POLLS OPEN 8 TO 6 ON ELECTION DAY

Polls will be open between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. Monday for the federal election.

Last June, when the province was on Daylight Time, the hours were 9 to 7.

Under the Election Act, workers must be given three consecutive hours to cast their votes.

You are eligible to vote if you are 21, a Canadian citizen or British subject, and have lived in the country for the past 12 months.

There are no absentee ballots, only a special advance poll for certain classes of workers who will be away from home on voting day. Special provision is made for patients of chronic hospitals only.

Bulganin Ouster Denied by Russ

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Russia's Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan has told Western correspondents "you are wrong if you expect" any government changes when the Supreme Soviet meets Thursday.

Mikoyan, at an embassy reception Tuesday night, told the reporters "you will be there yourselves and you will see."

Under constitutional procedure, President Klementi Voroshilov, Premier Bulganin and other government leaders will submit their formal resignations to the Supreme Soviet.

But the positions of Nikita Khrushchev and other party leaders are not affected during Supreme Soviet sessions. Their posts are decided at party conclaves.

Any changes in government leadership—if contemplated—should be made this week.

In New York, William Ryan, Associated Press news analyst, says speculation is mounting in Western circles that a new premier may be installed in Nikolai Bulganin's chair when the Soviet Union's new parliament convenes.

Latest Odds On Saturday's Grand National

LONDON (AP) — Sure-jumping little Wyndburgh from the Scottish lowlands of Roxburghshire appeared certain tonight to be one of the shortest odds favorites ever to race the Grand National steeplechase.

Odds on the gelding held to a steady 17-to-2 with only three days to go before the race.

Four 18-to-1 bets at the next-to-last call over before the race Saturday were Goosander, Mr. What, Springsilver and Sentina.

At 20-to-1 were Hart Royal, Eagle Lodge, Pippykin and Valiant Spark. Then came Athenian at 22-to-1.

ESB, the only former winner in the field, was 25-to-1 and Glorious Twelfth 28-to-1.

Other odds called were: 33-to-1 Greendrill, Brookling and Tiberetta; 40-to-1 Colleidge Master, Longmead, Sydney Jones, Ace of Trumps, Rendezvous III and The Crofter; 50-to-1 Richardstown and Top Twenty, and 66-to-1 Wise Child.

Other horses were considered 100-to-1 or 200-to-1.

HOLDS 100-1 SHOT

Jobless Immigrant Can Win Sweep

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

An unemployed Dutch immigrant and his pretty fair-haired wife have a chance to win $140,000 in the Irish Hospitals Sweepstake on the Grand National steeplechase Saturday, it was learned today.

This is a happy chance for tall black-bearded Harry Olivier of 1623 Richmond Avenue, as he is now unemployed for the first time since coming to Canada seven years ago.

Mr. Olivier holds a ticket on Limber Hill, a 100-to-1 shot with the non-de-plume Goldmine. Even if Limber Hill does not win a place in the Saturday race he will receive at least $1,500.

A pipe fitter by trade, Mr. Olivier has worked on construction projects in and around Victoria since he came here in 1951 but became unemployed recently through falling trade.

He and his wife, Margo, and their two children, aged three and five, live in a trim white-painted frame house with rambler roses climbing the walls.

"We don't want any publicity," Mr. Olivier said when approached this morning. "We are just keeping our fingers crossed."

Mrs. Olivier admitted to being "happy and excited" but would not be drawn into any speculation as to how the money would be used.

"We will wait and see," she said.

They declined to say if they would take a trip home to Holland if they won the big prize.

Another shy Victorian with a chance to win $140,000 is Mrs. V. H. V. Shepperd, 1857 Bowker Place, who is employed at the HMC Dockyard, Esquimalt.

"I do not want any notoriety," she told The Times.

Mrs. Shepperd holds a ticket on Richardstown, another 100-to-1 shot, using the nom-de-plume Trudy—her cat.

"How old is your cat?" she was asked.

"If you must know, she's 10-years-old, but I don't want any publicity for her either. And I don't want her photographed."

Feisal Bosses Army

CAIRO (Reuters) — Crown Prince Feisal, brother of King Saud, was reported today by the Egyptian press to have assumed "complete control" of Saudi Arabia's armed forces. The reports, quoting Mecca radio, said this is in addition to the full powers granted him last week over the country's domestic, foreign and financial affairs.

'LOTS TO TALK ABOUT'

Princess Has Tea With Townsend

LONDON (CP) — Princess Margaret today had tea with Group Captain Peter Townsend, whose love she renounced in 1955 on religious grounds because of his divorce.

Royal sources said Townsend called on the princess this afternoon at Clarence House, Margaret's mansion on the Mall near Buckingham Palace.

The couple took tea together in the drawing room of the princess' private suite in the home she shares with the Queen Mother.

Informants said the meeting was arranged well before Townsend's return this morning from his round-the-world tour.

The Queen Mother was present for the reunion of the 43-year-old wartime RAF hero and the 27-year-old princess.

Margaret renounced Townsend's love in October, 1955, on religious grounds because he was divorced from his wife. The Church of England, of which the Queen is temporal head, frowns upon divorce.

The Associated Press quoted one royal source as saying:

"They have so much to talk about.

"Townsend wants to tell the princess about his experiences during the last two years and more, and the princess has been anxious to hear of them.

"No doubt they will meet again and again while the group captain is in London."

Since Margaret issued a personal statement renouncing the handsome war hero who once served as a palace equerry, he has travelled 60,000 miles on a lone tour of the world.

DUTCH AUCTION

Queen Buys Orchids For $160

AALSMEER, The Netherlands (Reuters)—Queen Elizabeth bought flowers in a "push-button auction sale" today during a visit to this centre of Holland's floral industry.

The Queen, on the second day of her three-day state visit to Holland, came away with a bunch of carnations, which she bought for 51 Dutch cents (about 15 cents a bloom.

Queen Elizabeth also bought some orchids. She pushed the button at 570 guilders ($160).

The queen then left for a drive through central Holland to The Hague.

In the royal party was Canada's Gen. H. D. G. Crerar, aide-de-camp-general to Queen Elizabeth.

MASS POW GRAVE FOUND

WARSAW (AP) — A mass grave containing bodies of 5,000 to 6,000 Allied war prisoners — including some Canadians — today was reported discovered at Szprotawa in the former German area of western Poland.

They died in POW camps and were not victims of Nazi massacres.

Graves of more than 20,000 Allied troops have been discovered in the same area in the last two years.

Szprotawa, formerly the German town of Sprottau, is 18 miles from Zagan, where most of the previous graves were discovered in dense woodland. In the region were two big POW camps, Stalag W2C and Stalag Luft III.

Voters to Back Sommers, Martin Roars at Hecklers

VANCOUVER (CP) — Health Minister Eric Martin Tuesday night predicted a huge majority for ex-cabinet colleague Robert Sommers in the next B.C. election.

Mr. Martin had to roar out his claim to be heard over the voices of two persistent hecklers at a Social Credit rally of about 100 here.

The minister, first member of the B.C. cabinet to enter the federal fight in Vancouver, exploded under repeated needling about Sommers and alleged "cutbacks" in social services.

"He (former forests minister Sommers) is in the area where at the last election the people gave him 35 per cent of the vote.

"And what's more," he roared above the heckling, "at the next election he's going to get over 70 per cent." Mr. Sommers is MLA for Rossland-Trail.

Mr. Martin shouted to one heckler:

"Once a public man is down, kick him in the teeth. That's the kind of man you are. You don't deserve to call yourself a Canadian. Now get out of this hall."

Five Socreds moved in on the bewildered heckler, but Mr. Martin changed his mind.

"Let him alone," he shouted. "I can out-shout any man any day of the week. In fact, I'd like to have him stay."

Mr. Martin turned to an attack on the "tight-money policy" which he said was a major cause of Canada's current unemployment problem.

"And now Coyne has the audacity to lie to us in the middle of an election campaign," Mr. Martin declared.

He apparently referred to Bank of Canada governor James Coyne's recent statement that, by his definition, there was no "tight-money" policy.

Parliament and the government have lost control of the Bank of Canada, Mr. Martin said.

Mr. Martin conceded the March 31 election to the Conservatives. But, he said, "this is the last election the Conservative party will ever win."

PHIL LEE MAKES HIS CHOICES

Oscar Race Wide Open At Tonight's Big Show

BY PHIL LEE
Times Movie Reviewer

They're giving away the "Oscars" tonight in the 30th annual presentation from Hollywood.

DEBORAH KERR

And, in most categories, it's a wide-open race in which almost anyone can win.

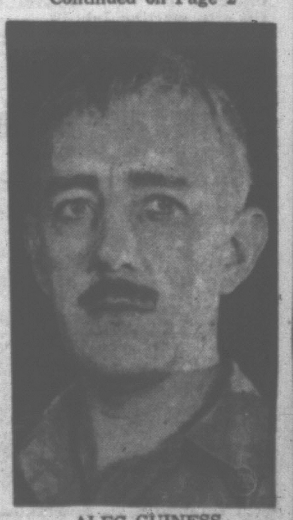

It is also interesting from another angle. Will the 250 voting members of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences allow "patriotism" to subconsciously affect their ballots?

For instance, the critics seem about split between England's Alec Guinness as best actor in "Bridge On the River Kwai" and Marlon Brando for his role in "Sayonara." It is believed to be just as tight a race in the "best picture" category between "The Bridge On the River Kwai" and "Sayonara."

Be that as it may, for the sixth year we'll hold our breath and say how we would vote—if we had a vote—in the various categories.

Best Picture — Unfortunately we haven't seen all of "The Bridge On the River Kwai," but we have seen enough to appreciate that it is the best in the field. And, if it wasn't, our vote would not be for "Sayonara." As we stated when we reviewed the film in the Times, it had, for all its beauty and solid acting, a sameness to it. Much rather would we vote for either "12 Angry Men" or

LONDON—Lord Grey De Ruthyn, a 74-year-old nobleman whose family tree goes back to the 14th century, today reported a branch missing. He can't find his mother's birth certificate.

Without it officialdom won't let him take his hereditary seat in the House of Lords. A search of the family archives and a poll of friends and relatives drew a blank.

All the 25th Baron Grey knows is that his mother, the Hon. Ella Cecily Mary Bowdon-Butler, was born in "some remote part of Scotland" about 104 years ago.

QUEBEC — Le Soleil says Cleveland industrialist Cyrus Eaton has invited some 30 nuclear scientists from all parts of the world to attend informal conferences at nearby Lac Beauport starting next week.

Similar conferences have been held in the past at Mr. Eaton's estate in Pugwash Junction, N.S.

The newspaper says the entire Manoir St. Castin, a resort hotel, has been rented for the conference, scheduled to last from March 31 to April 11.

NEW YORK — A hardy Scot named David Ramsay, now in his 90th year, announced in Greenlea, Scotland, that his 39-year-old wife had given birth to twin girls, and immediately he got the inevitable reporter's query as to how he carried his years so lightly.

He is said to have answered that he kept his youthfulness by "eating a plate of porridge every day and working hard."

OLYMPIA, Wash. — An attempt by Dave Beck, Sr., to obtain a transcript of the grand jury testimony of two Seattle men was blocked at least temporarily by an order issued Tuesday by the chief justice of the State Supreme Court.

Beck, wealthy retired president of the teamsters union, sought the testimony of Jack Stratton and Fred Verschueren, Jr., for use in his appeal from his Dec. 14 conviction of grand larceny. Beck was found guilty of stealing $1,900 from sale of a union-owned Cadillac.

ATHENS—King Paul and Queen Frederika of Greece attended a service in the Te Deum Cathedral here to commemorate the Greek uprising against the Ottoman empire 137 years ago. In a message to the people, Prime Minister Constantine Georgakopoulos said the Greek struggle for independence will only be complete when Cyprus is united to Greece.

. . . OSCARS

"Peyton Place," both of which for our money were the next best pictures to "The Bridge" in the past 12 months.

Best Actor — Alec Guinness. Here is a man long overdue for a U.S. award. The brilliant English actor is one of those rare thespians who changes his character from within by some strange chemical reaction rather than resorting to physical histrionics. Many of Guinness' movies, such as "Kind Hearts and Coronets," "Captain's Paradise" and "The Lady Killers" would have been worthy of awards.

Best Actress—Of all, this is the most difficult category. It could quite easily go to Deborah Kerr, Joanne Woodward or Elizabeth Taylor. For each of the three had one thing in common. They WERE the picture. Miss Kerr filled an unpretentious sneaker called "Heaven Knows, Mr. Allison," with warmth and life. Miss Woodward had a most difficult assignment in "The Three Faces of Eve," depicting one woman with three different personalities. And, finally, Miss Taylor displayed unexpected range as the demented southern belle in "Raintree County". However, our vote must go to Miss Kerr, for she is supreme in every recent picture she has been in and we think honors are long overdue her.

Best Supporting Actress—Our choice here is Diane Varsi, the girl who breathed such reality and naturalness into "Peyton Place". However we wouldn't be too displeased if wonderful little Miyoshi Umeki got the nod for her performance in "Sayonara".

Best Supporting Actor — Another tight race here, between Red Buttons for "Sayonara" and Sessue Hayakawa for "Bridge on the River Kwai". But we'll go with Buttons because his role demanded more facile acting, greater ability to change moods and his range, therefore, had to be superior. If we had seen more of the "Bridge" we might have cast our vote the other way.

Best Director—It seems only sensible to give it to the man responsible for the best picture . . . therefore, David Lean, for "The Bridge on the River Kwai."

Best Song—Possibly "All the Way" from "The Joker Is Wild". But we're a softie and can't possibly vote against little Debbie Reynolds' "Tammy" from "Tammy and the Bachelor".

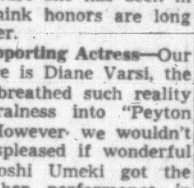

That's that for another year. Meanwhile, don't forget to watch the hour and 45 minute program (unsponsored) that gets under way on Channel 4 at 7.30. It will be repeated on Channel 2 at 11.15.

VANCOUVER (CP) — More than 120,000 smartly-designed announcements will go to all parts of the world within a few days inviting attendance at Vancouver's four-week festival of the arts, starting July 19.

B.C. ELECTION ROUNDUP

Liberal Attacks Pearkes Claims

George Preston, Liberal candidate in Esquimalt-Saanich, charged Tuesday night that Defence Minister George Pearkes has made some misleading statements in campaign literature.

At a meeting in Sooke Community Hall, Mr. Preston said his Conservative opponent had referred to construction of fishermen's floats in Sooke, and lengthening of Patricia Bay Airport runways.

Money for both these projects was appropriated while the Liberals were in power, he said.

The new post office at Sooke listed in the Conservature brochure is actually a privately-owned building in which the government is merely a tenant, the Liberal candidate said.

Mr. Preston told his audience of 50 that the Conservatives are also trying to claim credit for the St. Lawrence Seaway project started by the Liberals.

Hypocrisy, dictatorship and autocracy were terms used by Harold Winch of Vancouver in referring to the Conservative government at a CCF meeting in Kamloops.

He said the conservatives had betrayed the country on every promise they made prior to last June's election.

"It is time Canadians stopped being governed by the United States. Forty-eight per cent of all manufacturing in Canada is owned by the United States," said Mr. Winch, who seeks re-election in Vancouver East.

"We cannot control export of goods manufactured in this country, but must take orders from Washington. And the Conservatives have done nothing to stop it."

Mr. Winch said:

"You think you are free. You cannot travel in Canada's northland without a signed permit from the American government. When I was member of parliament I could not make a trip through the north country without one of these permits." June's election.

The Progressive Conservative party deserves to be re-elected for its anti-recession housing policy if for nothing else, Works Minister Howard Green said in Kitimat Tuesday night.

He told about 100 persons including a few hecklers that a record 140,000 homes will be started this summer under the Conservative's $250 million loan program for small housing units.

The program kept 100,000 workers employed during the winter and was reflected in the total of 8,319 houses started in Canada during January and February of this year compared with 3,227 for the same period last year.

Mr. Green also claimed the United States is following the Conservative's anti-recession policies by pouring billions into housing.

He saw Prime Minister Diefenbaker as another John A. Macdonald. Mr. Green said the prime minister's 16-year-habit of fighting for "the little people" is the reason "thousands come to hear him."

Premier Bennett pushed his campaign into the Okanagan with Highways Minister Gaglardi to address an audience of 600 in Vernon.

"If this province received a bad deal from the Liberals, we have received a worse deal from the Tories," the premier said.

The Diefenbaker government has no substance, no loosening of credit, no loosening of Canadian dollars, no dynamic program to create work and wages, he said.

Mr. Gaglardi said Canadians would be voting a blank-cheque policy if they returned the Conservatives.

"The development of the northern part of Canada is interesting and necessary, but how is this program going to help the provinces," he asked.

The record of the Social Credit government in British Columbia is proof Social Credit could do more for Canada if returned to Ottawa, Recreation Minister Earle Westwood told a political rally in Rossland.

"The B.C. works project in the last six years has been tremendous," said Mr. Westwood, "and has been an example for the rest of Canada."

"Our debt reduction since 1952 has been $82,000,000."

Speaking at Langford, Esquimalt-Saanich CCF candidate Dr. J. M. Thomas spoke of the need for a constructive attitude toward world peace problems, and the "immense danger of the mad nuclear arms race being carried on by the great powers."

He decried the "ballyhoo" method of present-day electioneering, which, he said, encourages the electorate to forget the issues at stake and to concentrate on the personalities of party leaders.

"This practice led to such disastrous results in several European countries where it was successful in the 1930s," he said.

"All thinking men must be deeply disturbed by the factors affecting democracy in the western world, which Bruce Hutchison set forth so tellingly in a recent article in a local paper," Dr. Thomas said.

Electricians Back To Posts Friday

Some 175 striking Victoria electricians return to work Friday.

About 100 employed by B.C. Electric will take over manning of power facilities from supervisory personnel starting at 12.01 a.m. Friday.

Another 75 employed by Hume & Rumble Ltd. will resume their jobs at 8 a.m.

The same schedule will be followed in Vancouver where another 1,300 members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers were involved in the same strike.

Earlier reports said the men would return to work today but a union official in Vancouver said the Friday return was decided for an efficient changeover avoiding "fits and starts."

Mr. Justice H. W. McInnes has been named as arbitrator to settle the wage increase question. He was expected to sit in Vancouver Monday to hear submissions from both sides.

The electricians ended their three-week-old strike after receiving assurances that the wage arbitration would not be less than a 19 per cent increase for skilled workers.

The union originally went on strike to back demands for increases up to 40 per cent for skilled employees.

Contract Let

Contract for construction of the new Lake Hill Elementary School on Lucas Avenue has been awarded Weismiller Construction Ltd.

The firm was low bidder with an offer of $127,322. School district building and grounds superintendent, R. Hamilton Smith, said it is hoped the building will be completed for the fall term this year.

The new school will serve the north Quadra area. It will contain six teaching rooms and an activity room, as well as offices and other usual accommodations. Original estimate of cost in the last school building loan by-law was $148,000.

LEVELLING OFF IN JOBLESS 'FASTER THAN EXPECTED'

WHITBY, Ont. (CP)—Labor Minister Starr said Tuesday unemployment is levelling off faster than he had expected.

Mr. Starr told a service club meeting the most recent statistics show 550,000 unemployed in Canada in mid-February. "I expected the figure would be more than 600,000," he said.

Boy Gets Life Term

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Russell Alex Burchfield, 15, described by a psychiatrist as intelligent but emotionless, Tuesday was sentenced to life in the state prison for murdering his younger brother.

Council Blasts Grey Cup Group

(From CP Dispatches)

VANCOUVER—Vancouver's 1957 Grey Cup parade committee was sharply criticized by city council Tuesday for overspending its budget. Council was told there was a shortage of $3,652 which the city might be called upon to make good.

The committee spent $23,547 sending B.C. floats, bands, and other entrants to the 1957 Grey Cup parade in Toronto. Total contributions were $19,985 of which the city contributed $6,000 and the provincial government $6,000.

Purpose of the entries was to promote interest in B.C.'s centennial.

"I'm getting fed up with committees which spend more money than they have," said Alderman George Miller.

Ald. Earle Adams described the entire effort as "hogwash," and charged that the money was spent "like a drunken sailor."

City council will decide next Tuesday how the deficit is to be met.

N.Z. BEEF DUE

VANCOUVER — The first cargo of New Zealand beef to arrive here in several years is due this week aboard the Danish vessel Egyptian Reefer.

An official of North Pacific Shipping Company, agents for the vessel, said 400 tons of New Zealand meat, both beef and lamb, will be unloaded here for Vancouver packing houses. He said it is the first such consignment to arrive here for "five or six years."

The vessel already has called at Seattle to unload 865 tons of its 2,200-ton meat cargo.

PRISON ESCAPEE CAUGHT

VANCOUVER—Two escapees from an Oakalla prison work party were captured Tuesday within four hours.

Jack Robert Manson, 20, of Vancouver, and Spurgeon Stanton, 23, made their dash for liberty at 11 a.m. from a fence-building work party east of the prison in suburban Burnaby.

Dressed in his prison denims, Stanton was captured within one-half hour by three prison guards in heavy bush.

Manson, the object of a search by 50 prison guards and RCMP with a tracking dog, was caught in the Deer Lake area just after 3 p.m. He offered no resistance.

JAILED FOR THEFT

PENTICTON — Two Kelowna youths, Alfred Seiwert, 21, and Edward Hennig, 19, were each sentenced Tuesday to two months in jail when they pleaded guilty to stealing a loudspeaker from a drive-in theatre here Saturday night.

NEW COMMISSIONER

KINNAIRD — J. C. McLeod was elected to the village commission by 133 votes to 27 for E. C. Ackerman in a by-election made necessary by the resignation of Joseph Logelin, now village clerk in Castlegar.

CHUB Seeks Boost To 10,000 Watts

'GUILTY OF GOBBLE-DE-GOOK'

Low Dares John D. Answer Gas Charge

CALGARY (CP) — Social Credit Leader Solon Low has challenged Prime Minister Diefenbaker to answer the charge the Progressive Conservative policy delayed export of natural gas from Canada.

"If he really means business," he told a political rally attended by about 400 persons Tuesday night, "I expect Mr. Diefenbaker to answer that before the federal election next Monday."

In his speech, a bristling attack on the federal government, Mr. Low:

Challenged Agriculture Minister Harkness to a public debate on the minister's claim that the Social Credit and CCF parties had not forced the government to make amendments to the Farm Stabilization Bill;

Declared the Progressive Conservatives had gone underground and were hiding behind "the Diefenbaker club";

"FALLEN FLAT"

Said the attempt to arouse mass hysteria under the war cry of Sir John A. Macdonald that Canada should have "no truck or trade with the Yankees" had "fallen flat."

Mr. Low charged that Mr. Diefenbaker's statements on gas export were most misleading.

"He was guilty of gobble-de-gook. He knows he played right into the hands of the gas and utility companies in the U.S. that were fighting strongly against the import of Canadian gas."

Mother, 6 Children Escape Duncan Fire

DUNCAN (CP)—A mother and six children escaped injury Tuesday when fire destroyed their three-room home near here.

Mrs. Albert Erickson and three of her children stayed with neighbors after the fire while the other children slept in a shack converted into a bedroom.

Fire Chief Pat Clackson said he believed the fire started from a cigaret.

Peter Thornton, Red Cross disaster chairman for this area, said Vancouver headquarters will forward bedding and other supplies for the family, and Cowichan Valley Red Cross Society planned to spend $200 on clothing for the family today.

GENEVA (Reuters) — Britain and the United States joined forces today to oppose a Communist-bloc proposal to ban naval and air training ranges on the high seas.

Island's Lone Fish Hatchery To Close Down

Provincial Gov't Economy Measure

COURTENAY (CP) — Economy measures of the provincial government will close Vancouver Island's only fish hatchery, on the Puntledge River here.

Hatchery manager Jack Phelps was ordered Tuesday to close the plant by April 20. In operation for 10 years, the plant has raised 120,000 steelhead and cut-throat trout annually for stocking Vancouver Island streams for sports fishermen.

Shutdown will save an estimated $15,000 annually.

Mr. Phelps will be transferred to Kelowna and his assistant, Darryl Bissel, to Cultus Lake.

Closure of the Puntledge hatchery leaves only three others in B.C., at Cultus Lake, Summerland and Nelson. Any future stocking of Island lakes and streams will have to be done by tanker truck from the mainland.

About 9,000 young steelhead now at the hatchery will be liberated. Another 26,000 fry likely will be shipped to Cultus Lake.

Ratepayers Name Officers At Crofton

CROFTON — New officers of Crofton Ratepayers' Association are H. Winstone, president; Mrs. M. Collinson, secretary-treasurer; and J. H. Worsley, G. Spence, and J. Tolman, directors.

Named to the water board were R. Vye, M. Vauthrin, and J. Hanson.

Mr. Worsley reported on behalf of Crofton Centennial Committee that the centennial baseball park will be opened July 15.

that thrust it to orbital speed. Estimates are that Vanguard may last 10 to 30 years.

Also still in business is the second Soviet satellite, launched Nov. 3. Sputnik II, weighing 1,018 pounds and having an estimated length of 15 feet, has a dead dog aboard. The Red moon has been slowing and descending gradually and may drop out of the skies by April 15.

The first of the artificial moons—Russia's Sputnik I, a 23-inch sphere weighing 184 pounds—was launched Oct. 4.

The final-stage rocket for Sputnik I disappeared late in November, and the satellite itself dropped out of sight the first week in January.

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—The Indonesian navy today announced it has mined a 60-mile stretch of Sumatra's west coast centred on the rebel headquarters port of Padang.

The Jakarta government declared the area from Pariaman to Paninan a danger zone closed to all shipping.

Eisenhower also said the U.S. will invite "as we have on occasions in the past" a representative group of U.S. and foreign news correspondents.

"The United States scientists have been making progress in reducing radioactive fallout from nuclear explosions in the hope and belief that basic advances in both the peaceful and military uses of nuclear energy will thus be achieved," Eisenhower said. "The advantages to mankind of continued progress in his field are obvious.

"The United States has always publicly announced in advance its nuclear testing programs. We trust that the forthcoming test will provide valuable information to the world."

New $300,000 Ferry Wharf Promised Sidney

SIDNEY—Tenders will be called this summer for a $300,000 ferry wharf to speed up ferry service between here and Anacortes, Defence Minister G. R. Pearkes announced here Tuesday night.

The wharf will be completed in about 12 months, he said. It will be at the foot of Second Avenue, close to the present wharf on Beacon Avenue, and will not be reserved solely for Washington State Ferries, operators of the present service.

FOR OTHERS TOO

"If some other company wants to operate out of here they will be able to use the facilities of the new wharf," he said.

"Work will be pushed forward as soon as possible," he said, "and by this time next year the existing government wharf will be freed for the development of a first-class small boat harbor."

Coast League Soccer Assured For Nanaimo

NANAIMO (CP) — Official opening of the local Pacific Coast Soccer League season April 19 was assured Monday as parks board officials and Nanaimo City Football Club representatives Gogi Stewart and Jack Steej met at City Hall.

Seating for about 1,400 persons is expected to be ready for the opening, while a gondola for press and radio is to be constructed between the bleachers.

During their business session, parks officials accepted with regret the resignation of Noel Thompson from the board. He will be replaced by a city council appointee.

Rummage Sale Set By Legion Auxiliary

CHEMAINUS — Canadian Legion Auxiliary will hold a rummage sale April 19 in conjunction with a coffee bar and food stall.

Mrs. Pat Crabbe will be official delegate to the Trail convention in May. Provincial president Mrs. S. McDonald will be guest at the meeting April 1.

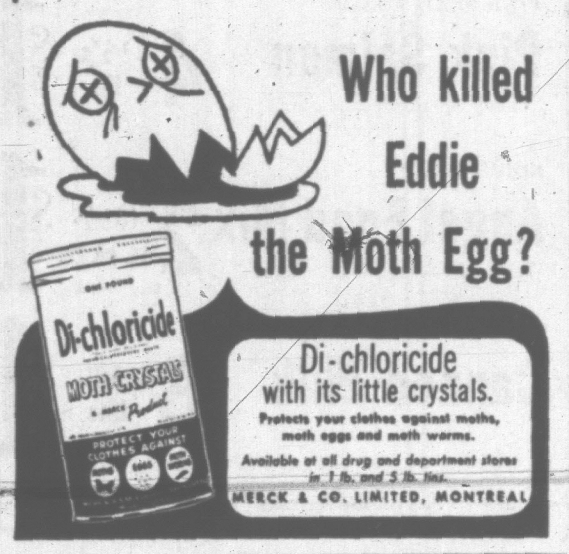

Worker Died Accidentally Jury Rules

NANAIMO (CP) — An inquest jury here Monday returned an "accidental death" verdict in the March 22 death of Harry MacDonald, 54.

He was killed when a tractor which he was driving plunged into a giant hopper at Harmac pulp mill—crushing him beneath it.

There were no witnesses to the accident.

Mill manager Larry Harris said this was the first fatal accident since the mill began operation.
